Another year at Lincoln Park High School has drawn to a close, and with it has evolved one of the largest and most comprehensive yearbooks in the history of the school.

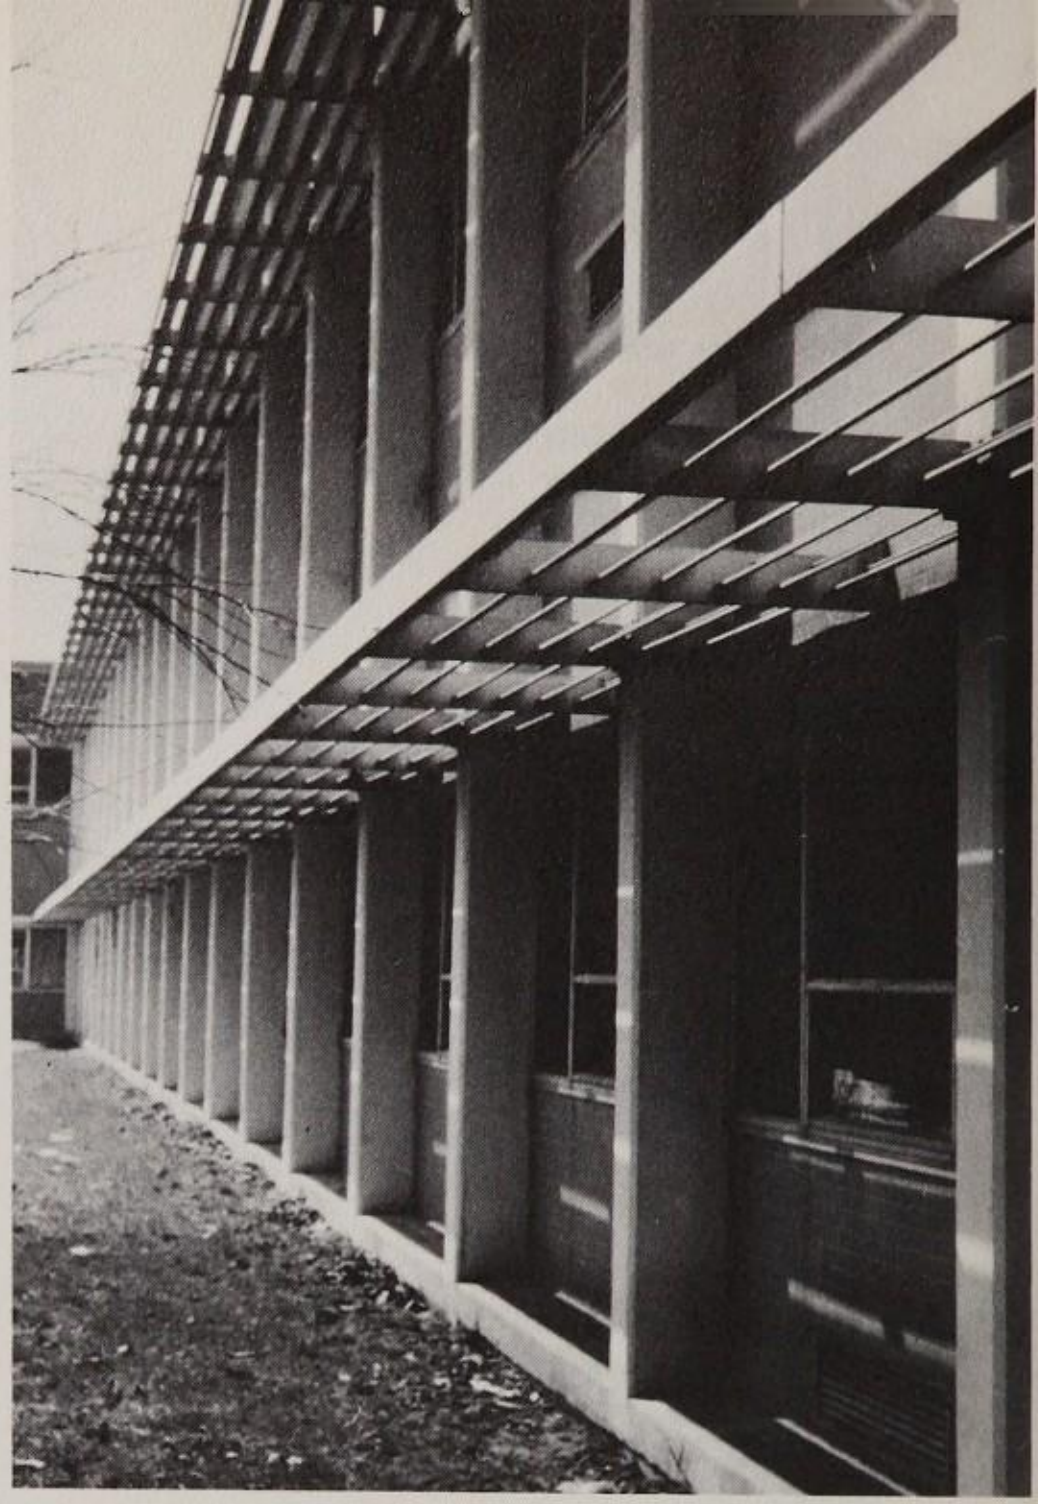
Probably one of the most unique features of the book is the manner in which it created. Six hundred of eager and often times dedicated students participated in the many facets that were necessary to compile a book of this scope.

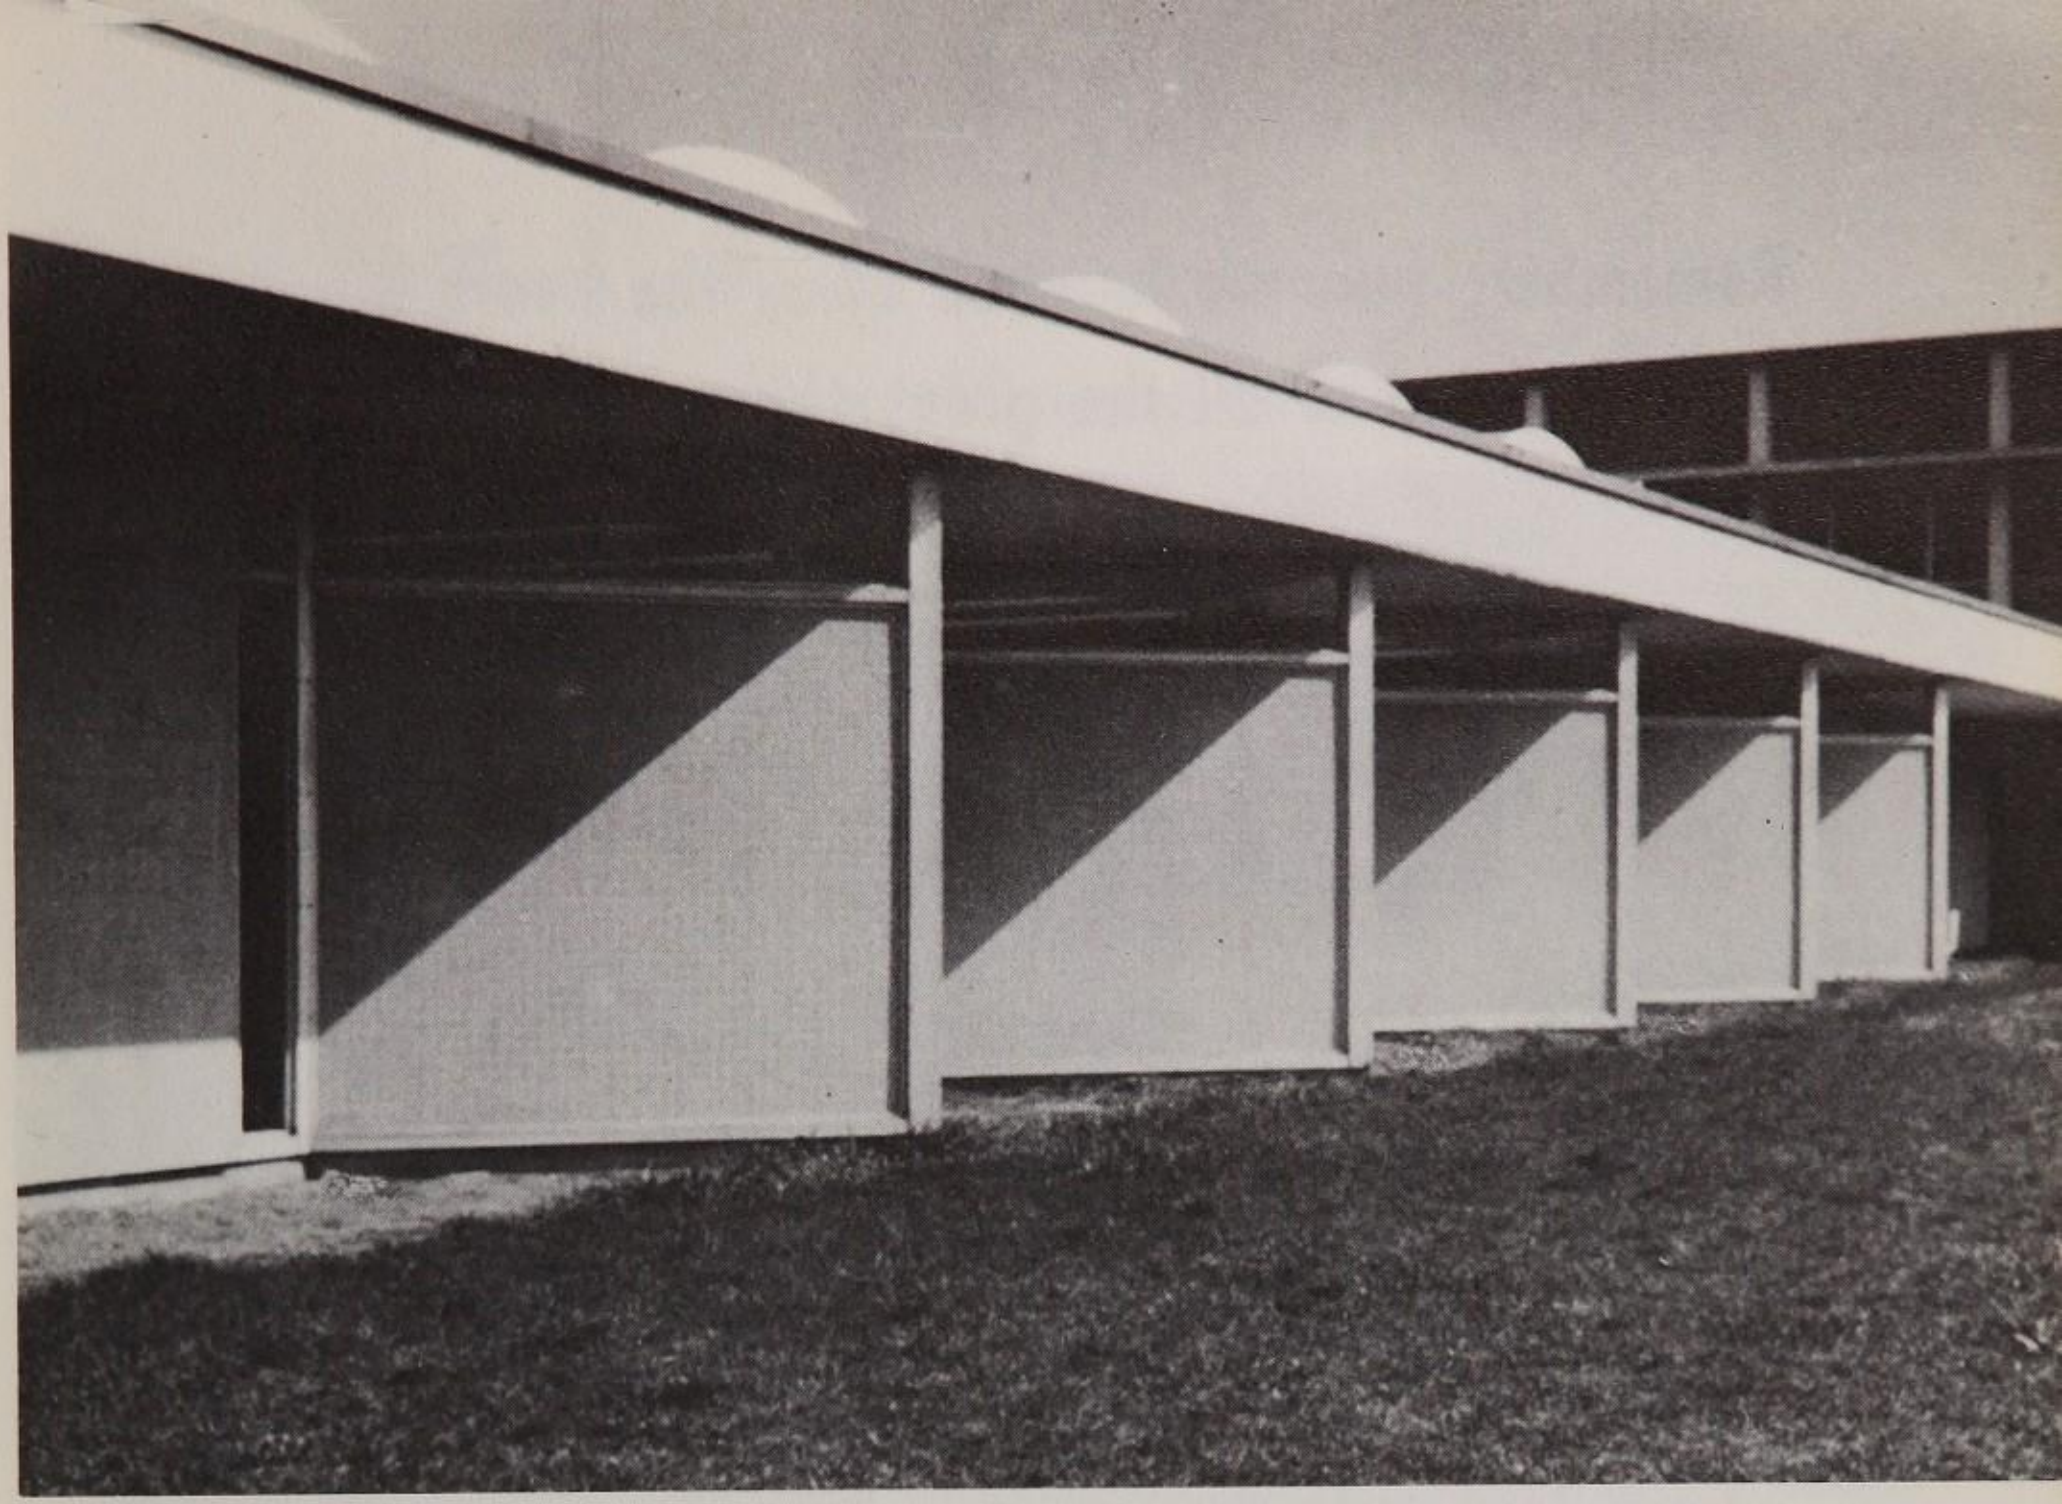
There were the typists who were willing to devote hours of their time, the writers who sought out the names of people pictured in the hundreds of snapshots, the advertising salesmen who spent many hours after school searching out and convincing prospects to purchase space in their book while many others withstood the almost noxious fumes of the glue pots as proof readers pored over the finished layouts making the necessary corrections.

Perhaps the Yearbook Classes were one of the most fruitful learning experiences in the school since the students involved had to review their math in order to proportion pictures and create layouts, they had to review and master their grammar in order to write body copy and cutlines, they had to take a mini course in sales techniques so that they would be better able to persuade perspective customers into buying ads. Most of all our students and advisers had to learn how to work together and get along as a team because no book this size could have been published with 600 students without peace and harmony.

For the yearbook advisers, Messrs Wick and Militello it was also a fantastic, fruitful, and delightful learning experience. Our heartfelt thanks and gratitude goes to the hundreds of students who worked on the '73 Log. Our contact with so many outstanding students and our unqualified sucess with the tremendous venture has revivified our faith in and understanding of these students. Our contributions have been small but our rewards have been great!

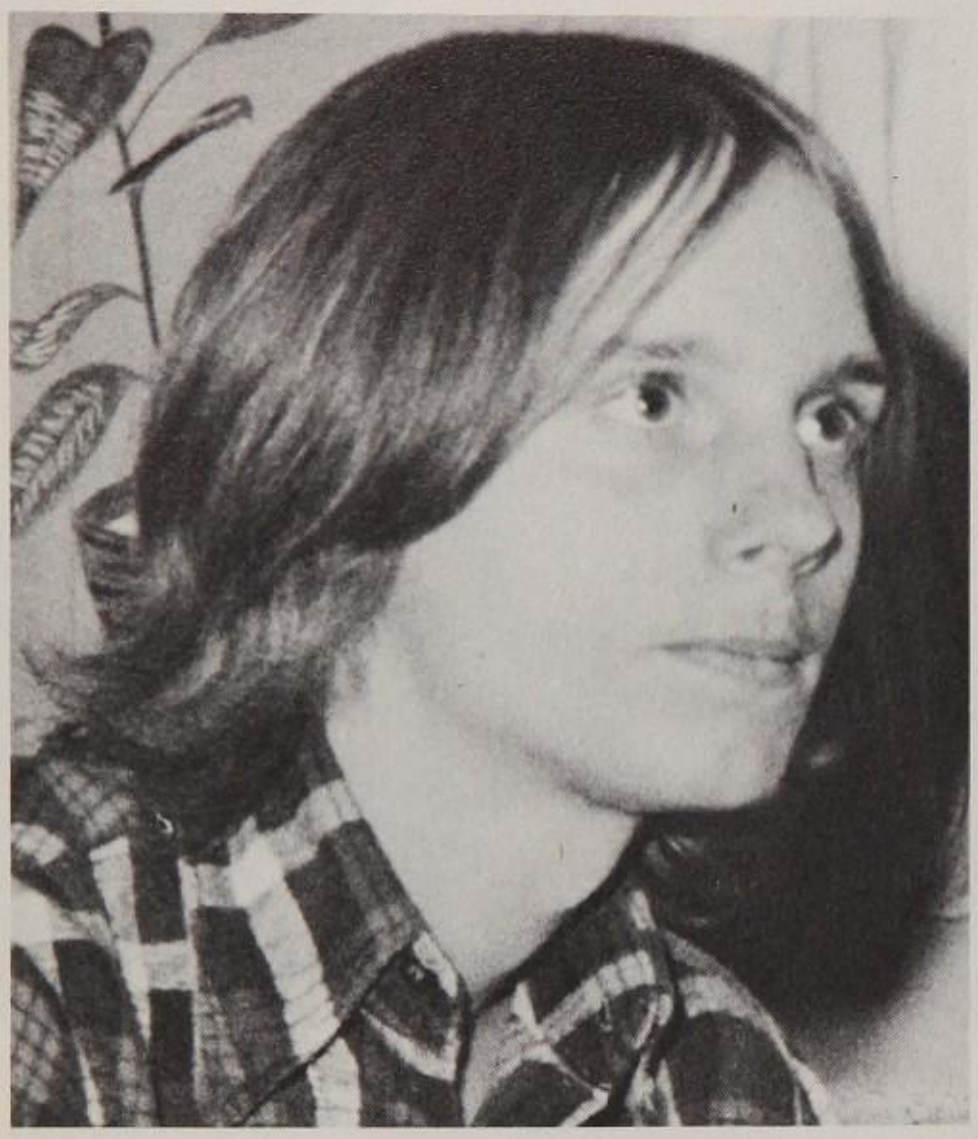
Once upon a time there was a High School

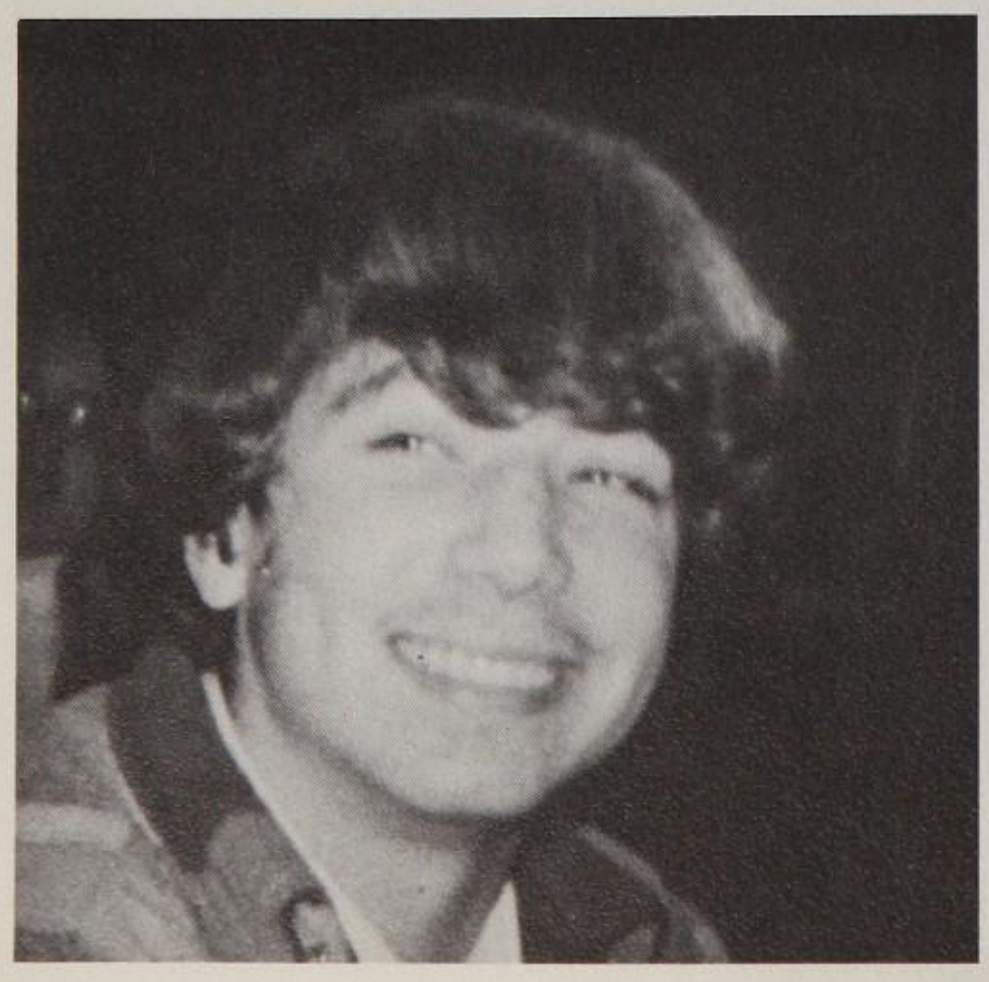




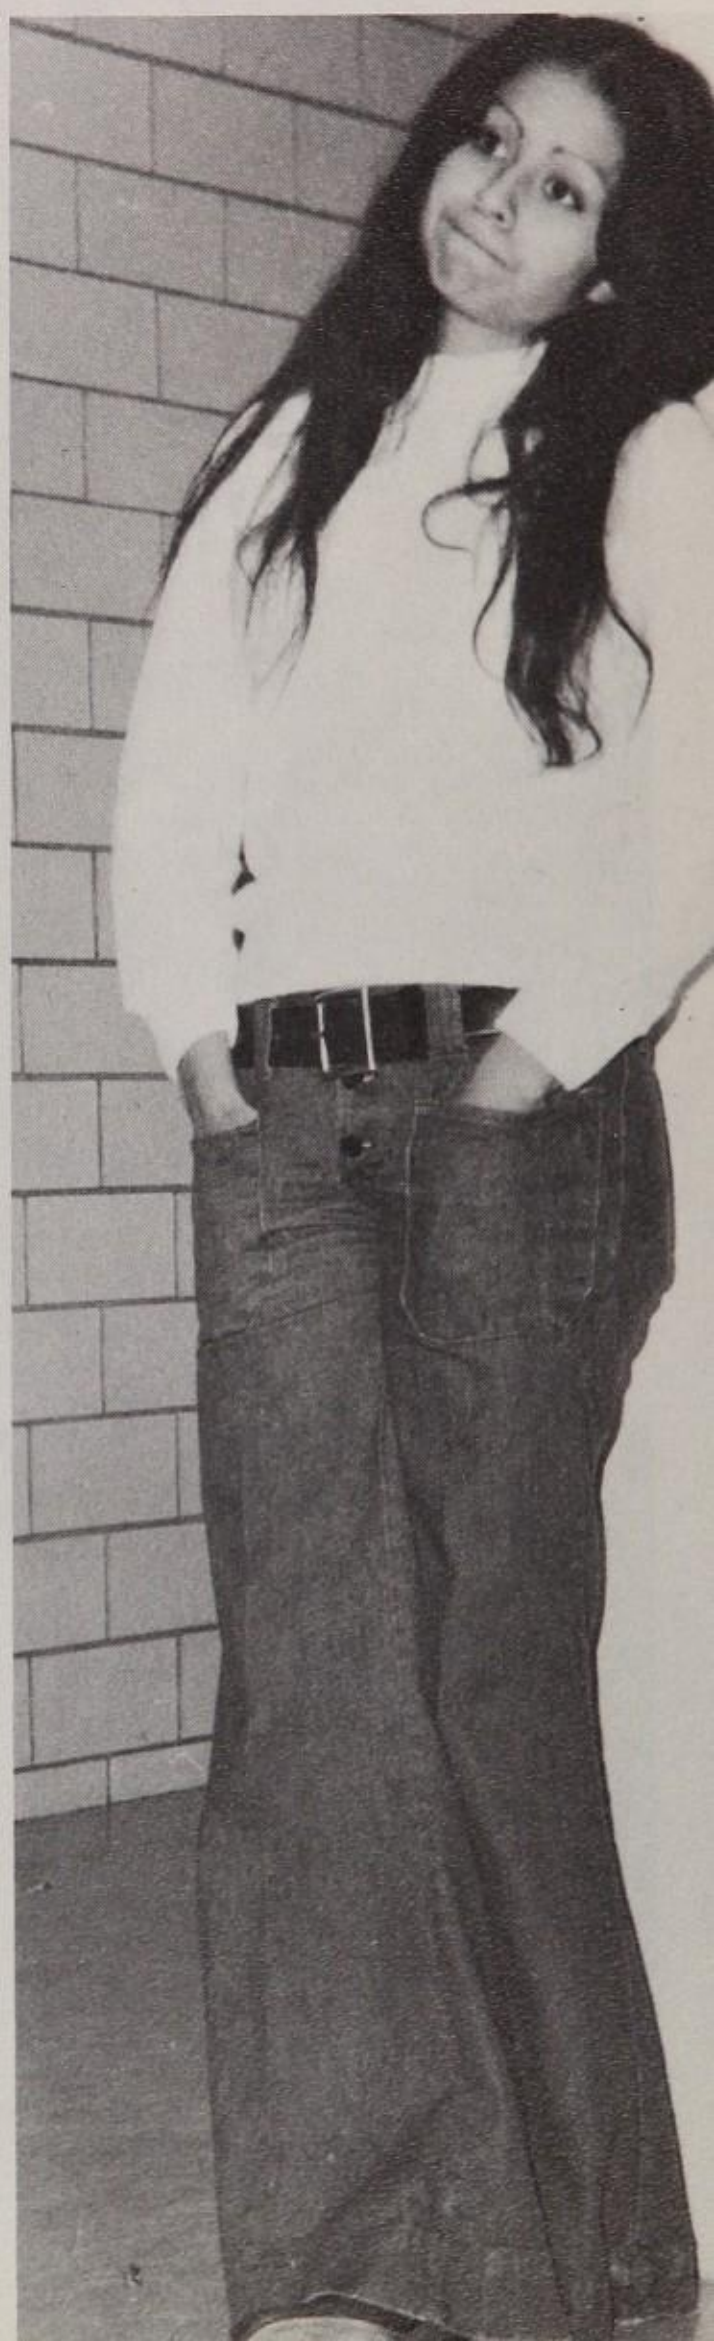
Where we used to crack a book or two.

Remember how we laughed away the hours,
And dreamed of all the great things we would do.



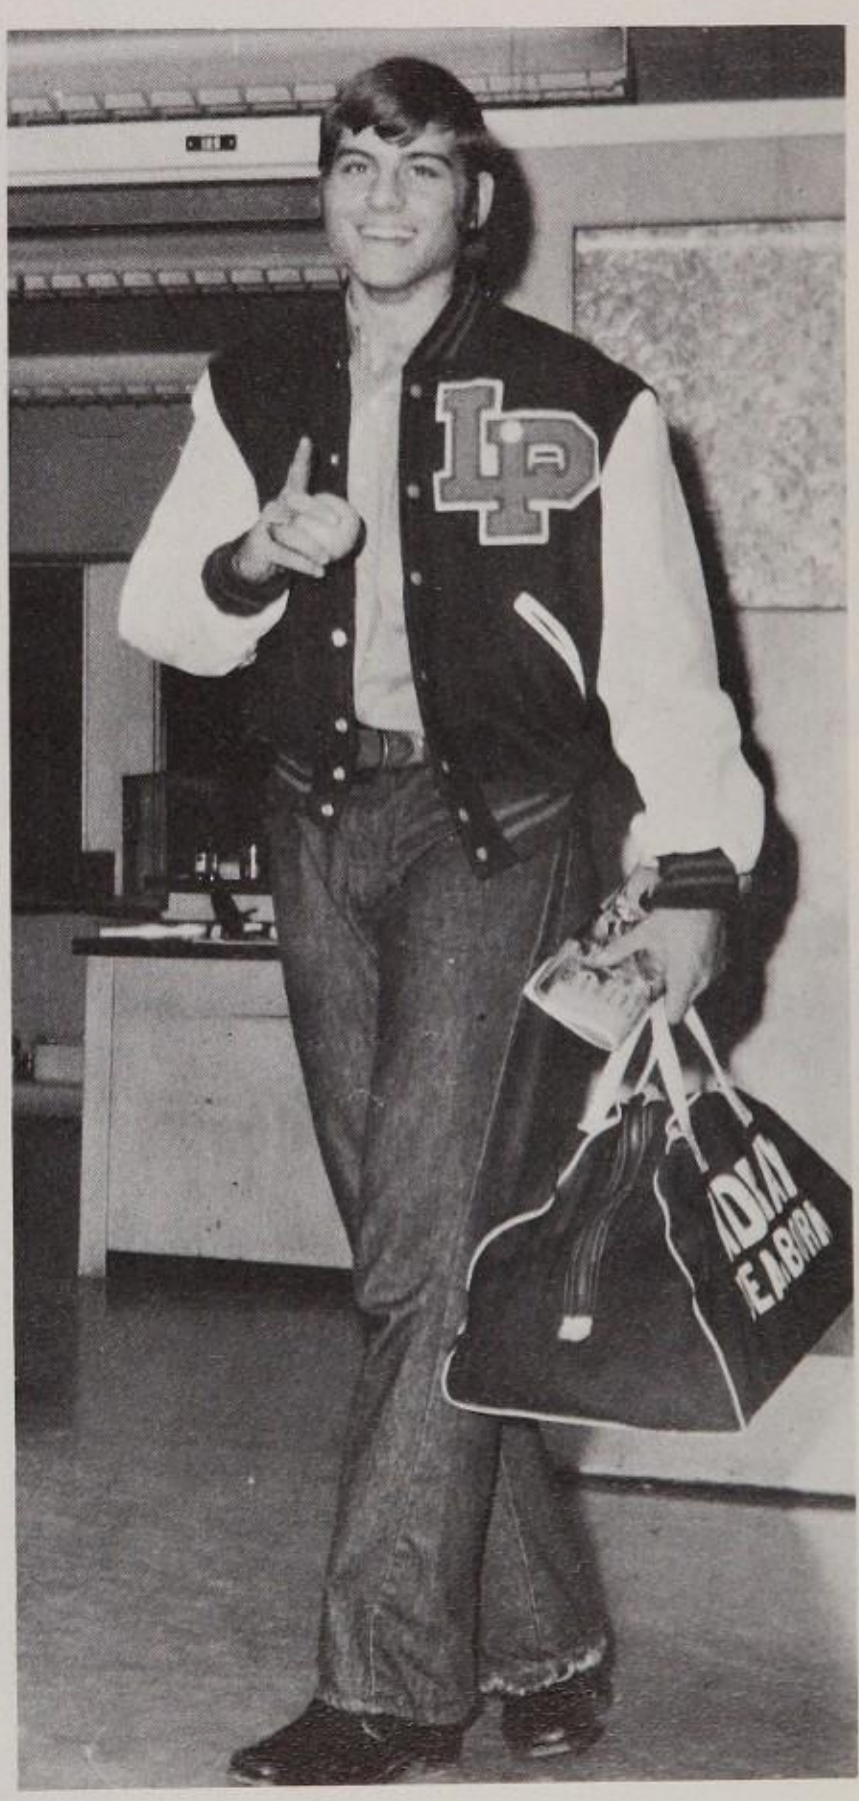


Those were the days my friends
We thought would never end,

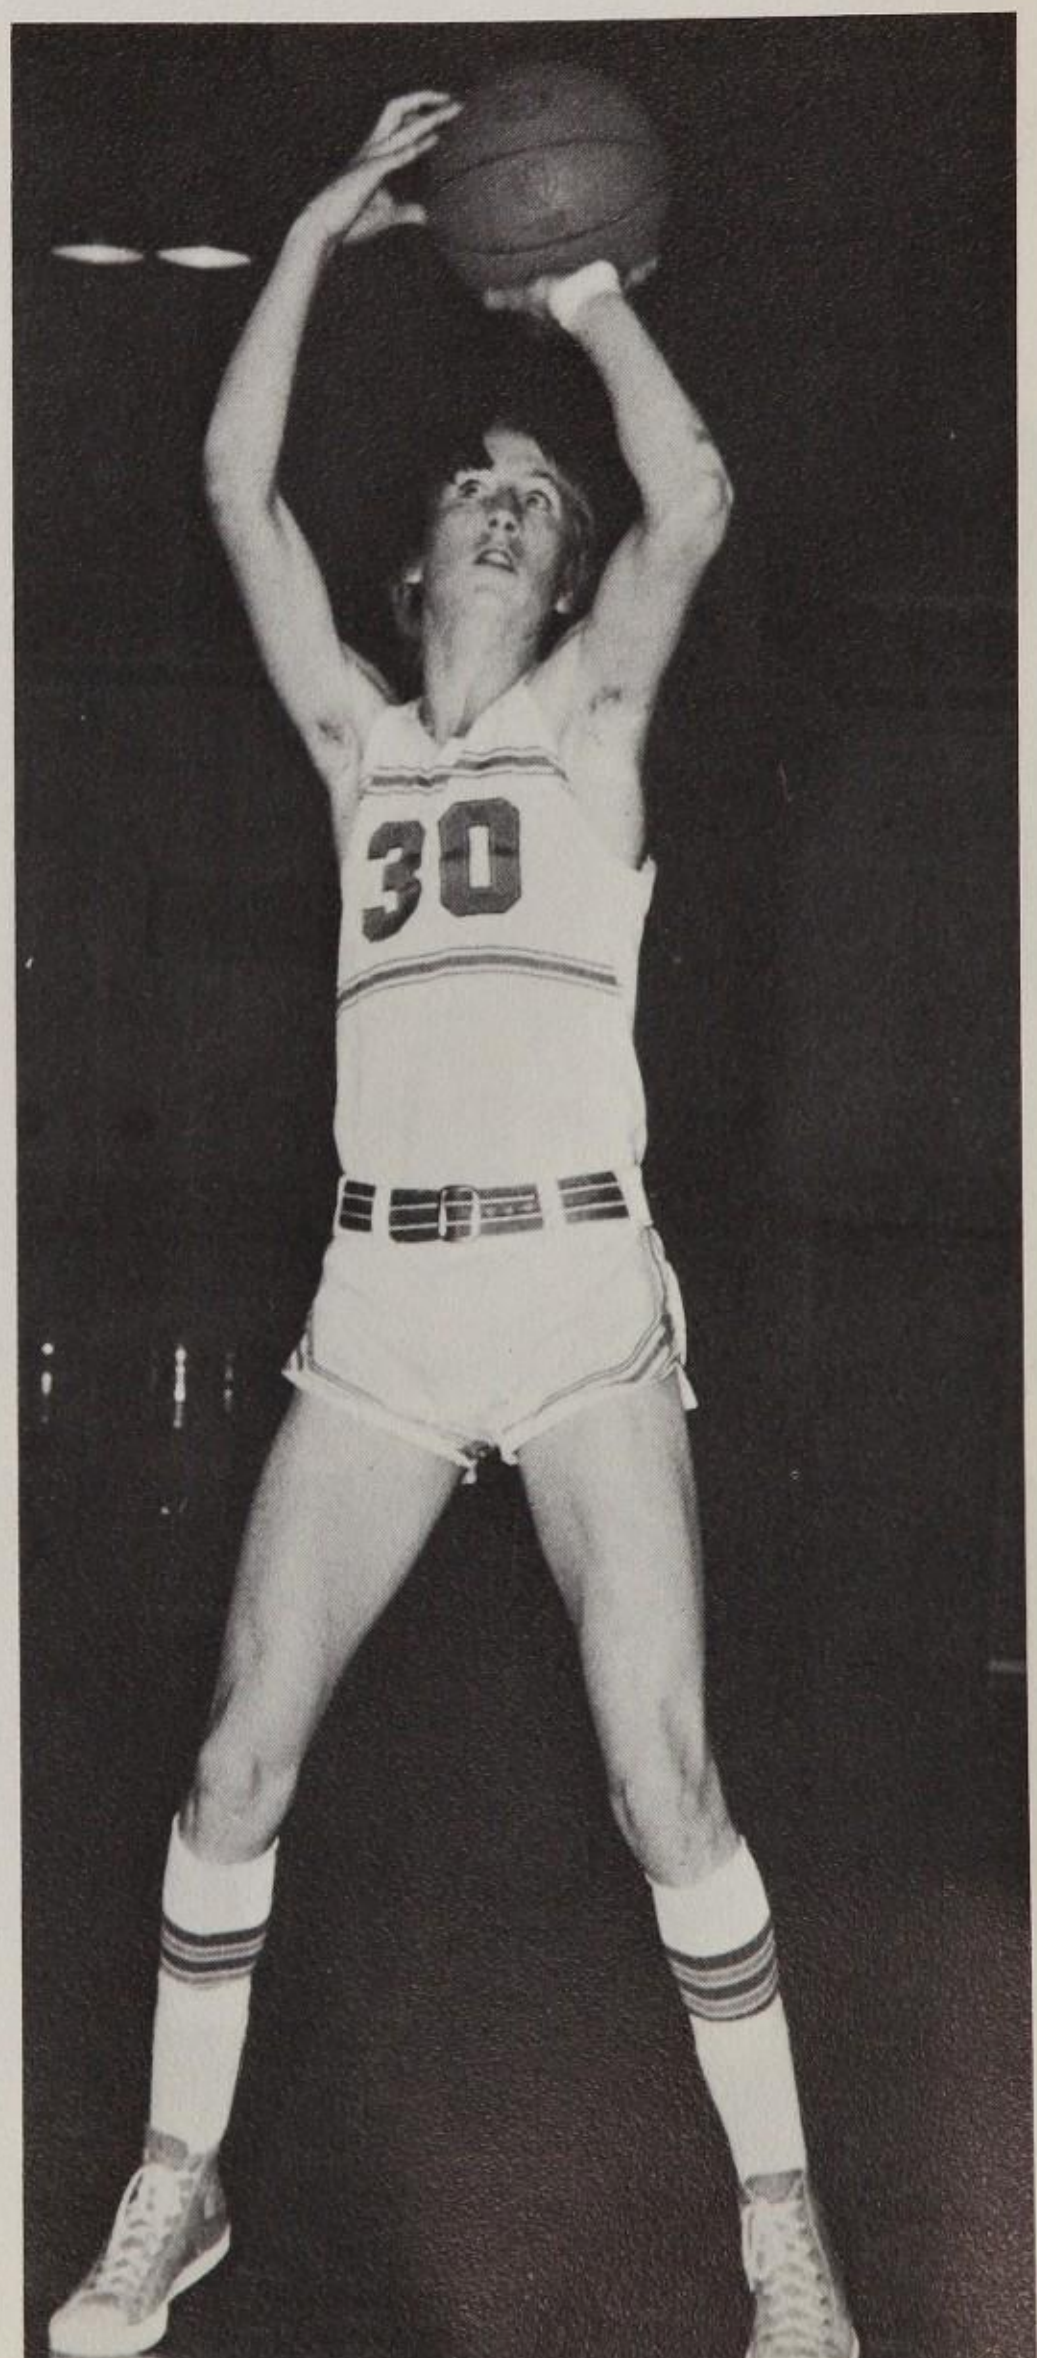


We'd sing dance forever and a day;

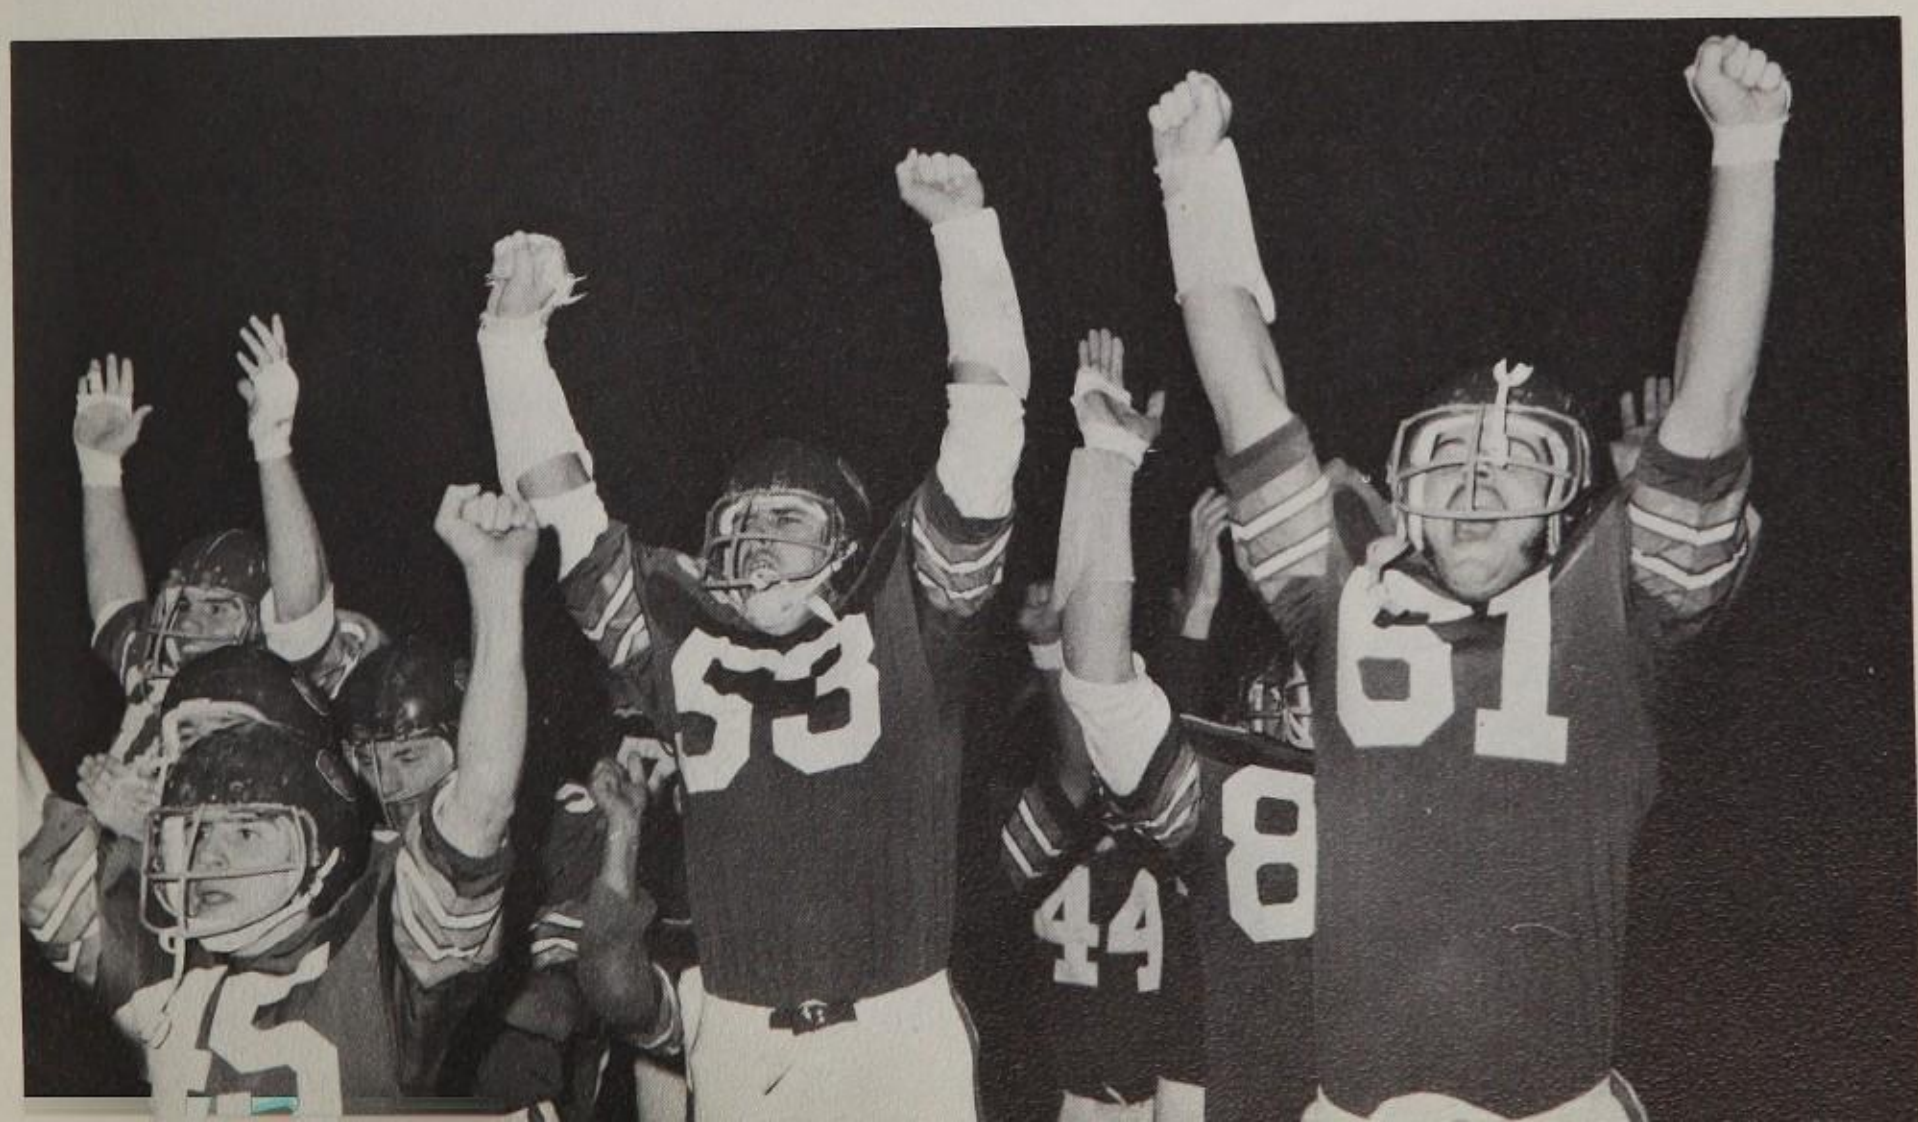
We'd live the life we choose,



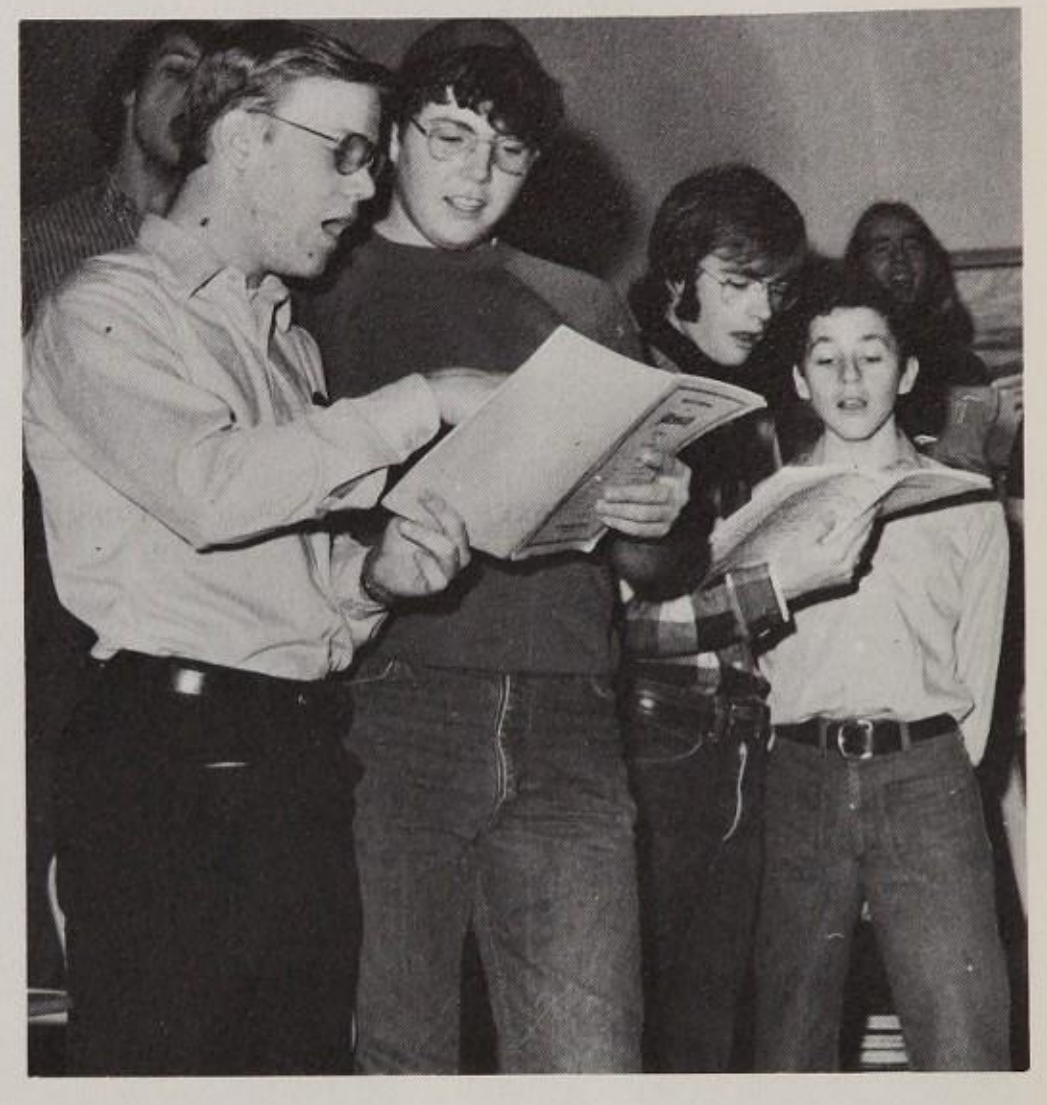
We'd fight and never lose,

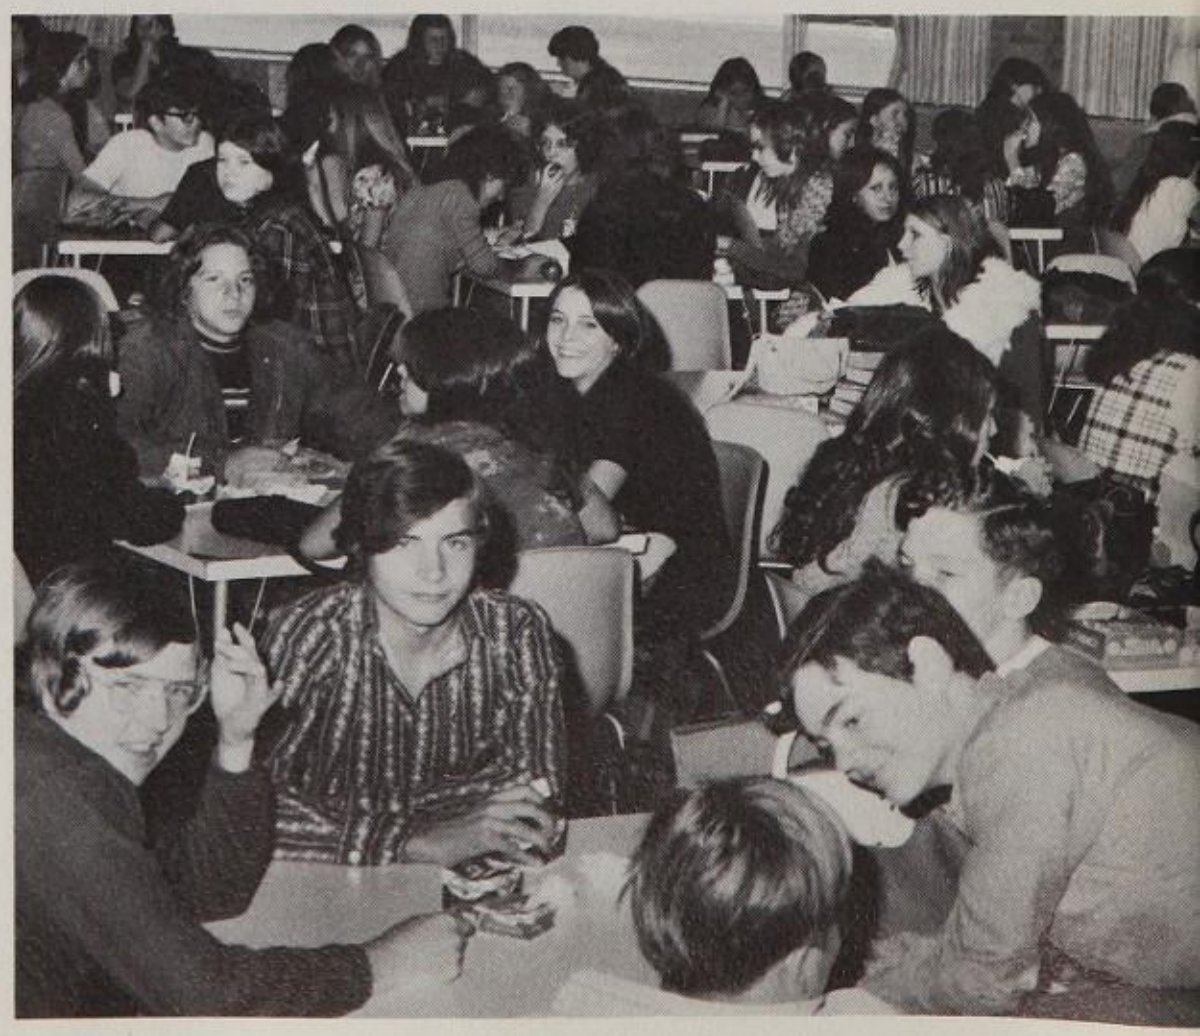


For we were young
and sure to have our way



Those were the days,



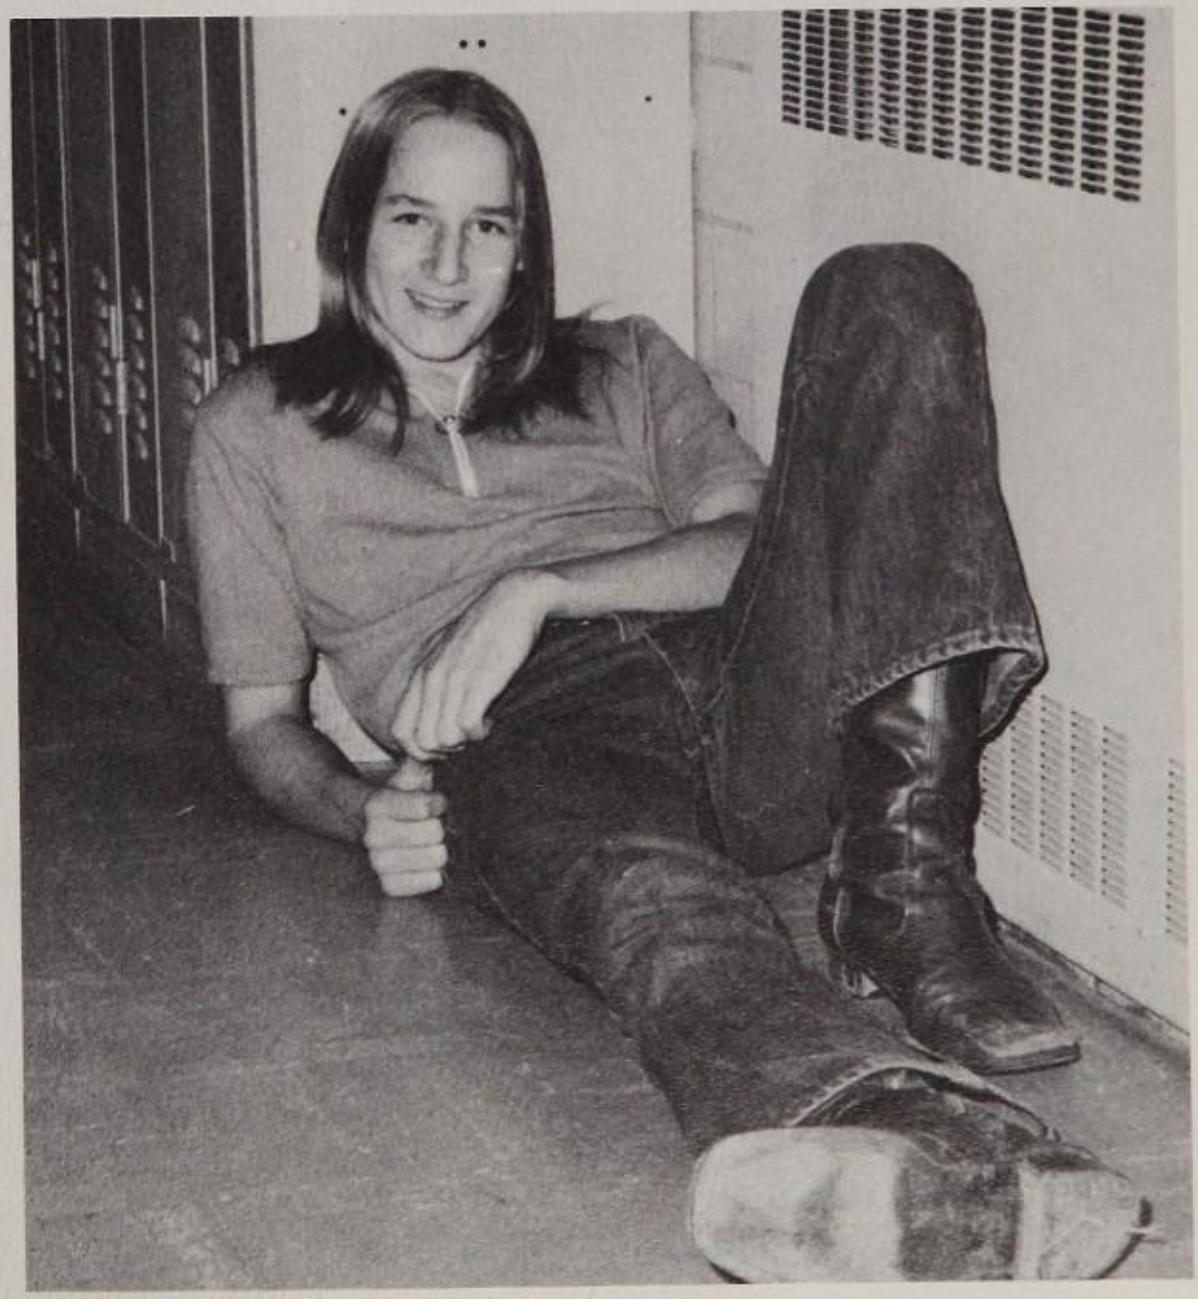


Oh yes, those were the days.

Then the busy years went rushing by us,
We lost our stormy notions on the way,

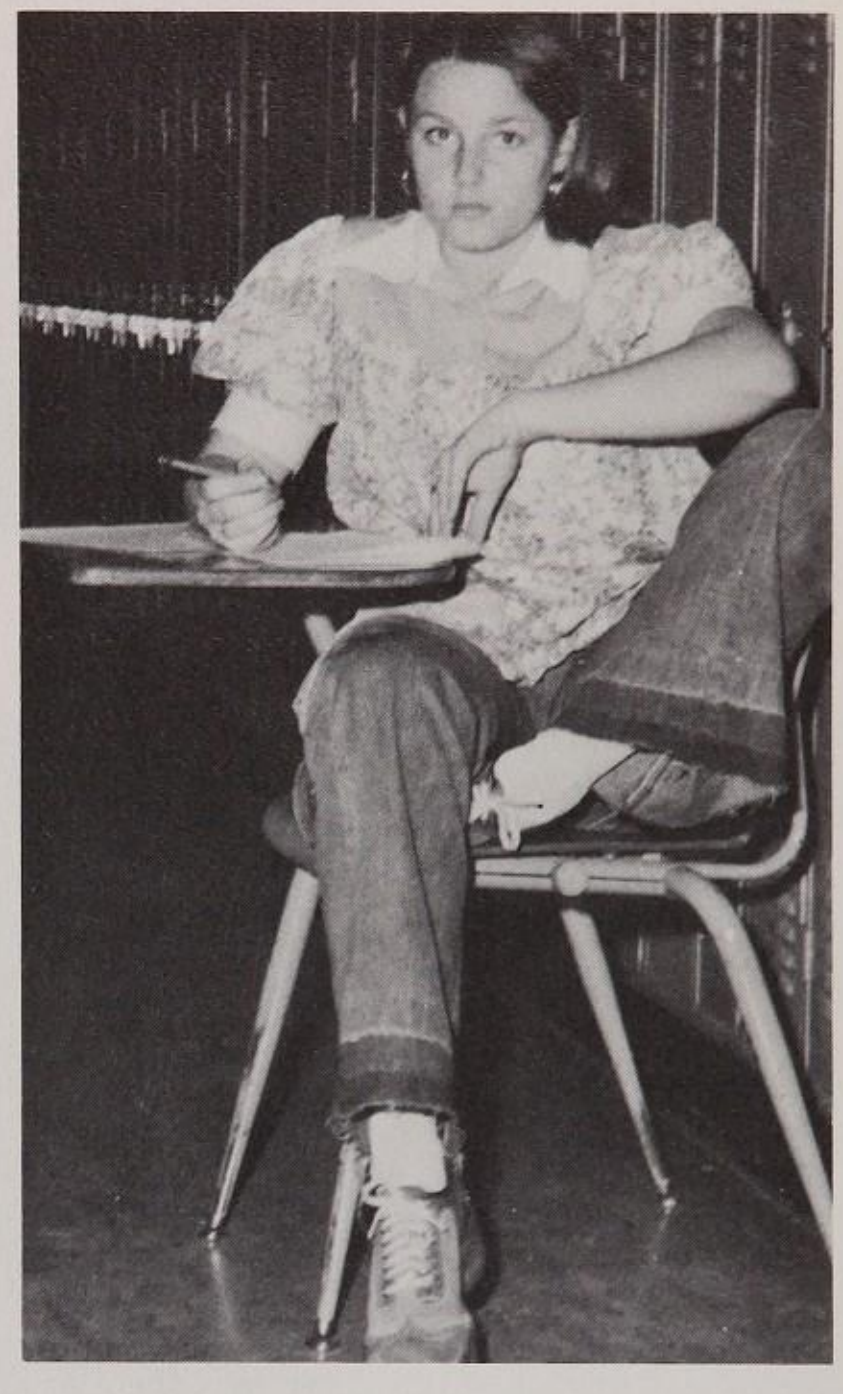
If by chance I'd see you in the city
We'd smile at one another and we'd say...

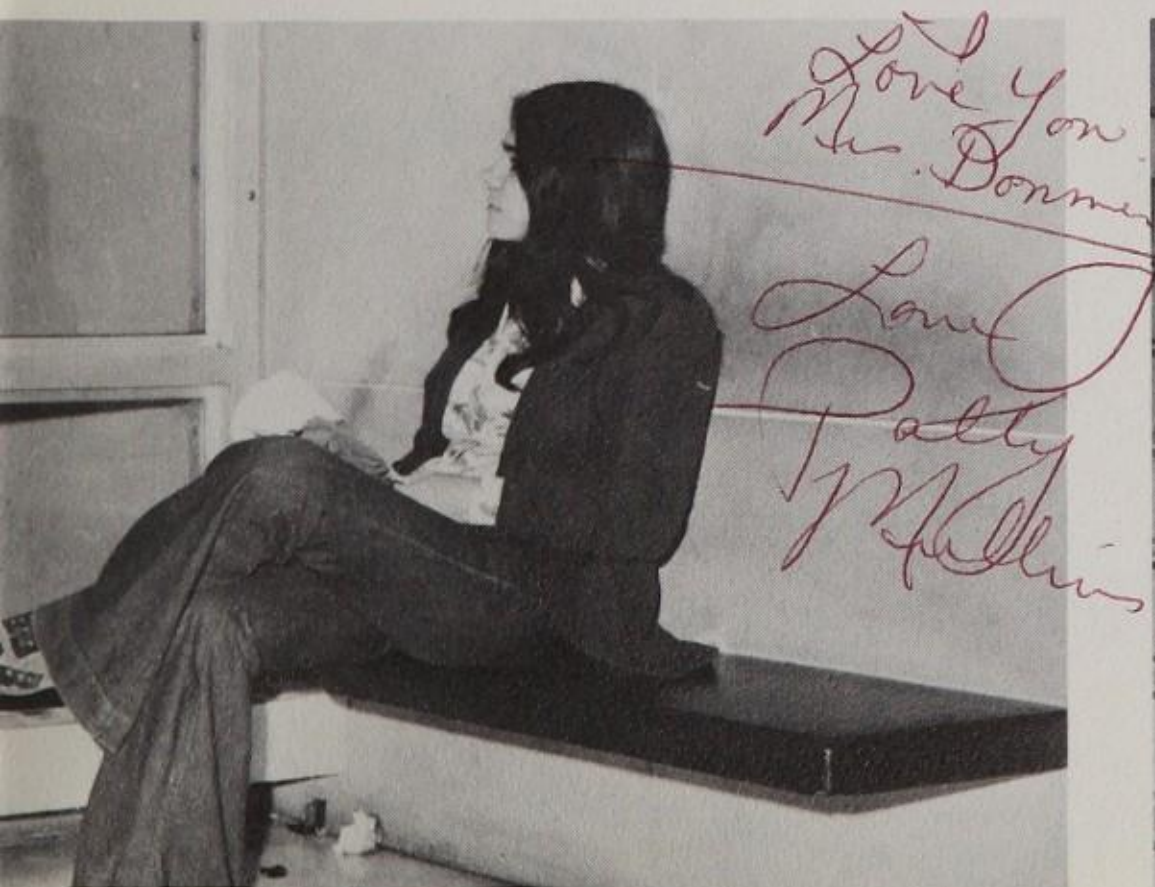
Those were the days, Oh yes, those were days.

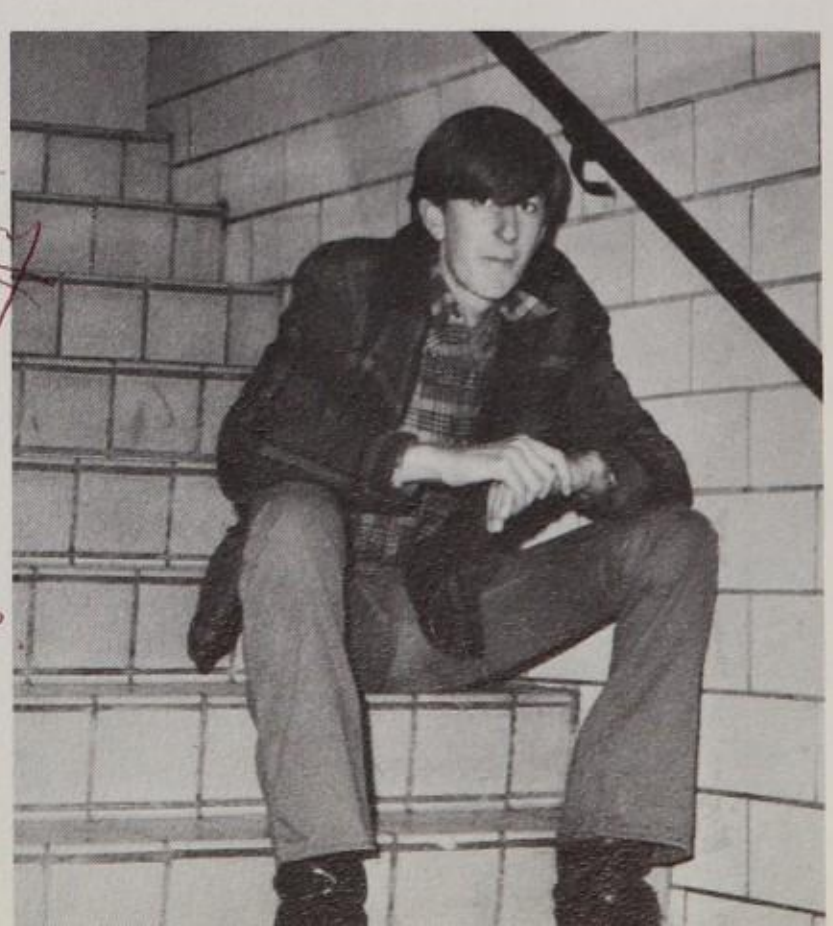


Just tonight I stood before the mirror
Nothing seemed the way it used to be.

In the glass I saw a strange reflection,
Was that lonely fellow really me?

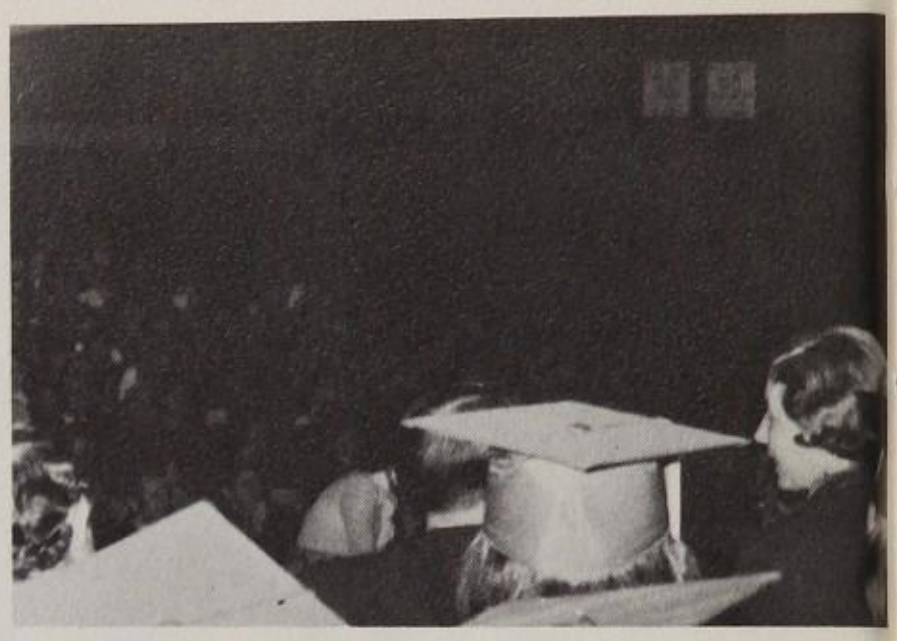


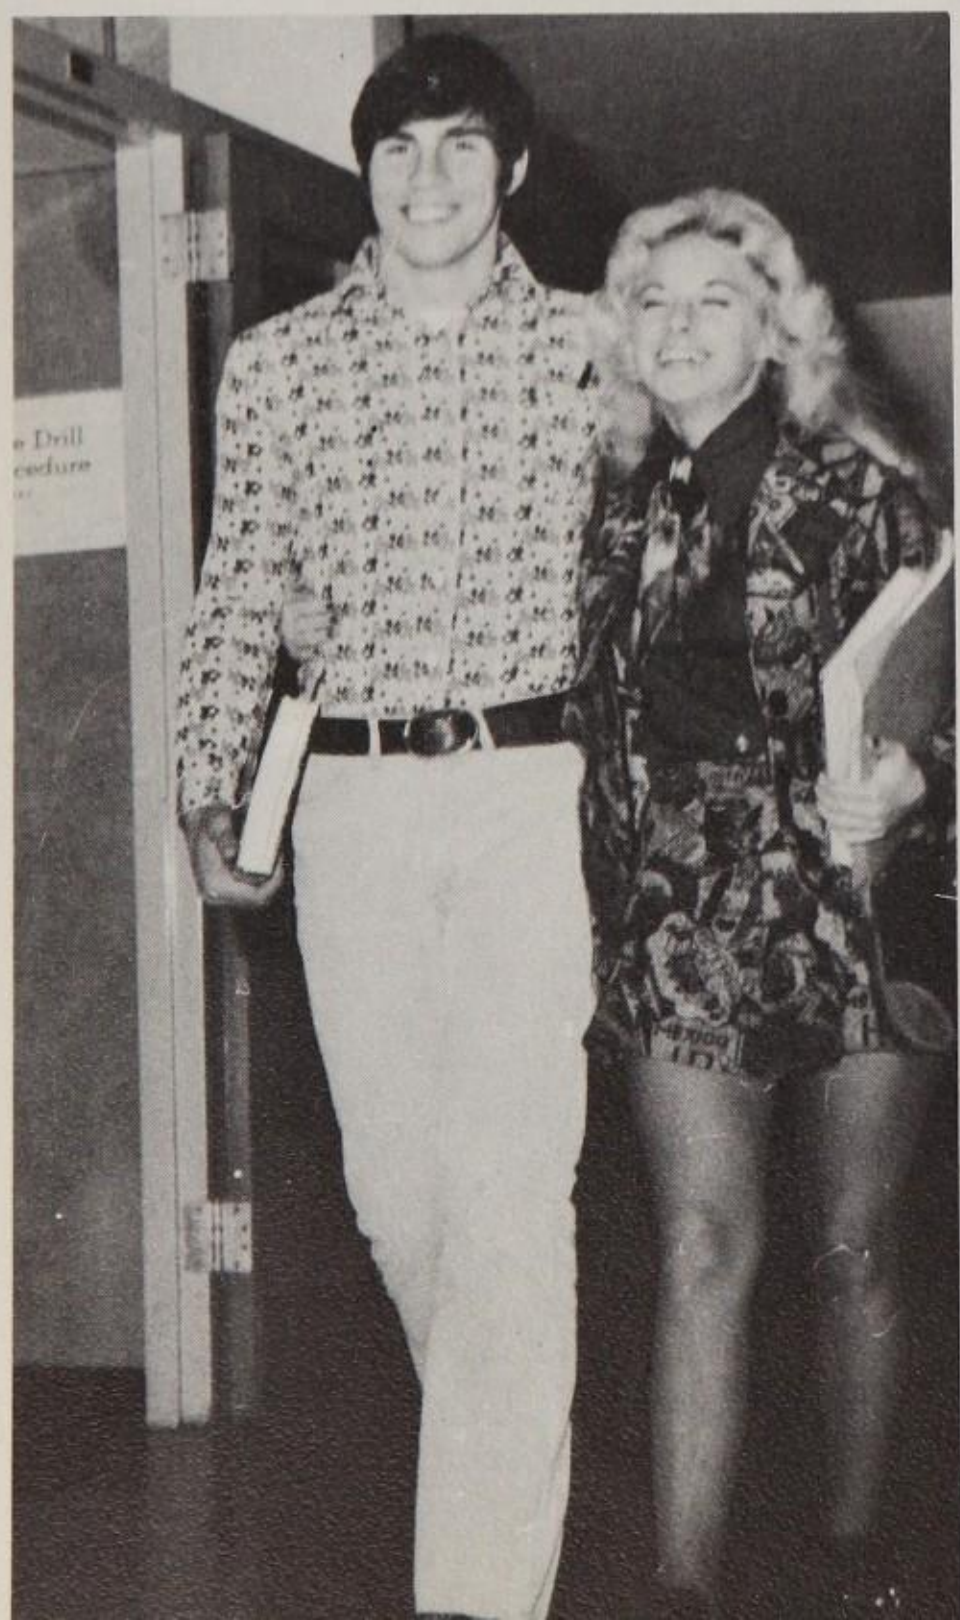




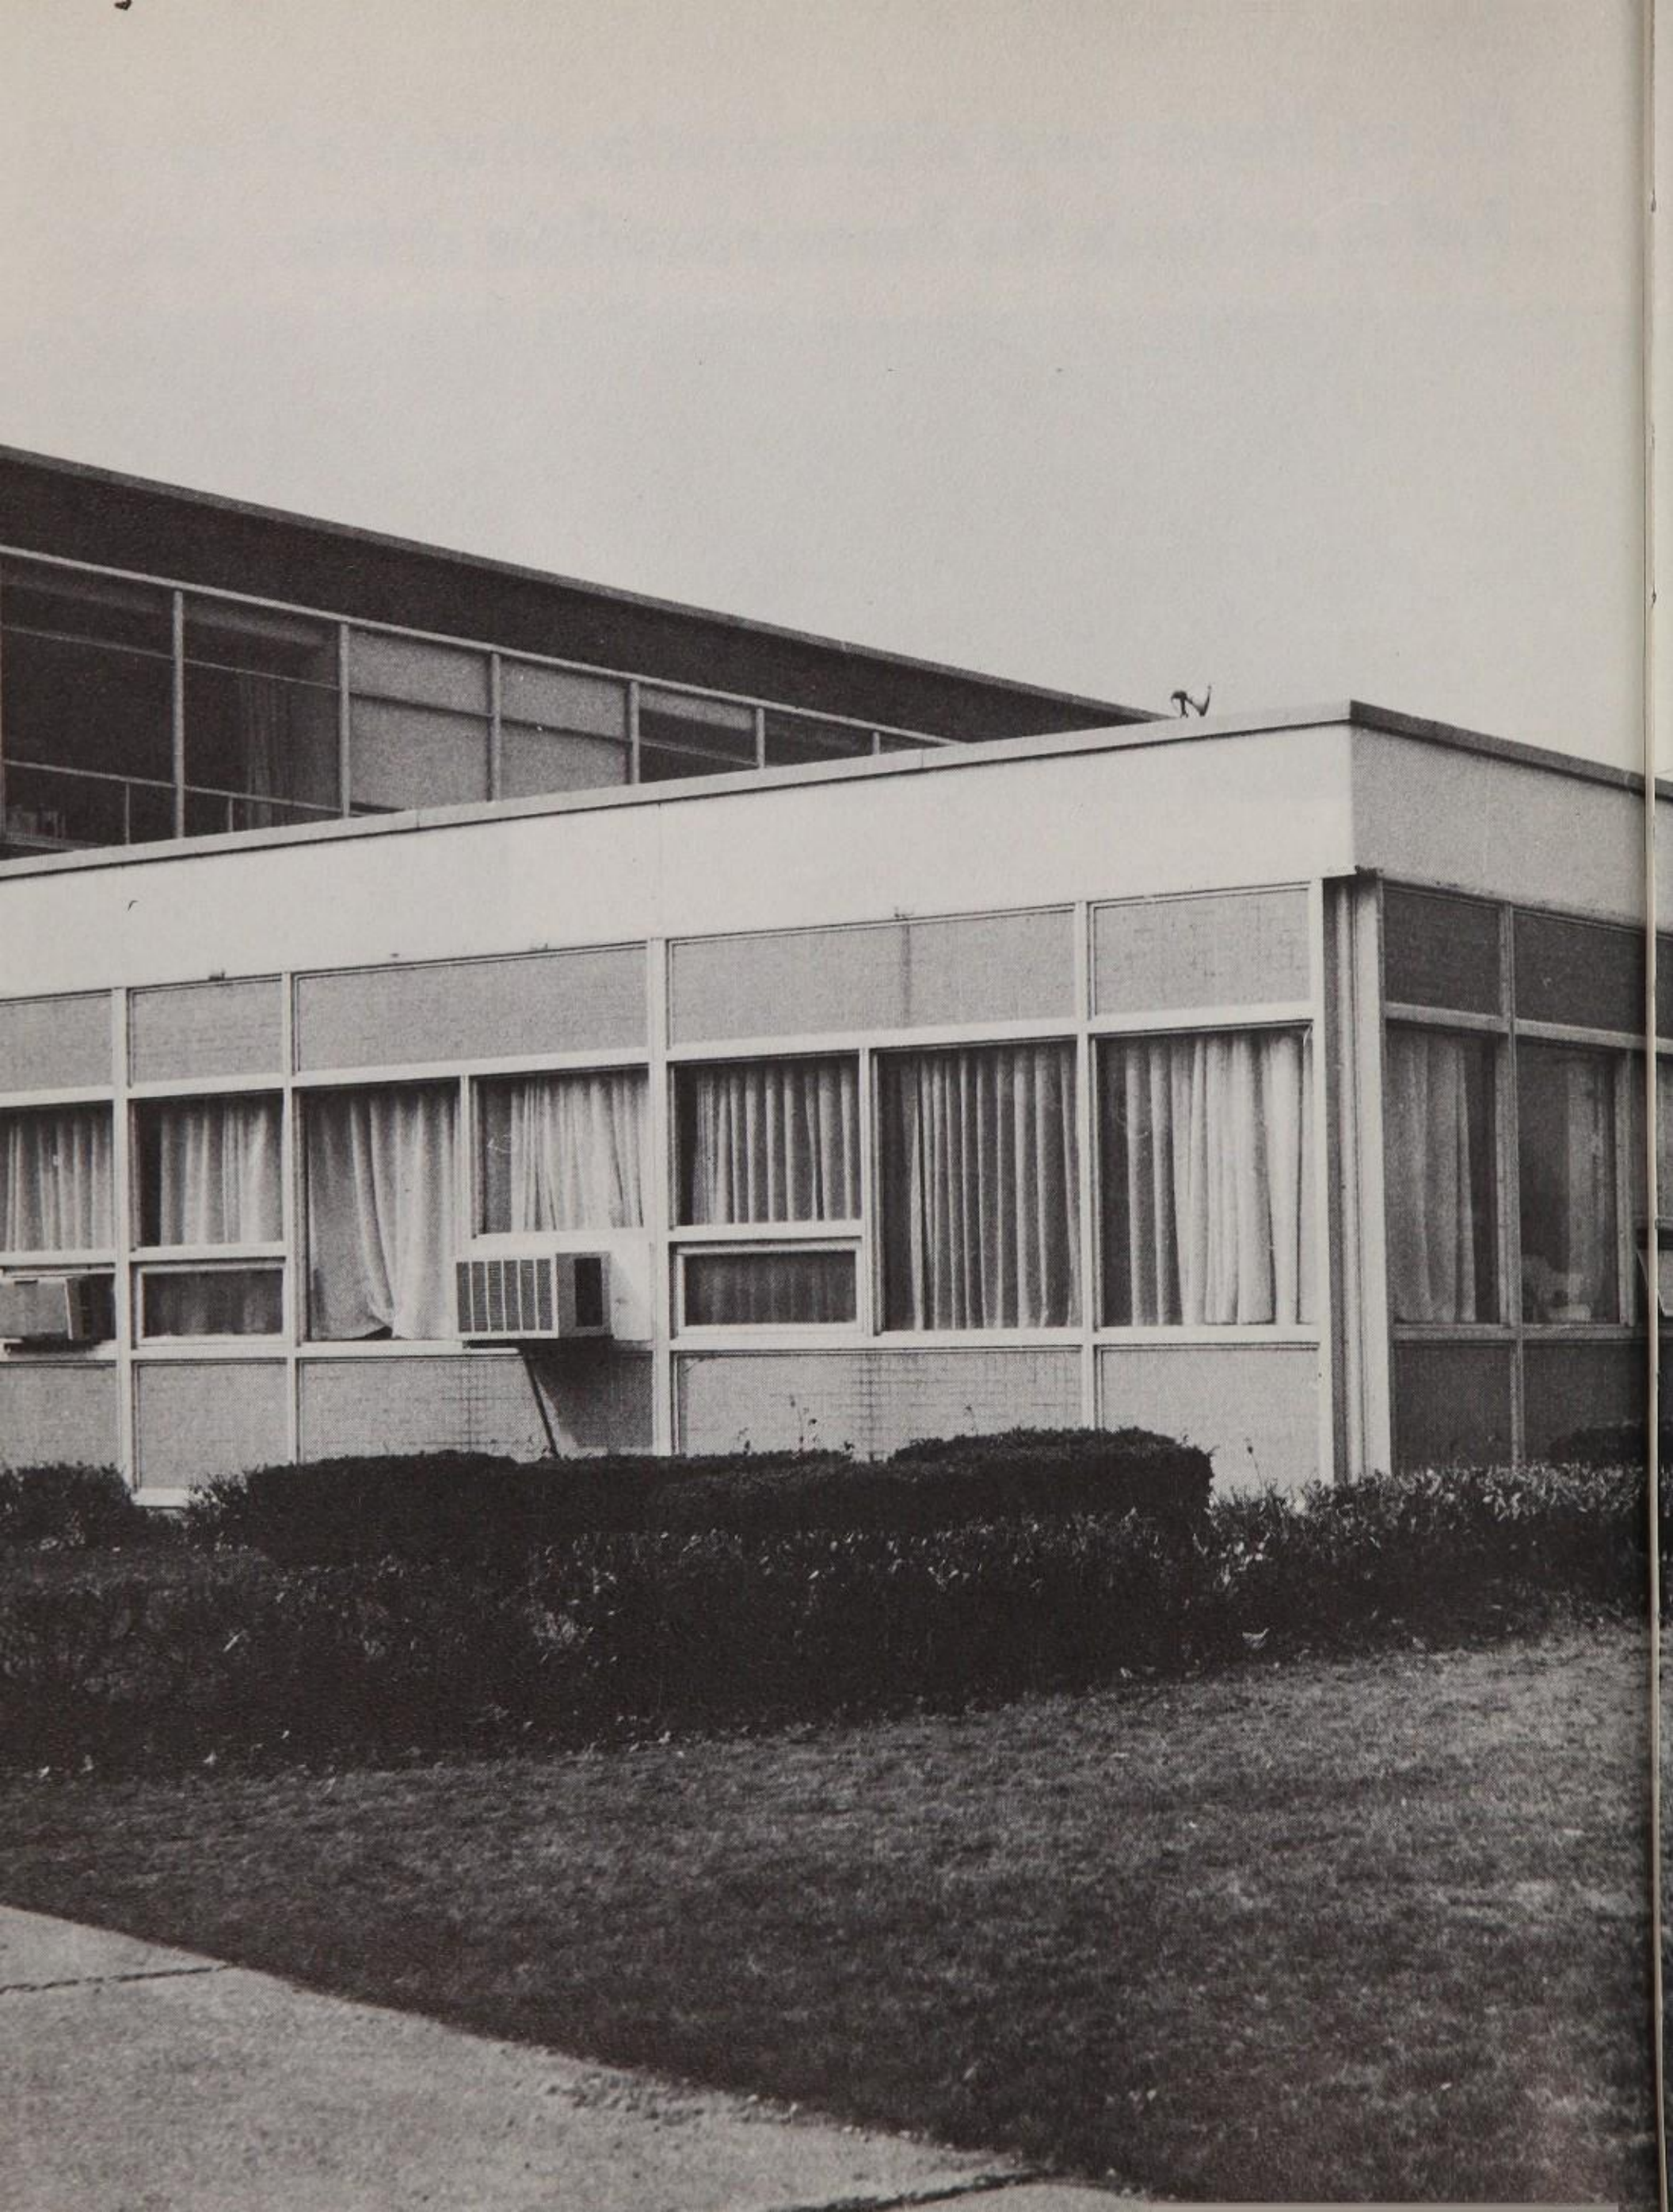
Through the door there came familiar laughter,

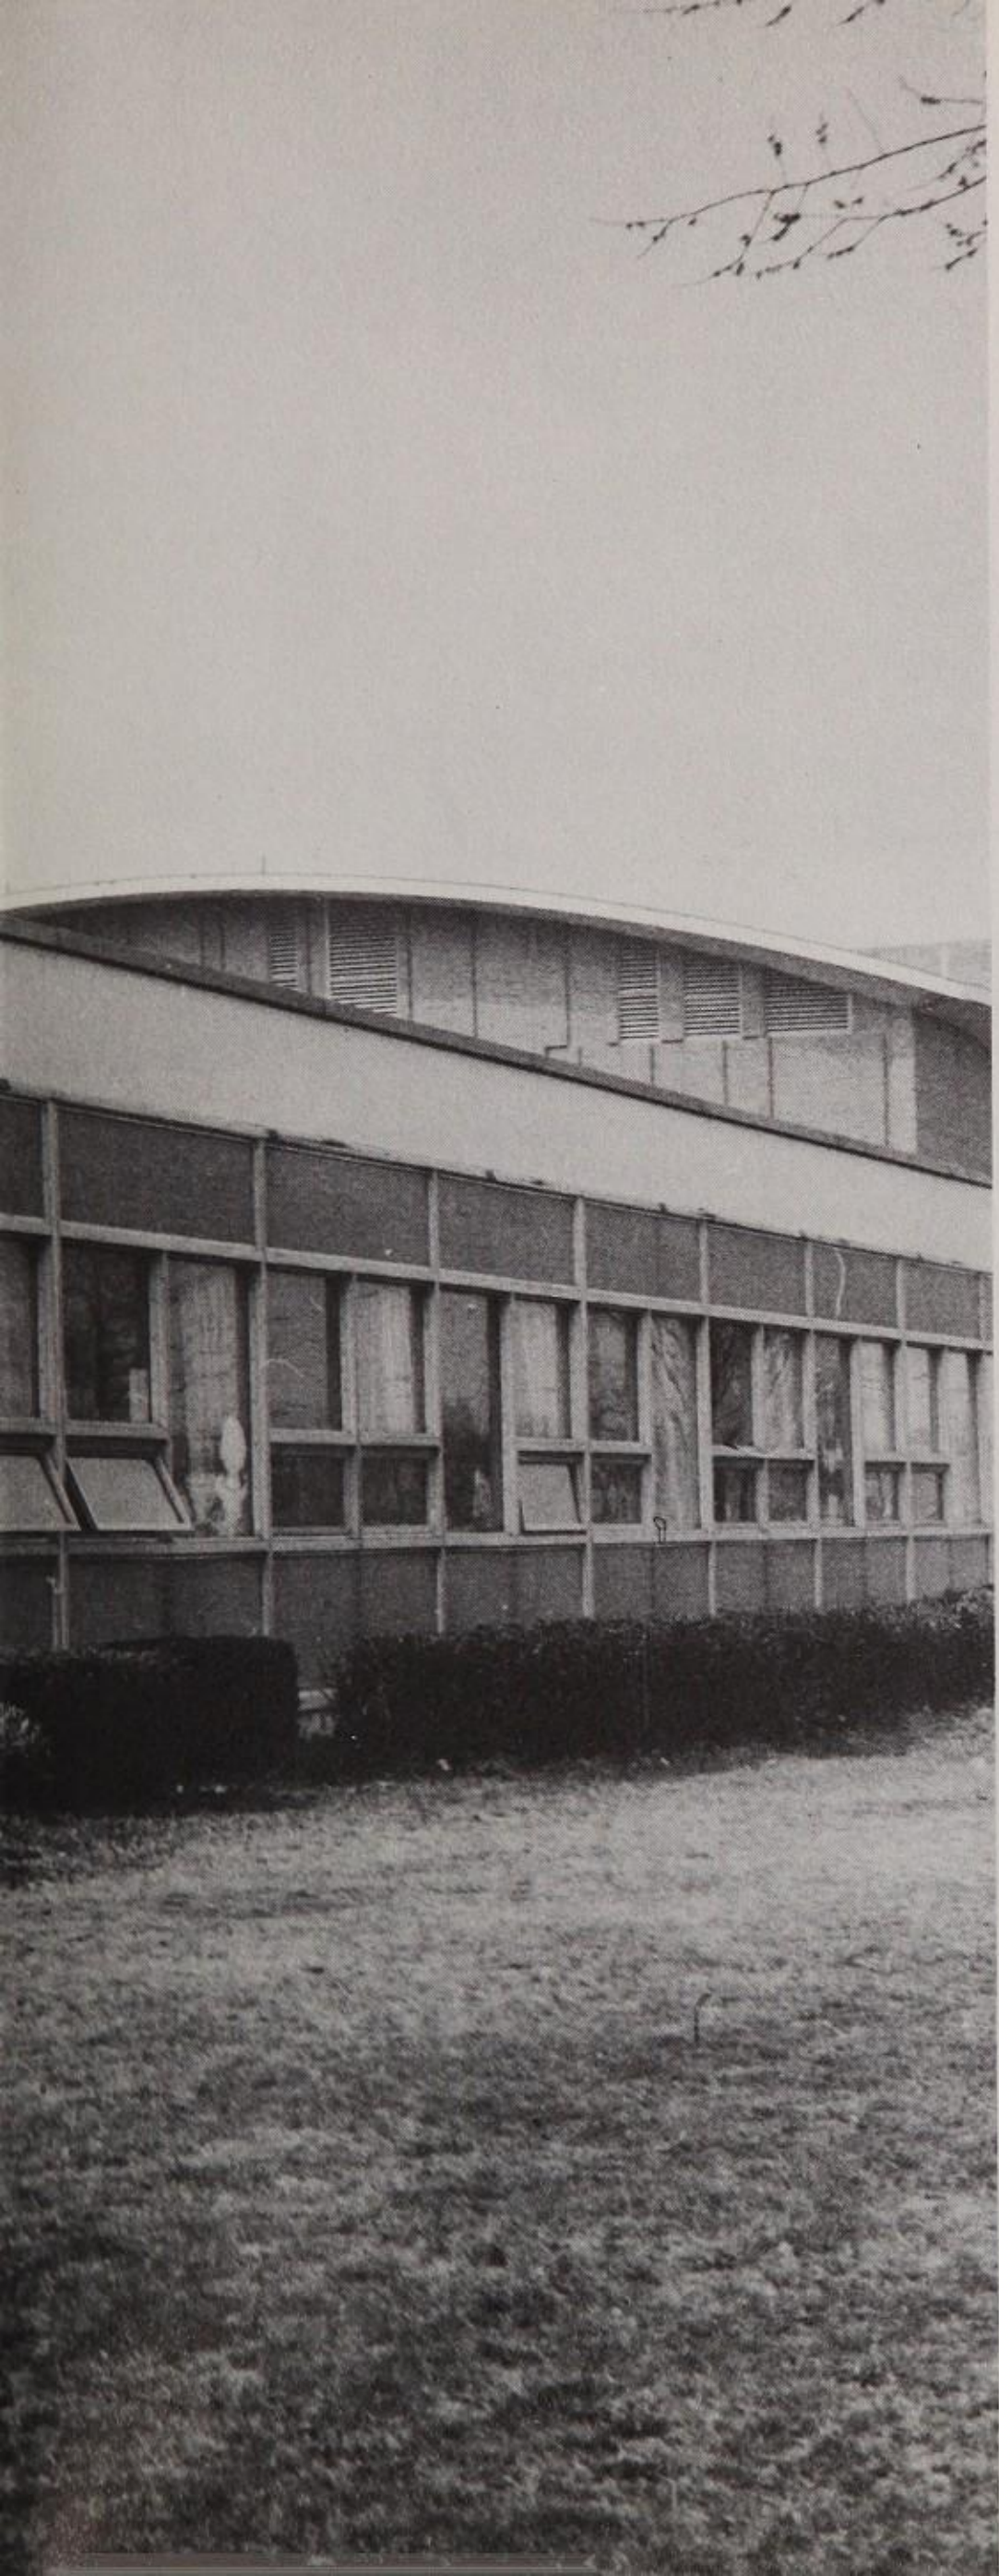
I saw your face and heard you call my name.





Oh, my friends, we're older and we're wiser,
And in our hearts the dreams are still the same.





ADMINISTRATION

CENTRAL OFFICE DIRECTS LP SCHOOL SYSTEM

Very rarely seen in the halls of LPHS are the people behind the scenes. Such as Superintendents of schools, Board of Education Members, secretaries, assistant Superintendent. Personnel Director, Director of Federal Funds Projects, Business Manager, and Maintenance Supervisor. These people work diligently to provide our schools with all of it's vital needs. Keeping our school running smoothly is quite an achievement. Not only do these people see to it that our schools are kept in top running condition, but they also see to it that teaching methods and curriculum are up to date. Without these conscientious people behind our schools they wouldn't be able to function as efficiently as they do.

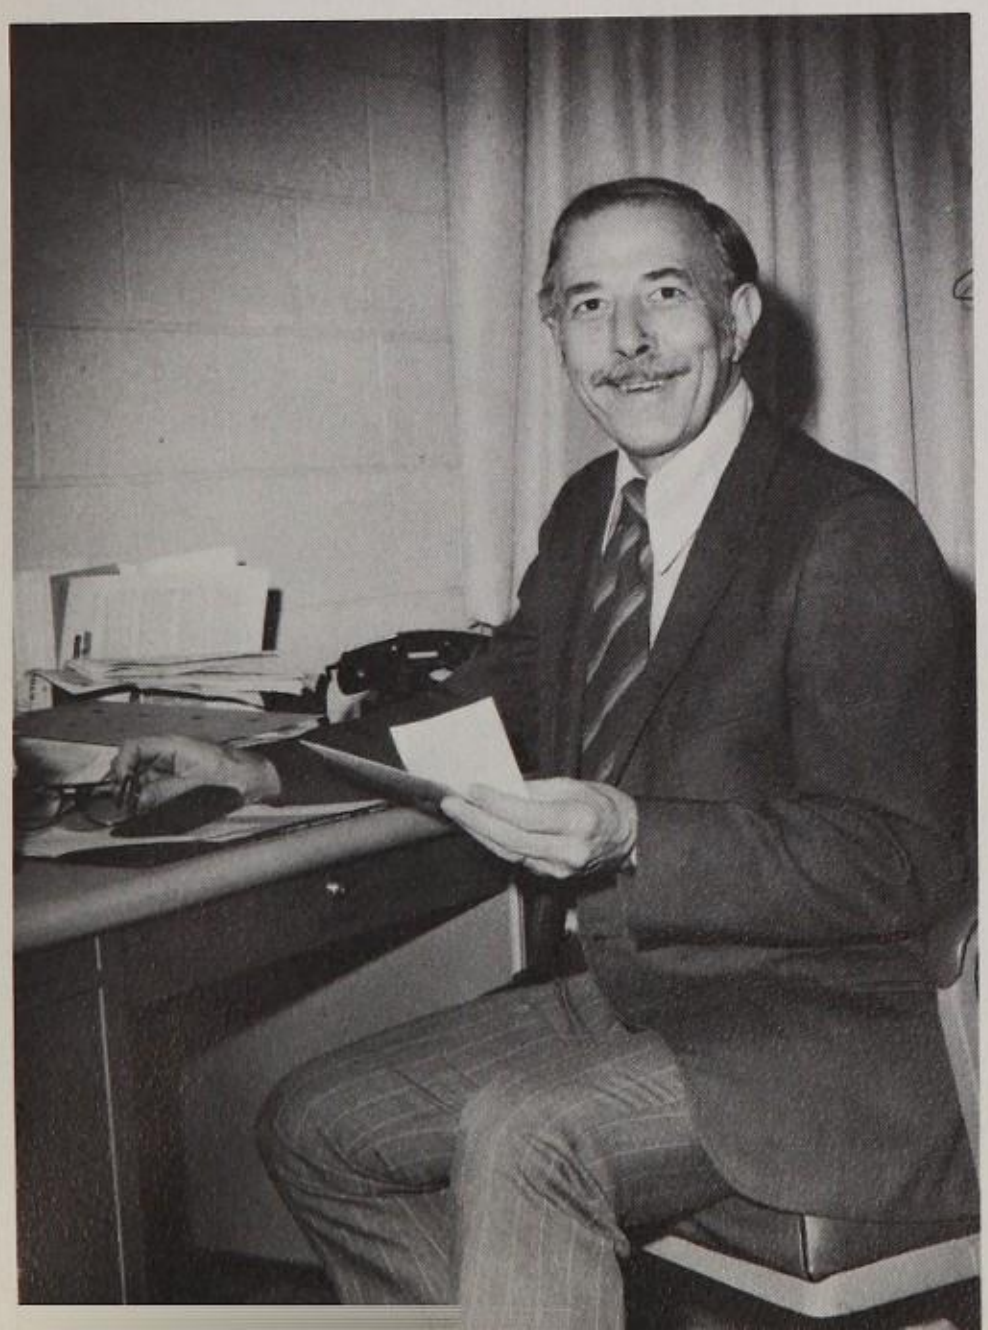
ADMINISTRATIVE TASKS VARIED AND DIFFICULT

The Administrative Staff of Lincoln Park High School is headed by Tom Cuozzo who works hard at keeping the high school operating as efficiently as possible. Mr. Cuozzo subdelegates his administrative authority to several capable men. Mr. Raymond B. Fetchiet, the Assistant Principal is responsible for the maintenance of the plant and he is also in charge of building the master schedule.

Above, Mr. Thomas Cuozzo, Principal, eagerly attacks one of the many problems he must face daily, while below left, Mr. John Doyle seems to enjoy an encounter.



Mr. Don Wood works behind the scenes preparing the school budget, ordering supplies and materials, supervising the High School parking lots and schedules all school activities, while attendance and discipline, a job envied by no one.

The Administrative Staff would not be able to keep the High School functioning at such an efficient level if it were not for the highly competent secretarial staff without which our school administrators would not be able to perform in such an efficient manner.

VARIED CHORES KEEP MAINTENANCE STAFF BUSY

Our custodians and cooks are the men and women who are not connected with our educational staff, but do the work behind the scenes, in our spacious high school. The men are here year-round cleaning and constantly fixing the various objects that always seem to be broken. Our great cooks always seem to come up with something delicious for lunch. Both crews are constantly smiling and always willing to give a helping hand. Our unending thanks to all of these hard workers for their terrific help throughout the year.

ACADEMICS

RECORD SIZE BOOK PRODUCED BY YEARBOOK CLASSES

Excitement! Fun! Work! Pride! These four elements were seen and felt by all the students taking Yearbook classes this year. Choosing the right pictures to make ideal layouts, designing layouts, and seeing your work printed as you put your fellow students in print are but a few of the exciting aspects of the Yearbook classes.

Several months of planning, hard work, effort, and worry went into the production of "The 1973 Log." Plans had to be made, strategies devised, advertisers and patrons solicited, costs calculated, theme selected, pictures taken, cropped and proportioned, events covered, layouts designed and completed, body copy and cutlines written and typed, cover designed and produced, and layouts cleaned, paginated, and printed. These were but a few of the multitude of chores that a record number of students participated in as the 1973 Yearbook Staff and advisers published the largest high school yearbook in the nation.

The Yearbook Staff was truly proud that the "1973 Log" was the best yet published at Lincoln Park High School. The Yearbook Staff felt proud that they could offer the student body such a magnificent book.

NEW COURSE SELECTION OFFERED IN ENGLISH

It cannot be stressed enough the need for both a well-read background and a command for the use of grammerically correct English in our modern age, where a means of proper expression is necessary for one's advancement and well being. For this reason the English class was broken down into different studies. Now a student may study one part of English or literature, instead of having a wide-range course.

PERSONIFICATION METAPHOR

The courses go into more depth. Now when a student selects an English course, he can be sure that he will be interested in it. Writing classes, reading classes, and grammar classes are broken down to insure the selection of a course the students will enjoy.

With this new program set up at LPHS, a better understanding of English is acquired. This knowledge prepares students for their future well being, whether it be on to college, or off to work.

UNDERSTANDING GOAL OF SCIENCE DEPT.

In man's constant struggle to learn more about the world around him, nothing is more important to him than the world of science. Following in this same frame of mind is the Science Department of Lincoln Park High School, with its unquenchable thirst for knowledge and its eternal question, "Why?"

Since science is progressing at a rapid pace, the Science Department of LPHS is indeed a world of action. It offers students the opportunity to gain a basic understanding of science or probe into the depths of the subject.

The courses offered are biology, botany, zoology, physiology, and chemistry. Upon completing these available science courses, students are prepared to become a part of the world which places a great demand on science.

MANKIND CHIEF CONCERN OF SOCIAL STUDIES

To better understand the complexities of the world around us, the Social Studies Department offers Lincoln Park High School students a wide variety of classes. Many of theses classes range from a study of Sociology to Economics. It is the hope of the instructors of these clasees, that this variety will further the interest of the student in the social studies area. The success of a new program of this magnitude, will depend on the equipment each instructor has to work with.

It is the hope of the Social Studies Department, that this variety will further develop the skills of the students in the social studies area. They want to believe that this change, will open new areas of social studies for the student. This might make the student more interested in improving their government and partaking in social activities. These changes may even open up new career interest in social work, and other work pertaining to the social studies area. It is the hope of all the faculty that changes such as these will help the student in understanding and furthering his interest in government.

LANGUAGE STUDY MORE THAN JUST BOOKWORK

Spanish and French are the two languages which are offered by the fine teachers (Mr. Kasky, Mr. Pantoleon, and Mrs. Hauserman.) It is not all book work. There are also plays, songs, jokes and parties. Many times students would walk by the language rooms and smell tacos or crepe suzettes. Learning another language helps a person realize the different cultures of our world.

PRACTICE PAYS OFF FOR MARCHING BAND

This year's marching band did its job with great success. Each show was something new to see and the majorettes added to it with their pre-game and half-time performances. Under the leadership of Mr. Micheal Dundas, the band began each home football game with playing of the National Anthem and then started in with the school song to which the majorettes did their routine and the crowd sang. The band isn't all play and no work. Practicing in the rain, marching in the mud, and performing in the snow are just a few obstacles they had to overcome.

Left, Rich Lavoie tries to make a few sounds come out of his Sousaphone. Top center, the band has a good time while waiting to begin their half-time show. Above, Debbie Martin and Randy Gossett have a few laughs. Right, co-captain Linda Ash and Irene Martinez show their talent by twirling flags for the pre-game show. Far right, Janice Doughty does a little practicing on her flute.

Below, Bill Stanley strives for perfection on the trombone as right, Susan Georgia helps hold up the low woodwinds; right, the flute section is seen playing along with band and lower right, trumpets add to the harmony of the piece. While lower left, Rick Lavoie and Sandy Riddell watch Mr. Dundas for their cues.

DAZZLING MAJORETTES ENTERTAIN AT HALF-TIME

The majorettes swung into action this football season with outstanding performances at our six Railsplitter home games.

Under the leadership of band director, Michael Dundas, the majorettes performed admirably to tunes such as "Cecilia," "Low Down Blues," and "Light My Fire." Val Mrakitsch and Linda Ash, co-captains, represented the senior class. Underclassmen girls were, Karen Woolum, Theresa Klein, Irene Martinez , Jill Diakow , Debbie Martin and Nadia Ali.

Jill Diakow begins one of the girl's entertaining routines as the band plays.

LOGIC OF MATH PROVES VALUABLE FOR FUTURE

To many of the students at LPHS the Math Department has portrayed an important part of their school lives.

There has always been a constant search for the unknown and many LPHS students set out to find it; even if it only means finding out how many feet of fence a backyard will need.

All the way from Math I to Calculus II, with Consumer's and Refresher's Math thrown in between, many students get by, sometimes with a little help from their teachers.

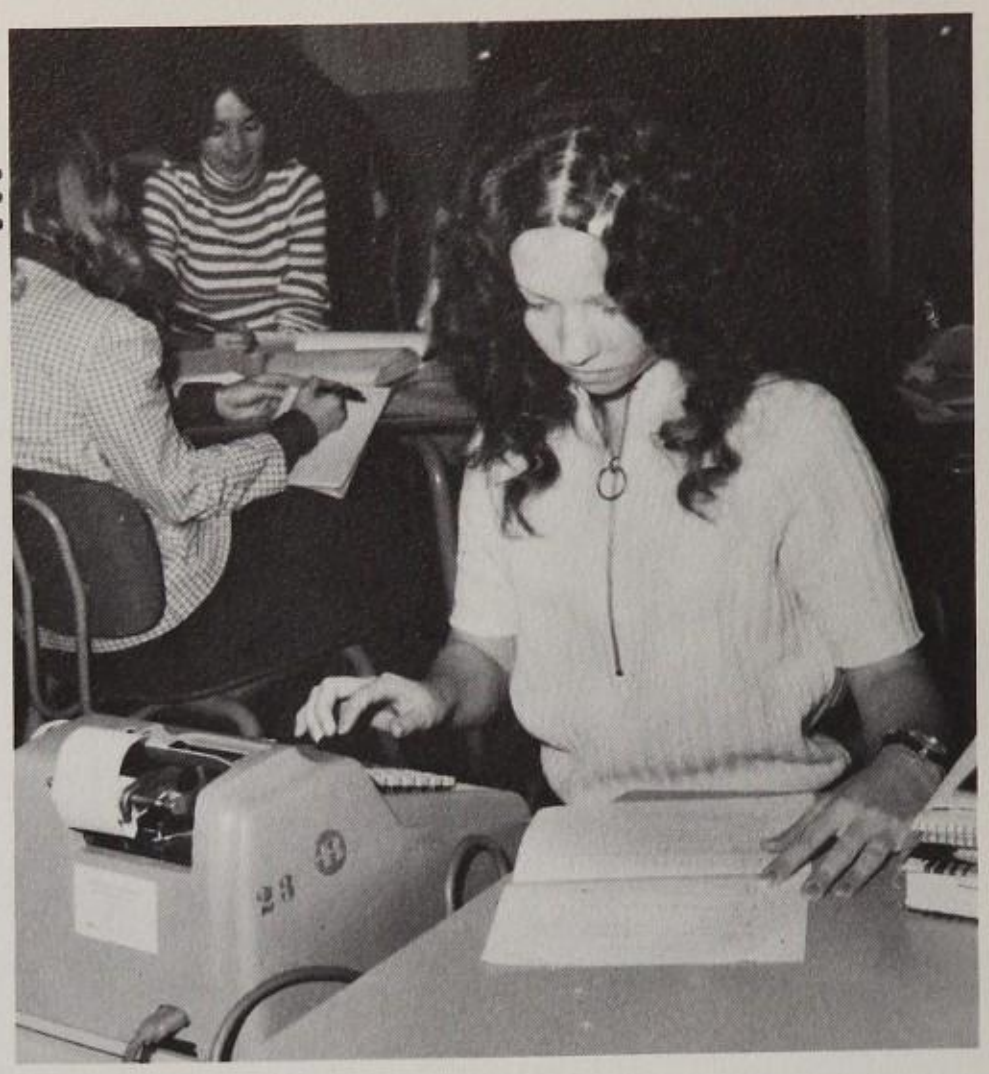
BUSINESS STUDENTS GAIN UNDERSTANDING FOR FUTURE



The business department, one of the largest academic areas in LPHS underwent some changes this year by adding Business Communications, Steno Block, and Clerical Block to their other many offerings.

Business Communications deals with communicating with people in a business-like way. The students learn proper style for business letter-writing, give spontaneous speeches, and they also discuss fellow classmates' problems.

In Steno Block, the business student learns the fundementals of business machines, along with Shorthand 3 and 4, in this 2 hour class.

The newly added Clerical Block class, also a 2 hour class, is set up as an office a student might find in the worker or secretary might do, such as writing business letters to fellow students and having them answered, in an effort to prepare people for office or clerical work.

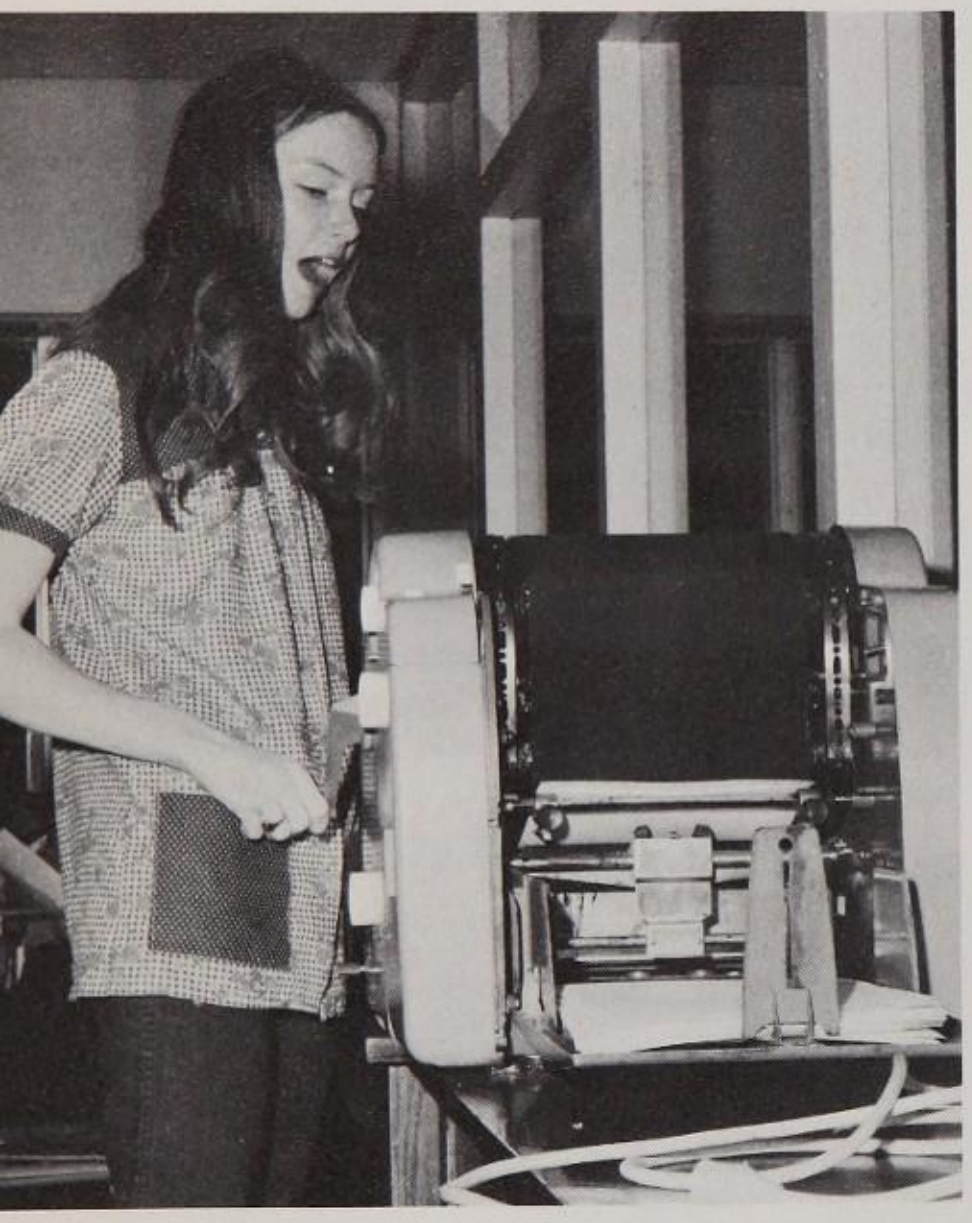
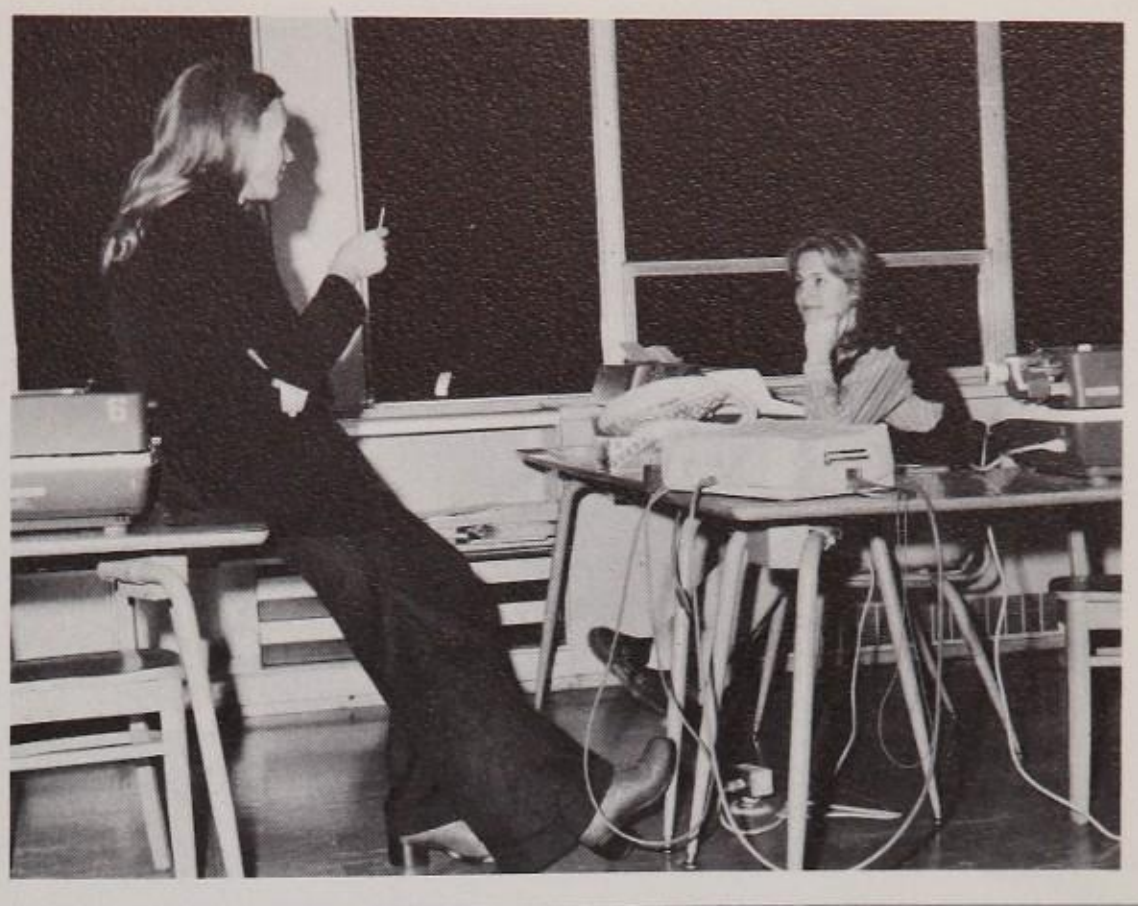
Bottom, working very hard at getting their problems finished, is Cindy Stancil and Linda Hughen, Below, Charlene McLaughlin finds something surprising in working the ditto machine, while at right, the streneous activity of typing seems to be tiring Patty Clay.





At right, Chris Thebolt and Donna Holcome discuss a problem concerning the dictation machines. Below, Debbie Wallace seems happy about what she hears over the dictaphone.

Engrossed might be a good word to discribe Donna Pryor, as she strives to get her work done.

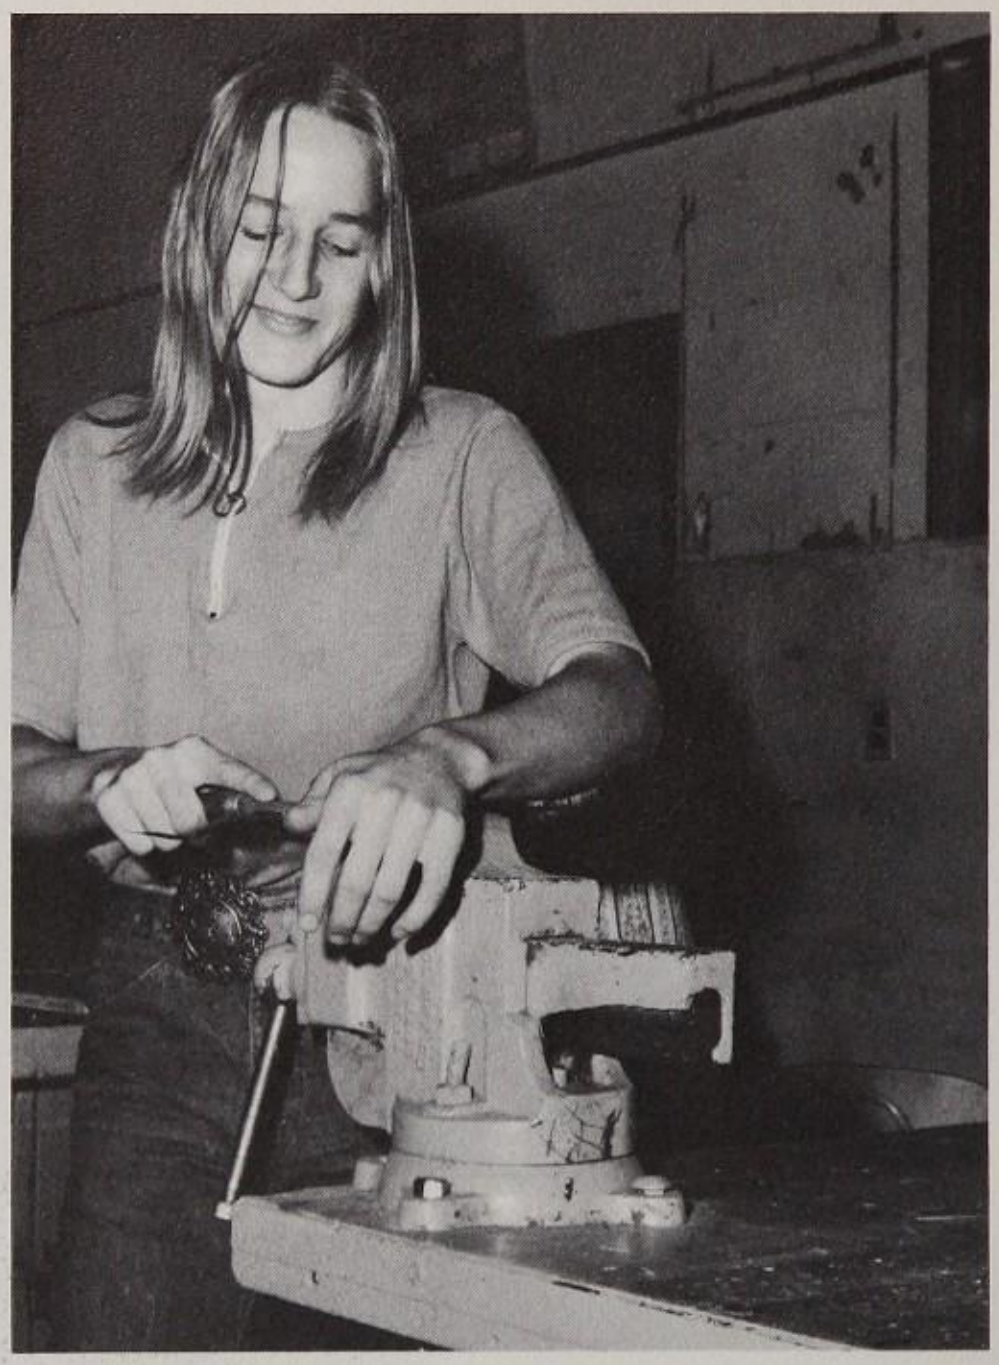
PRACTICAL, CREATIVE IDEAS STRESSED IN METALS

In the world of metals, a student willing to put forth an honest effort can learn how to weld, and use his imagination to create any project he wishes to make.

Mr. Becker and Mr. Sitikins are the metals shop teachers. They guide the young men in perfecting and skill. There are three different shops having to do with metals. Metals 1, Metals 11, and Vocational Metals which is a shop for young men who wish to make it their career in future lives or just wish to better themselves.



Right, Rick May seems to be enjoying his job of filing down a metals project, while below, Larry Burgess concentrates on completing his mornings work.

USEFULL ITEMS BUILT BY WOODS STUDENTS

Within a high school a person can learn a wide variety of skills, such as the history of our country or the dimensions of a cylinder. In order to put the things learned to use, you have to go down to the Industrial Arts wing.

One of the many classes offerid, is Woodshop. In this class a person can obtain the knowledge of woodworking. These young craftsmen make various things such as tables, lamps, cabinets, and many other projects. The Woods teachers are Mr. Taylor and Mr. Brian, who with their experience and teaching skills, guide the students.

PRINTNG RANKS HIGH IN STUDENT INTEREST

Within LPHS, there is a branch of industrial arts which has just about everyone in the department interested. The class is printing and it is headed by Mr. Bill Turner and Mr. Jerry Blahut. Students learn all the extensive techniques from the setting of type to actual completion of the final copy.

Printing class is not only a valuable class to the students in it, but also the entire Lincoln Park school system. Upon completion of the printing courses, a student has open to him, many opportunities in the printing industry.

Items printed by the printing classes include, such things as, programs for plays, the Railsplitter, and even report cards. The print shop has proven to be a valuable asset to the school system, by printing the bulk of the printing needs required by the grade schools.

ELECTRONICS PROVIDES

Today's world of modern electronics requires that persons entering this field be well trained and informed. The students of Lincoln Park High School taking electrical courses are attempting to become such persons under the capable tutelage of Mr. Ron Milligan.

Some of the skills taught our students are radio and T.V. repair, amplifier construction, the building of power supplies and understanding the intricacies of the breadboard circuits, with the hope that these students will be able to enter the complicated field of electronics once they have mastered the basics.

AUTO'S CLASSES GIVE PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE

Many aspiring machcanics begin their ambitions in the high school auto shop. They learn the basic fundamentals of cars before they actually begin working on cars. These fundamentals entail quite a bit of book work, devoted study and instruction, before practical application of the knowledge of cars can be put to use. Auto mechanics is a class that can be useful to anyone interested in cars or any other phase of machanics as our Auto Shop students can testify to the practicality of the autos clas.-es.

DRAFTING OFFERS PRACTICAL KNOWLEDGE

Mr. Keglovitz's drafting classes are more than classes of mechanical or technical drawing. They are also classes of self-expression. The students of the drafting classes learn to develop numerous ideas; then it becomes their task to relate these ideas on paper.

The drafting classes have develpoed their own language. The classes have their own alphabet, grammar, and penmanship which are all related to the line.

Drafting classes offer students different vocational outlets in the working world which allow our students more opportunity in today's advanced world of technology.

VARIETY OF ACTIVITIES OFFERED GIRLS

Where is one of the most active places in LPHS? That's right in the girl's gym. Many things are going on in class all semester. The girls have courses in archery, speedball, dancing, track and field, swimming, and baseball. The semesters are broken up into three week segments.

Gym is taught by Miss Mohacsi and Mrs. Zerillo At any time during the day, students can be seen working at developing their skills and sports. The department works with the students to promote sportsmanship and physical fitness.

The athletic wing of LPHS does not quiet down until early evening. Practice for all sports except for outdoor sports go on after school. GAA and the cheerleaders also use the gym. The LPHS gym is usually kept quite busy by many of the students.

FITNESS STRESSED WITH BOYS IN GYM

The Physical Education teachers are Mr. Noland and Mr. Tarrant. They do their best to get the boys to compete against each other in such sports as baseball,basketball, hockey, volleyball, swimming, and football. From this the boys learn how to accept winning and losing, something that they will encounter many times throughout life. Besides this, gym keeps them in excellent physical shape. The physical education department purcahsed a weight machine wich allows sixteen students to work out at one time.

To the right Mr. Tarrant is starting a game with a jump ball between Paul Tuttle and John Sgroi who has a height disadvantage. Below Art Vargo and Randy Czanks appear to be in hot pursuit of the ball.

CREATIVITY ENCOURAGED BY ART DEPARTMENT

All courses offered in L.P.H.S. are designed to motivate one's creativity.
ativity as do the Art classes. Painting, pottery, leather goods, and metal works are composed by the students, as they express their creativity. Students are often, closely guided by their teachers as they produce these fine works. Individuality also, plays an important part in one's expression. The art classes give students a chance to relate not only with each other but also to the different medias.

DRAMA CLASS OFFERS BASIC THEATRICAL SKILLS

Drama class plays an important role in High School in that is helps the student to express their emotions more effectively, so that they can convey to the audience what they want them to feel. As always in Drama the applying of make-up is done and the students are also taught how to apply it. Drama class gives the student self assurance in their relation with getting up in front of an audience.

WIDE VARIETY OFFERED IN HOME ECONOMICS AREA

Becoming a homemaker can be quite an enjoyable experience. Students learn new techniques in creating clothing. They learn to use their imaginations to their fullest extent. Students learn how to make a dull piece of fabric into an exciting article of clothing.

Becoming a homemaker involves more than just sewing, however, cooking, home planning, bachelor living and career gal are other courses offered to the students who wish to become outstanding homemakers.

IMPROVEMENT SHOWN IN LP GRID RECORD

The 1972 Railsplitters again provided their fans with many thrills, as they improved their record considerably, showing flashes of brilliance in the process.

Their 4-5 record was a definite improvement over their 2-6 mark of 1971, when the Railsplitters were plagued by injuries and inexperience.

Coach Pascuzzi again displayed his excellence as a strategist by maneuvering the members of his backfield around, getting fantastic results.

The bright spots for the Rails in 1972 included the performances of halfbacks Mark Nelson and Dave Quenneville, who were named to the All-Area squad, as was tackle Len Maser

Among the outstanding seniors on the '72 squad were defensive lineman Chris Filimon, Joe Larker, and Tom McPartlin, ends Gary Hunt and Don Gentner, and running-backs Mark Kranz and Steve Szatkowski.

HOOPSTERS END SKID, FUTURE OUTLOOK BRIGHT

The 1972-73 Lincoln Park varsity basketball team ended their three year victory drought in a series of hardfought battles this season. The team overcame their critics, as they salvaged two victories out of their rugged schedule. The '72 squad, quicker amd more mature than the '71 five, was hampered by crucial injuries throughout the first half of the season. They rebounded in the second half winning two consecutive game making real cliff-hangers of the others.

Although the 72-73 season could hardly be called a success, LP basketball is back on the road to success, with next years team sure to show even greater improvement.

GRAPPLERS FARE WELL IN RETURN TO WARS

The Lincoln Park Wrestling Team members have shown great spirit and determination in their struggle to become a number one team. Though their record is not as good as they would hope it to be, it has definitely improved a great deal.

This improvement is due to fact that we have very promising athletes who participate in this exciting sport.

Among those who have brought great improvement and hope to our team, Gerry Armstrong proves to be the most outstanding. With a 9-win 0-loss record, Gerry demonstrated great skill and a terrific amount of determination.

Gerry is also one of the graduating seniors on the team. Other graduating seniors are Dave Cemate, Steve Szatkowski, and Chris Filimon. Steve held a 7-2 record, which is also an outstanding count.

Of course, the sponsor of the team was none other than Mr. Branch. His assistant is Pete Cemate. Mr. Branch was assistant to Mr. Tessmer from 1965-1967. This is his first year as head coach.

NATATORS RETURN TO SWIM SCENE

After four years of silence, the Lincoln Park High School swimming pool again rang with the sounds of cheering students, as the Railsplitters launched their first team since 1969. Possessing only three swimmers with prior team experience, the Railsplitters finished with a 2-8 win-loss record. The Rails faced an extremely rough schedule, with Fordson, Wyandotte, and Trenton among their opponents. One of the bright spots of LP was the performance of J.R. Bondy who at times was unbeatable, setting the school record for the 50-yard freestyle with a time of 23.4 seconds. The LP swimmers were coached by Sam Perry and the captains were J.R. Bondy, Tom McPartlin and Randy Woolum.

TENNIS SEASON BEGINS ON WINNING NOTE

This year marks the return of tennis to Lincoln Park High School after an absence of three years. Under the excellent leadership of Coach Randy Kite the team got the season off to a good start by winning their first meet.

The Tennis Team consists mainly of sophomores and juniors which because of its youth the Lincoln Park Netters should pose a threat in the league.

LP RUNNERS POWERFUL DURING 1973 SEASON

The Lincoln Park track team, remained the areas most feared competitors, as they ran past many of their opponents in the '73 season. Senior, Mark Kranz and co-captains Dave Hendry and Ron Wiens remained Downrivers most deadliest runners, as they paced the Railsplitters to victory. Coaches Elmer Burnie and Richard Beyst piloted the team to another successful season. With several returning lettermen next years team should supply Lincoln Park with another winning season.

PARK BATSMEN CONTINUE DOWNRIVER DOMINATION

After a year layoff the Railsplitters Baseball Team returned last year with a 12-8 record, highlighted by a semifinals showing in the Wyandotte Invitational Tourney.

This year Coach Noland expects to win 15 out of 20 games scheduled. His team consists of 18 players; 7 seniors,10 juniors, and 1 sophmore.

Mr. Noland, a rather innovative coach, brightened up his team by selecting 3 batgirls and an alert female statistician who supplies the team with enough information for keeping them on their toes.

Under Coach Noland's expert leadership, the team got off to a brilliant start by defeating Trenton by a score of 3-2 and beating Riverview by the same score.

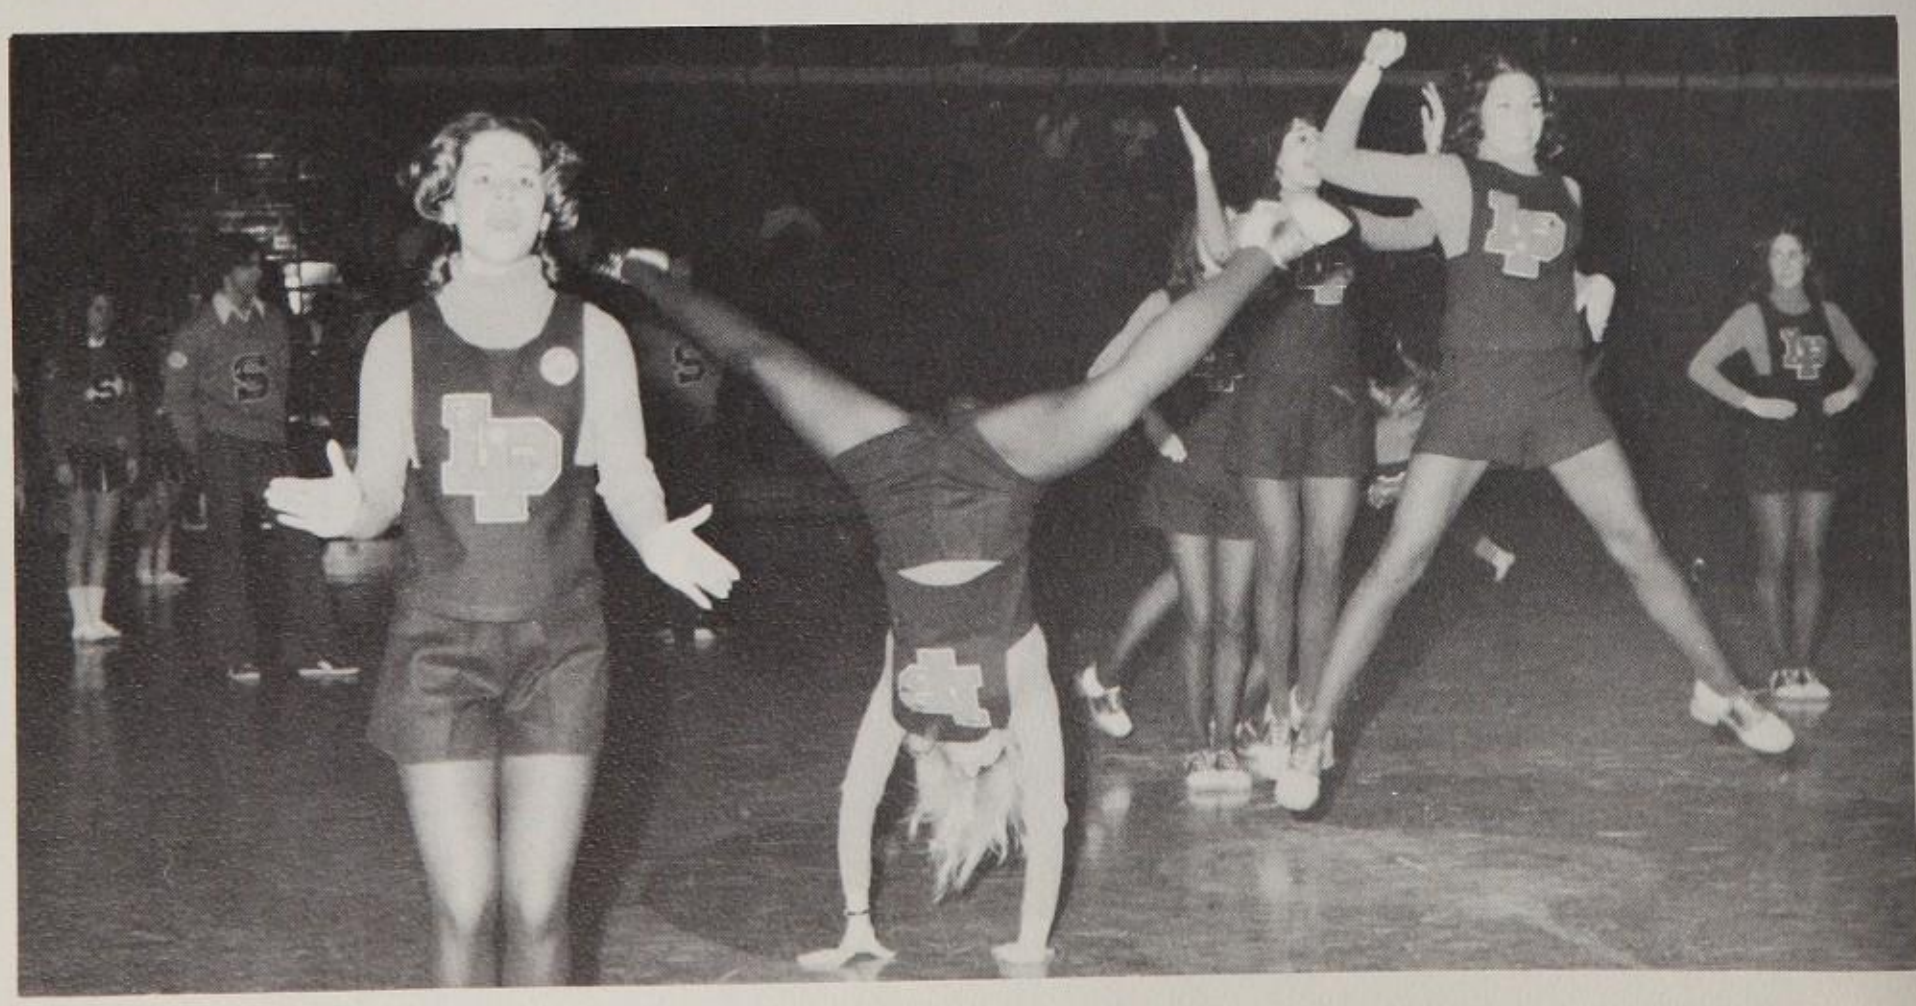
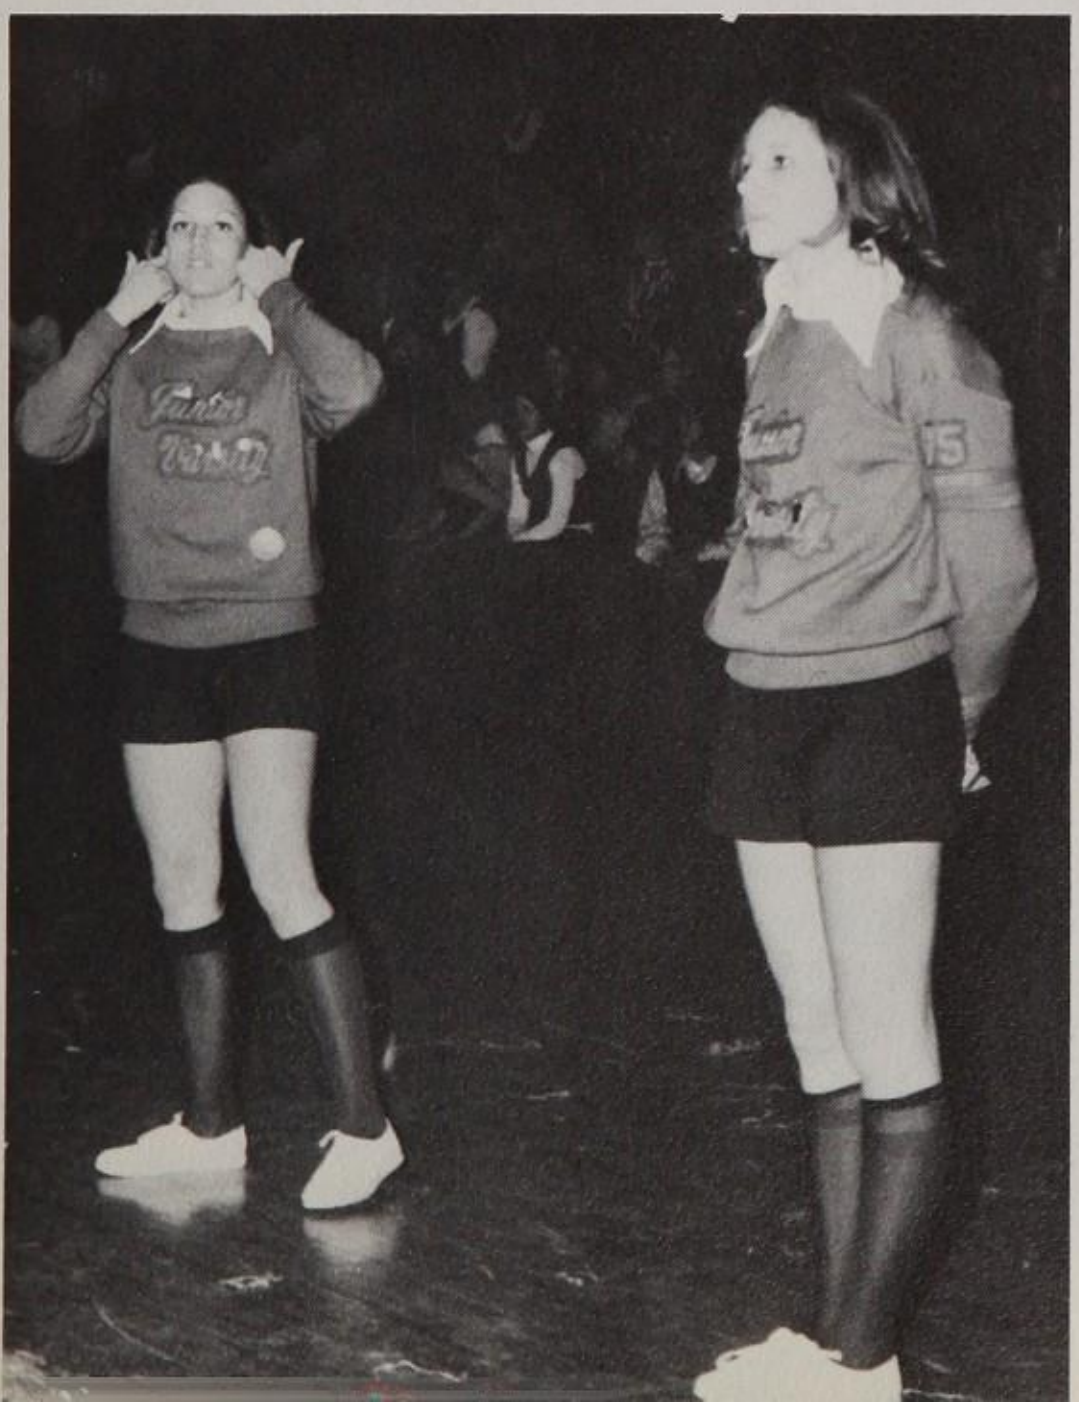
ENTHUSIASM, PEP NEEDED TO CHEER ON LP TEAMS

Last May, try-outs for Varsity and Junior Varsity cheerleaders were held by Mrs. Sally Meadows, sponsor. Those originally selected for Varsity were Chris Thelolt, Diane Kropp Debbie Cuozzo, Kim Vig, Judy Selecki Nora Koncz, Pam Rulon, and Leslie Carter. For Junior Varsity Gigi Ploskumak, Cindy Bowen, Nan DuChamp Nan Pilgrim, Kim Ruthven, and Marsha Bonich were selected. The week after tryouts, both squads started practicing and continued throughout the summer. The Varsity squad prepared mostly for camp, getting ready to enter competition. They won second place for their pom-pom routine "Black Magic Woman."

Even when football and basketball seasons are over, the Varsity squad still continues. They are in charge of tryouts. At clinics they teach the girls jumps, cartwheels, splits, and help them make up a cheer. They must perform all this before judges.

Top, with determination on her face, Marsha cheers her team to victory. During the introduction, Nora Koncz does a cartwheel while the visiting squad looks on.



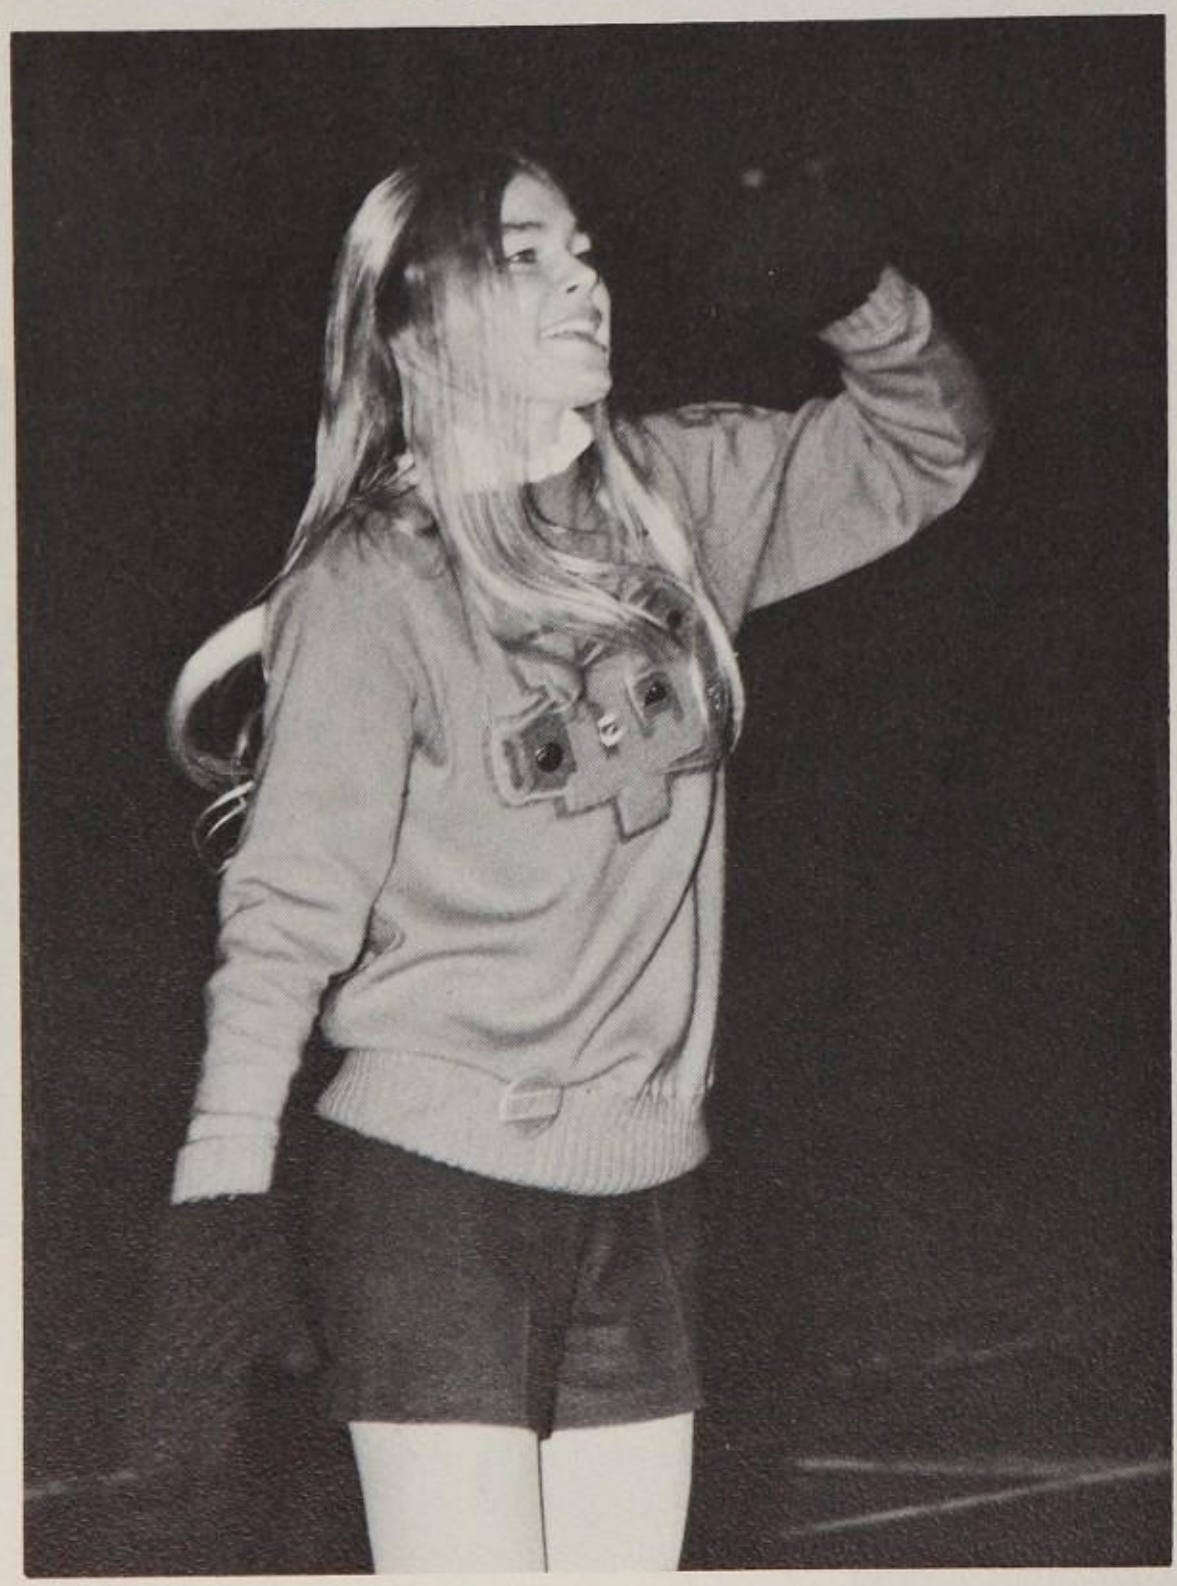


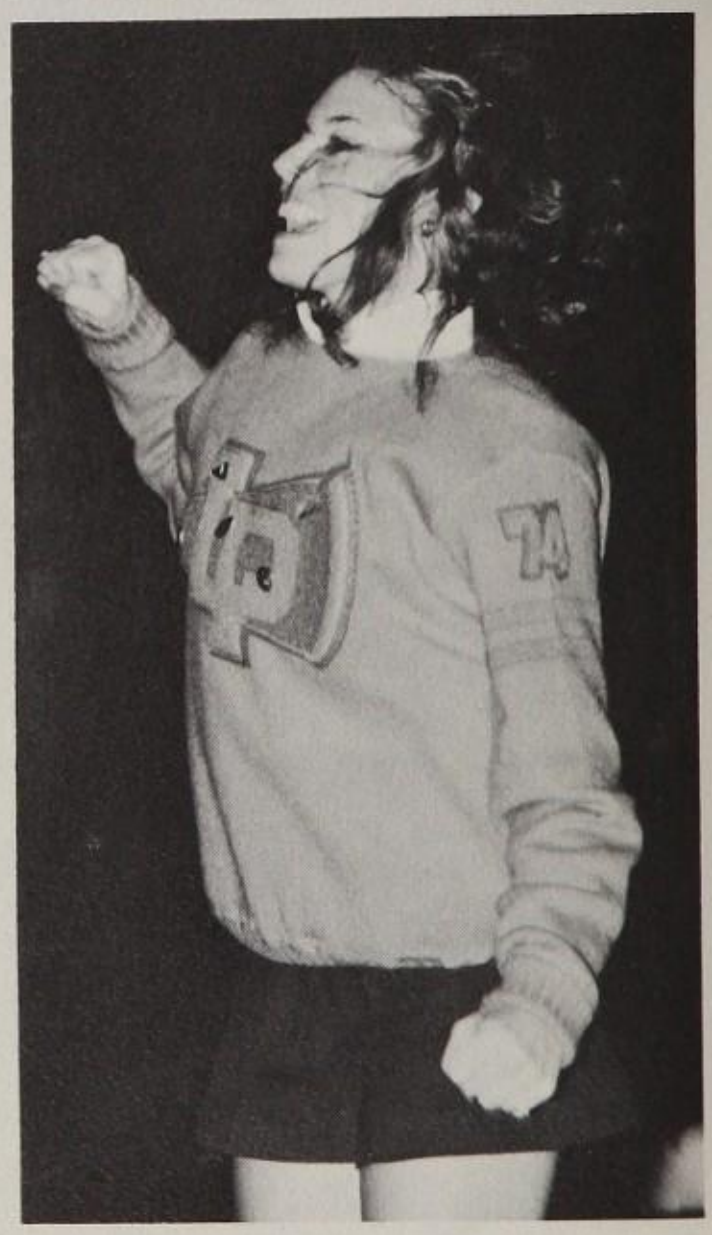
Above, Debbie, Leslie, and Judy try to get crowd participation, Below, Gigi and Nan stop to catch their breath. The girls watch hopefully as a free throw is being taken.

They are judged for their poise, enthusiam, performance, and originality.

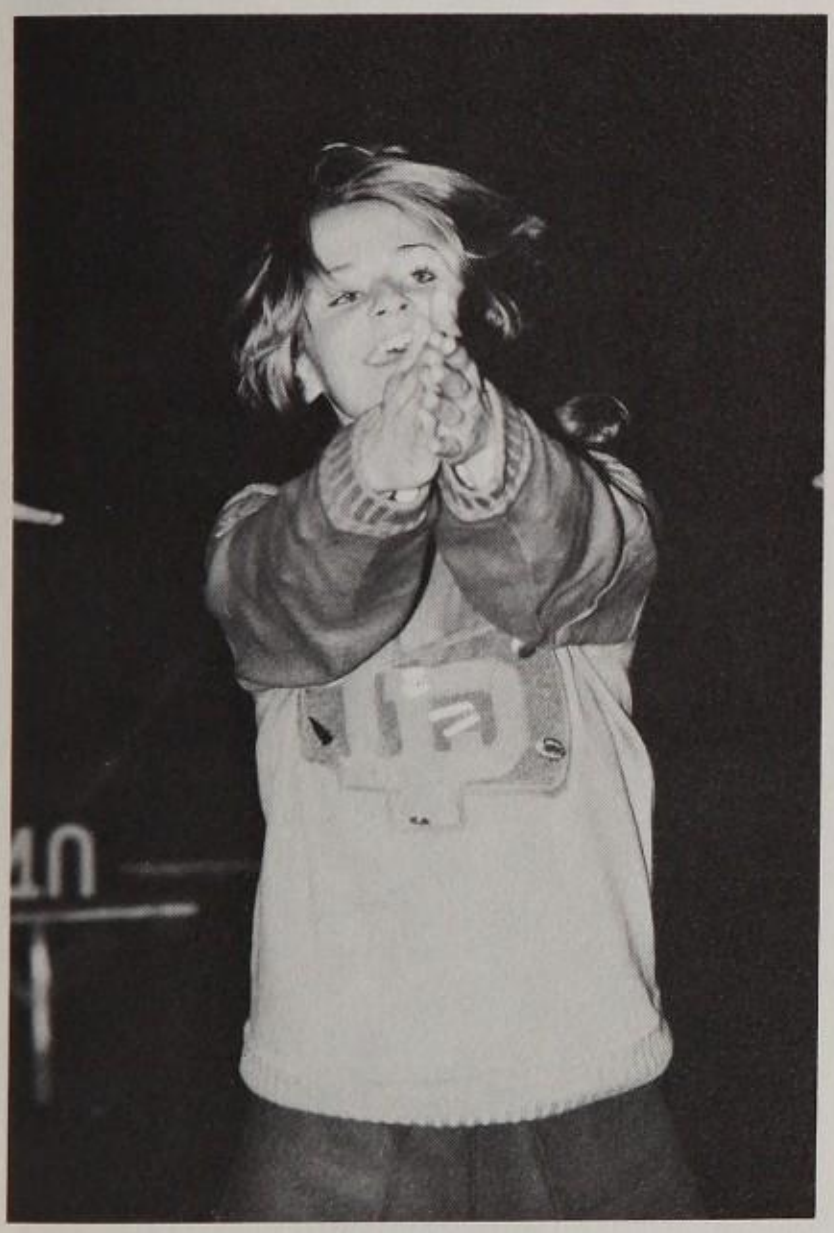
Cheerleading is much more than getting out on the gym floor and yelling. Its the spirit the girls have for the team and school, and its being proud of them.

The Lincoln Park Cheerleaders are noted for their enthusiasm and inspirational qualities. Judy Selecki, Nora Konz, Chris Thebolt and Leslie Carter, surely exemplify these characteristics.





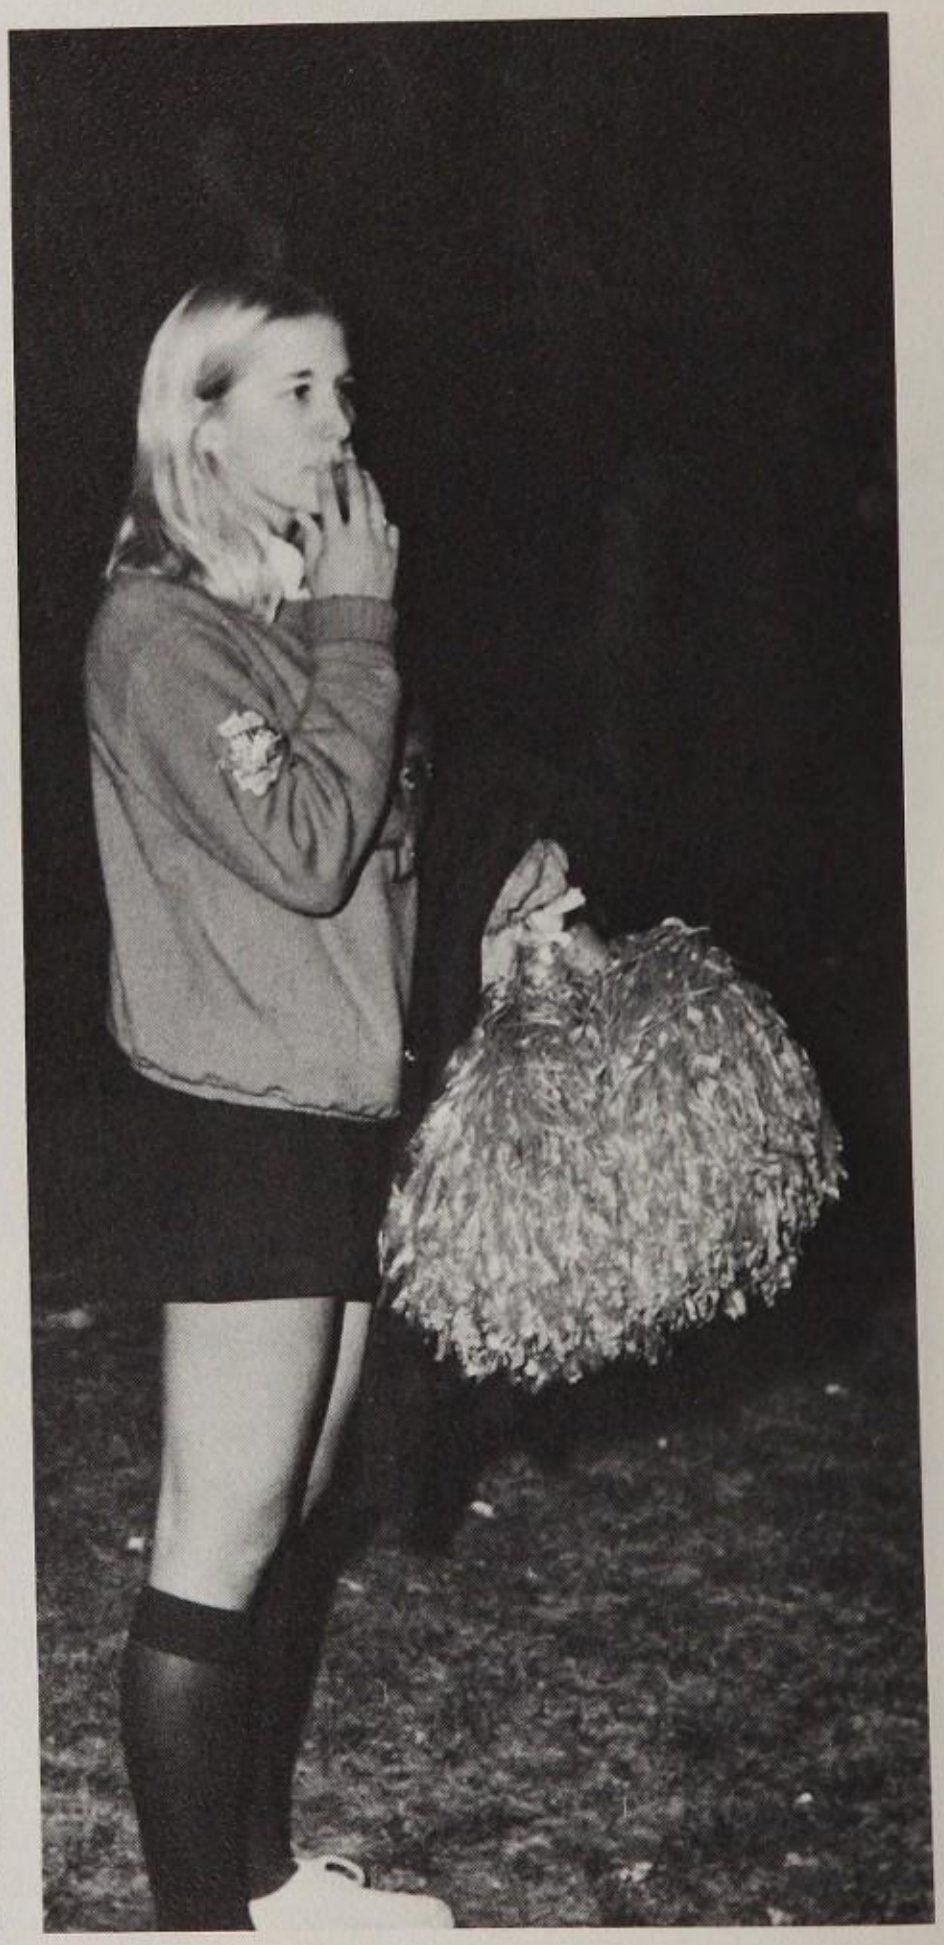
As Kim Vig keeps her mind on cheering it looks as if Leslie Carter hasn't found who she is looking for.



They say the finest quality of a good cheerleader is a smile on her face at all times. Chris Thebolt and Judy Selecki sure live up to this standard.

The Varsity Cheerleaders also took part in the homecoming parade to help welcome back the people that graduated last year.

Chris Thebolt and Diane Kropp proudly hold the hoop at the Homecoming Game for the football players to run through on to victory.



Nora Konz looks on with much interest during an important play of the game.

After the Lincoln Park Cheerleaders met Annapolis cheerleaders they just stood around and watched the game for awhile. The Railsplitters must have been proud because we won 40-8.

Even though the weather turned out cold it didn't stop Pam Rulon's lovely smile and she kept right on cheering.

Judy Selecki, Debbie Cuozzo, Nora Konz, and Kim Vig talk it up and take time out to get ready for the next cheer.

The Varsity squad smiles brilliantly as they perform their mount, while, Kim, Nan, Cindy, and Marsha urge their team on to a sure victory. Gigi does what she does best--yells.

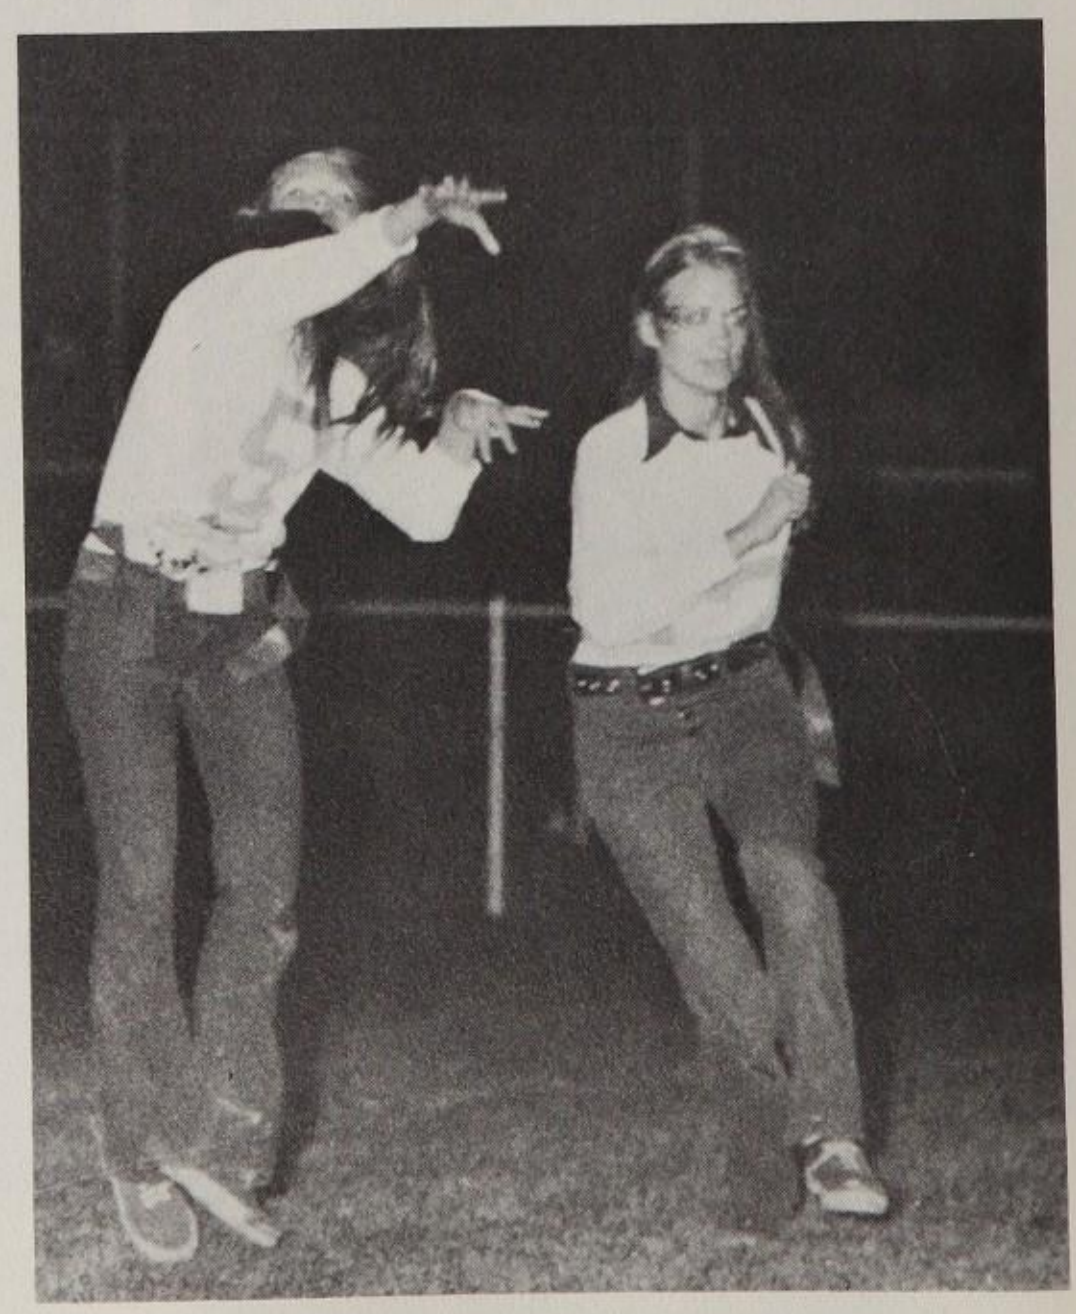
POWDERPUFFERS INVADE GRIDIRON SCENE

After weeks of demanding practice and perserverance, powder-puff football teams from all grade levels competed and came up with four top teams for the playoffs held on October 25.

The first game was held between the 12B's and 10B's and ended 14-0 in favor of the 10B's. This win put the sophomore team in third place, leaving the senior team in fourth place in the playoffs. A shutout by the 11B's upset the 12A's 20-0. As a result, the seniors took second place to the junior's first.

Win or lose, all the girls who participated in the two-week powder-puff football season had a great time.



Above, the crowd watches as the girls football teams fight it out for the number one position. Below, Ammette Totten pulls the flag of Bonny Laney as she makes a dash for the goal.

BEAUTY ABOUNDS DURING HOMECOMING FESTIVITIES

A few hectic weeks take place before the crowning of the Homecoming Queen. The girls are elected by a unanimous vote by their class members, and then introduced to the student body at the Queen's Assembly. Then comes the anxious moment after a long wait, the Queen is announced during half-time ceremonies at the Homecoming Game.

As the court is slowly pulled around the field atop their float, the girls anxiously await the final decision as to whom will be the 1973 Homecoming Queen. When her name was announced, Yvonne's expression and tears showed the happiness and honor she felt. Last year's court, Jo Chadwick, Jackie Janovich, Queen Ann Johnson, and Sue Krumbach, are shown applauding as Yvonne's name was announced. Floats shown are the American Field Service and to the far left, the 12A float.

'CRIMSON TWILIGHT' THEME OF HOMECOMING DANCE

The theme of this year's Homecoming Ball was "The Queen's Crimson Twilight" and the band, "T.C.Roads," played and opened with the theme "Crimson Twilight."

Miss Kastura helped sponsor the dance and received a red rose during the dance from the students who participated in organizing the dance. Special thanks also went to Rose Kittle, Gail Stempniewski, Alice Lande, Laura French, Curt Biro, Sue Personke, Pettie Boros, Gini Behrik, and Dan Briscoe who worked so tirelessly to make the dance the great success that it was.

Charms were given to the girls that ran for Homecoming Queen and the 1973 Homecoming Queen received a charm engraved with "LPHS Homecoming Queen '73."

FALL PRODUCTION A HIT DURING TWO NIGHT RUN

Hard work and effort paid off for the students actors and those who participated behind the scenes in bringing A great presentation of Arsenic and Old Lace to the stage. There were Two performances of the play, on Friday night and one on Saturday night, which both went over exceedingly well. Some members of the work crew were Mrs. Jerry Reese, the director, Mr. Bror Stark who designed the set, Mr. Charles Taylor, taking care of set constructions, Mrs.Antionette Francis, supervising make-up, Mr. Frank Collins the technical supervisor, Mary Hendrick and Sandy Favio were student directors, the lights were taken care of by Nancy Boytor and Dareena Coak.

Others participating in the production of the play were Barry Forintos, Vita Mazzola, Linda Taylor, Chuck Wesserling, Paula Voutsas, Annette Sebestin, Terry Fisher, Janeen Gazel, Mary Early, Karen Kapas, Rose Kittle, Andrea Gebstadt, Debbie Grady, Marlene Bezalick, Carol Reuack, Roseanna Harris, and Thom Kolton.

HALLS ADORNED FOR CHRISTMAS

Christmas comes but once a year and the students at LPHS went all out this year to decorate the halls. The themes this year included, Christmas carols, the Nativity scene, and a Martian version of Christmas.

The halls came alive with Christmas trees, wreaths of all sizes, Christmas elves and of course, Santa Claus. Each day students could be seen giving each other a helping hand in the true spirit of the season.

The climax of all this activity was the Christmas dance during which the 11B's were proclaimed the winner of the decorating contest.

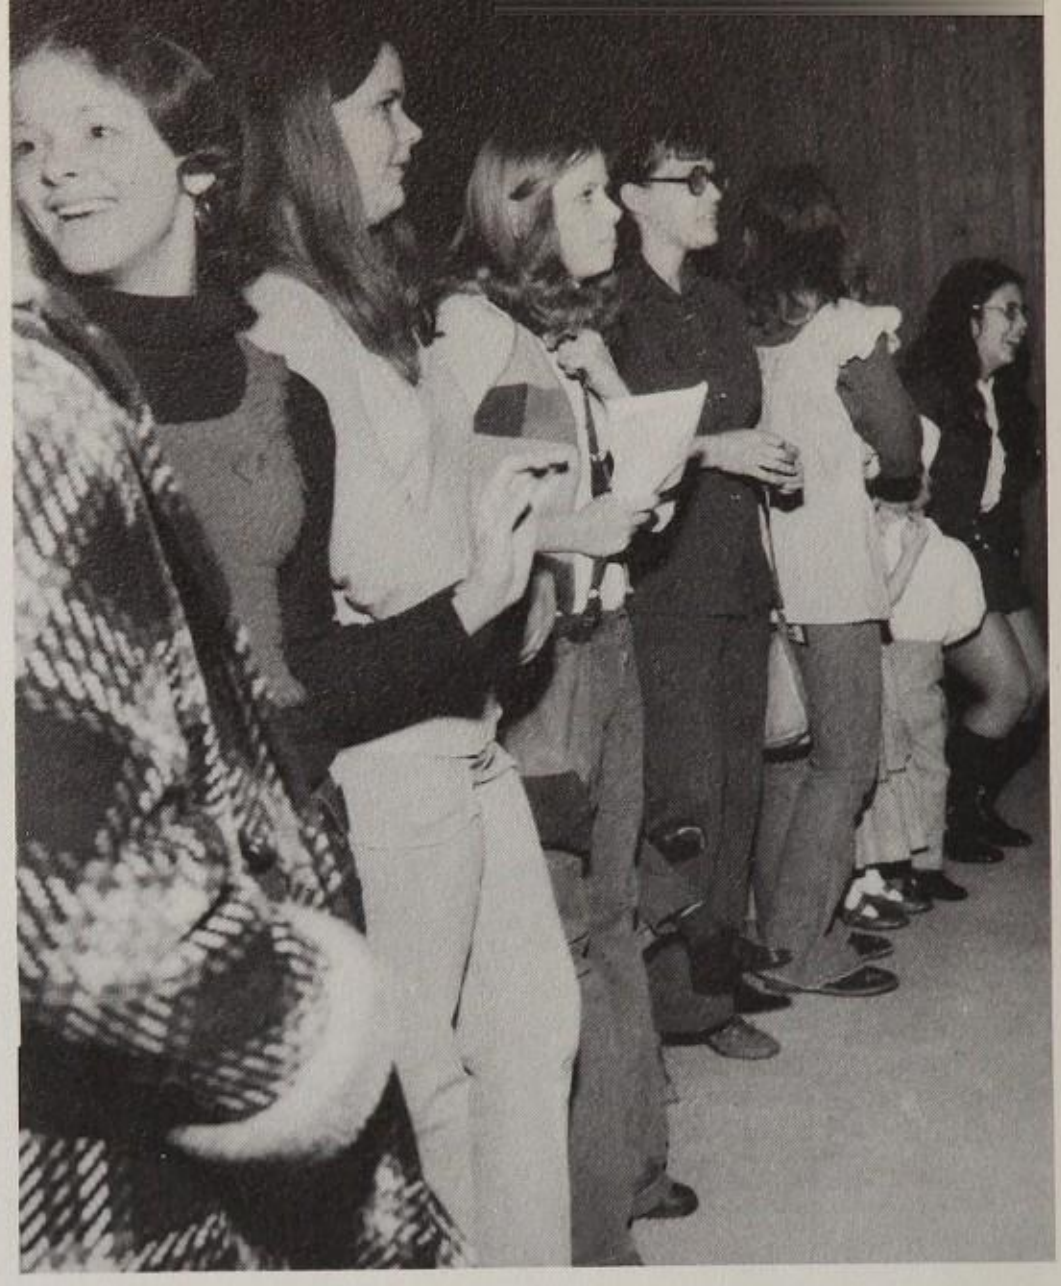
YULE SPIRITS ABOUND DURING ASSEMBLY

Continuing the Lincoln Park tradition of a Christmas Assembly, John Kazawa and Bill Travis took on the nerve racking task of writing and directing the assembly, with the help of Mr. Don Wood. There were many mornings when all participants could have had an extra hour of sleep, but concern for the assembly caused them to arrive at school early. All this was done so that the students of Lincoln Park High could begin the Christmas season in the spirit of joy and happiness.



Showing abvious grief over their not being able to see Santa Claus are Annette Sebestin and Pat Denisuk. On the right, Bill Travis acts as master of ceremonies.

SANTA VISITS SC CHRISTMAS DANCE

A delightful aspect of this year's Christmas Dance was the appearance of Santa and Mrs. Claus, alias Jim Frosinos and Martha Humphreys. Many enjoyed themselves as they sat on Santa's lap and had their picture taken.

The music that everyone enjoyed so much was performed by "Luigi and the Mercury's," led by the one and only Luigi Robinson, along with Al Robinson, Pete Turpak, Dave Zelanak and Ed Adder.

During intermission the exciting moment arrived when the announcement of winners for the hall decorations was made.

The tension mounted as the 12A's took the 3rd place trophy and the 11A's 2nd place. Pandemonium reigned as the 11B's received the award for 1st place. Accepting the award on behalf of the 11B's was Liesa Swekel.

'WIZARD OF OZ' CONSIDERED YEARS DRAMATIC HIGHLIGHT

On Thursday and Friday, Feb. 15 and 16 Lincoln Park High's Student Council presented the Wizard of Oz. On both afternoons, thousands of elementary students came to a special presentation put on just for them. They showed their gratitude by writing letters and drawing pictures that were sent to the director and the cast.

Credit goes to the Student Council, Mrs. Toni Francis, Director, and William Travis, Student Director. Some credit also goes to Mary Hendricks, Pam Motler, and Kim Ruthven on their fine makeup job and to Mary Early, Ann Delfons, Vicki Saylors, and Tina Elder on their great prop work.

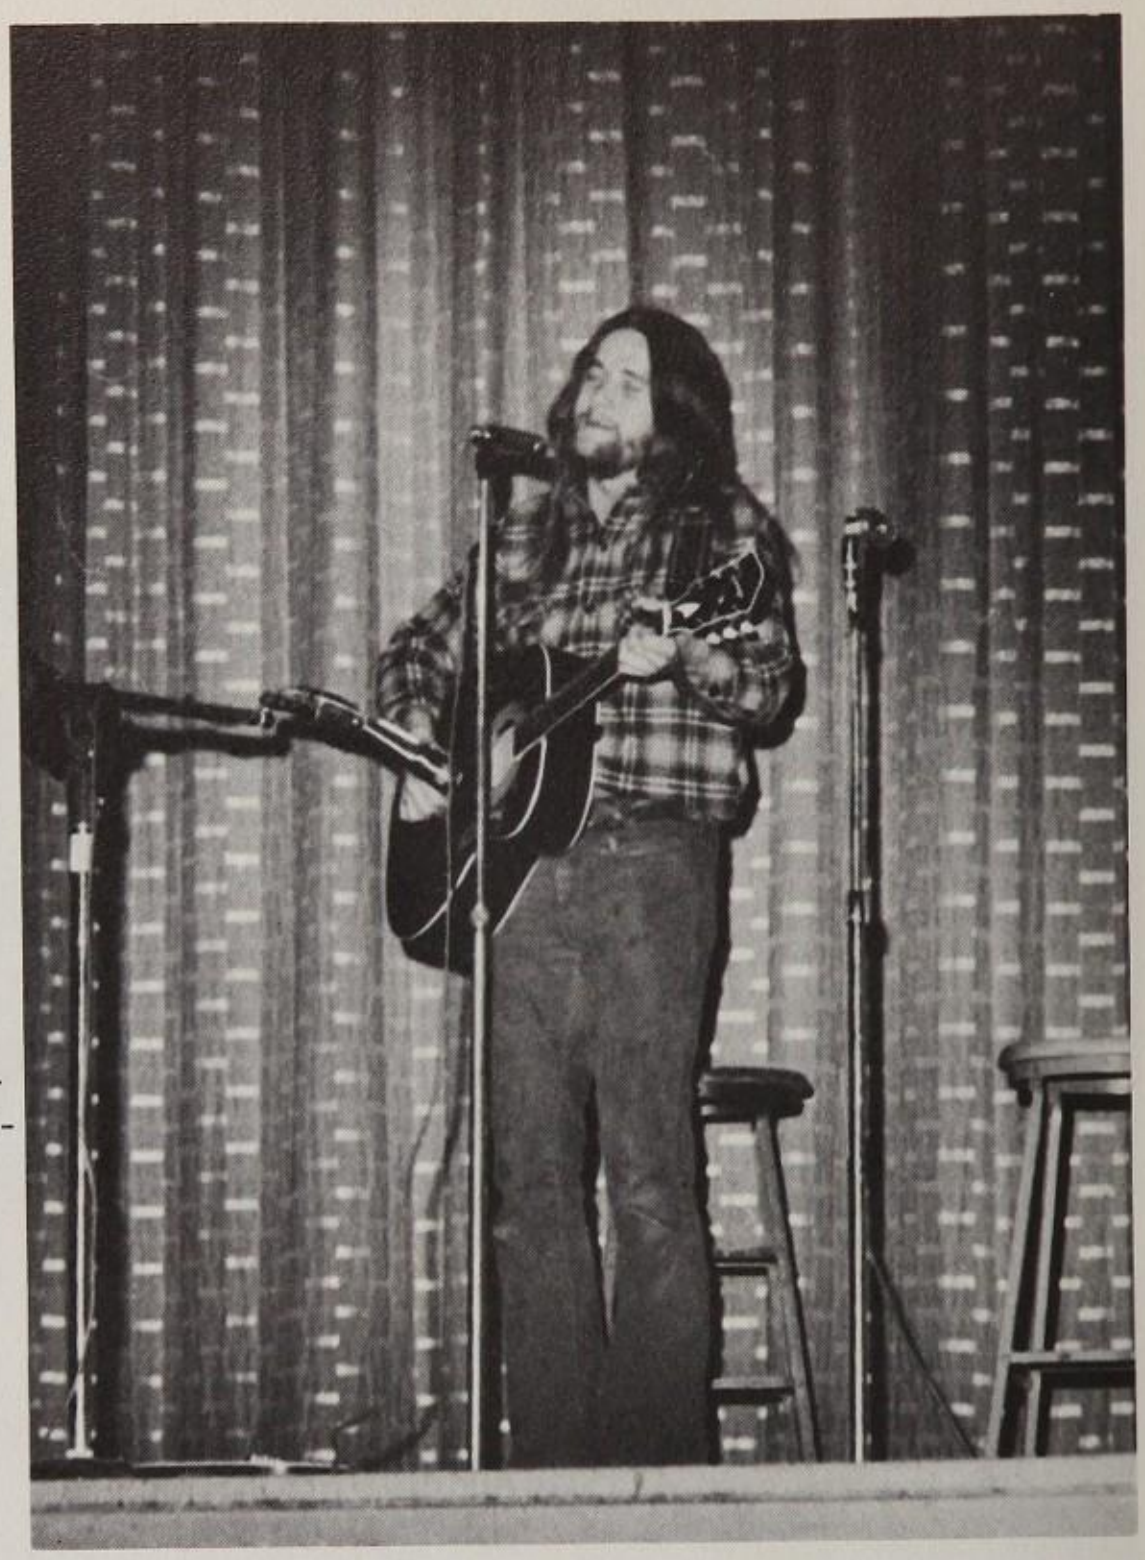
LOCAL TALENT FEATURED AT LP FOLK FESTIVAL

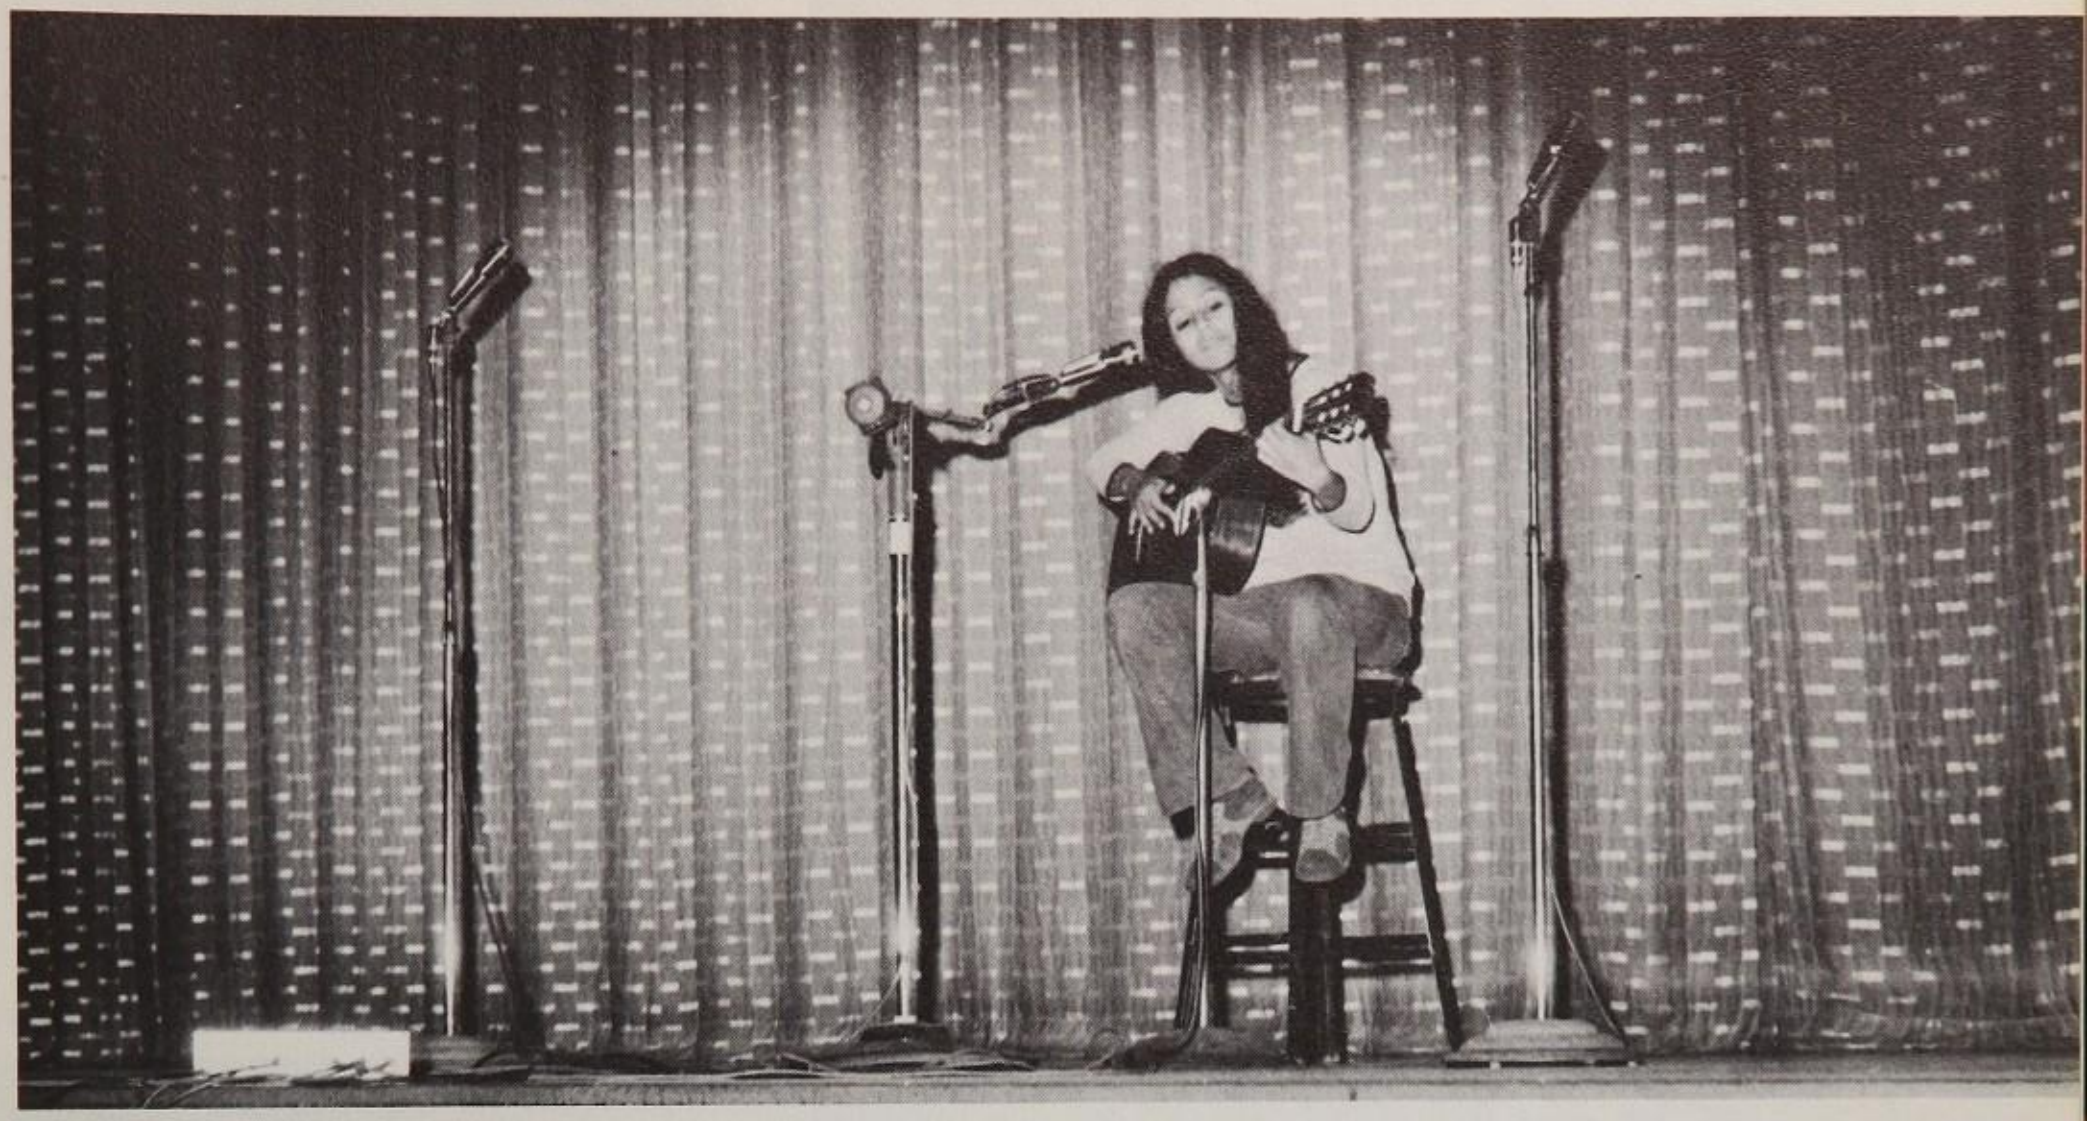
One of the events of "the days" was the Folk Festival. This annual performance took place on October 11, 1972 and it was a tremendous success. Some of the participants were Dan Mullins, Janeen Griffin, Jeff Prater; Jeff Nicks, and Gloria Garcia. Luigi and the Mercury's made their appearance & performed music of the 50's. For a little variety, the Street Actors Guild did their own "Am I or Aren't I Frankenstein?"

Some of the songs presented were "500 Miles", "Big Blue Frog" "Effigy," "Your Song," "Hello Goodbye," and "The Only Time I'M Happy is when I'm High."



Danny Mullins, making his third appearance, stimulated the crowd with his rendition of "The Only Time I'm Happy Is When I'm High."

For the third time around, Janeen Griffin helps make the Folk Festival a great success.



Displaying his talents, Jeff Prater excites the audience by playing his guitar and singing "Country Girl." Complememting each others talents are Colleen Wood and Cathy Ford, as they sing "Long Ago Far Away." A medly of Beatle songs was remarkably displayed by Gloria Garcia.

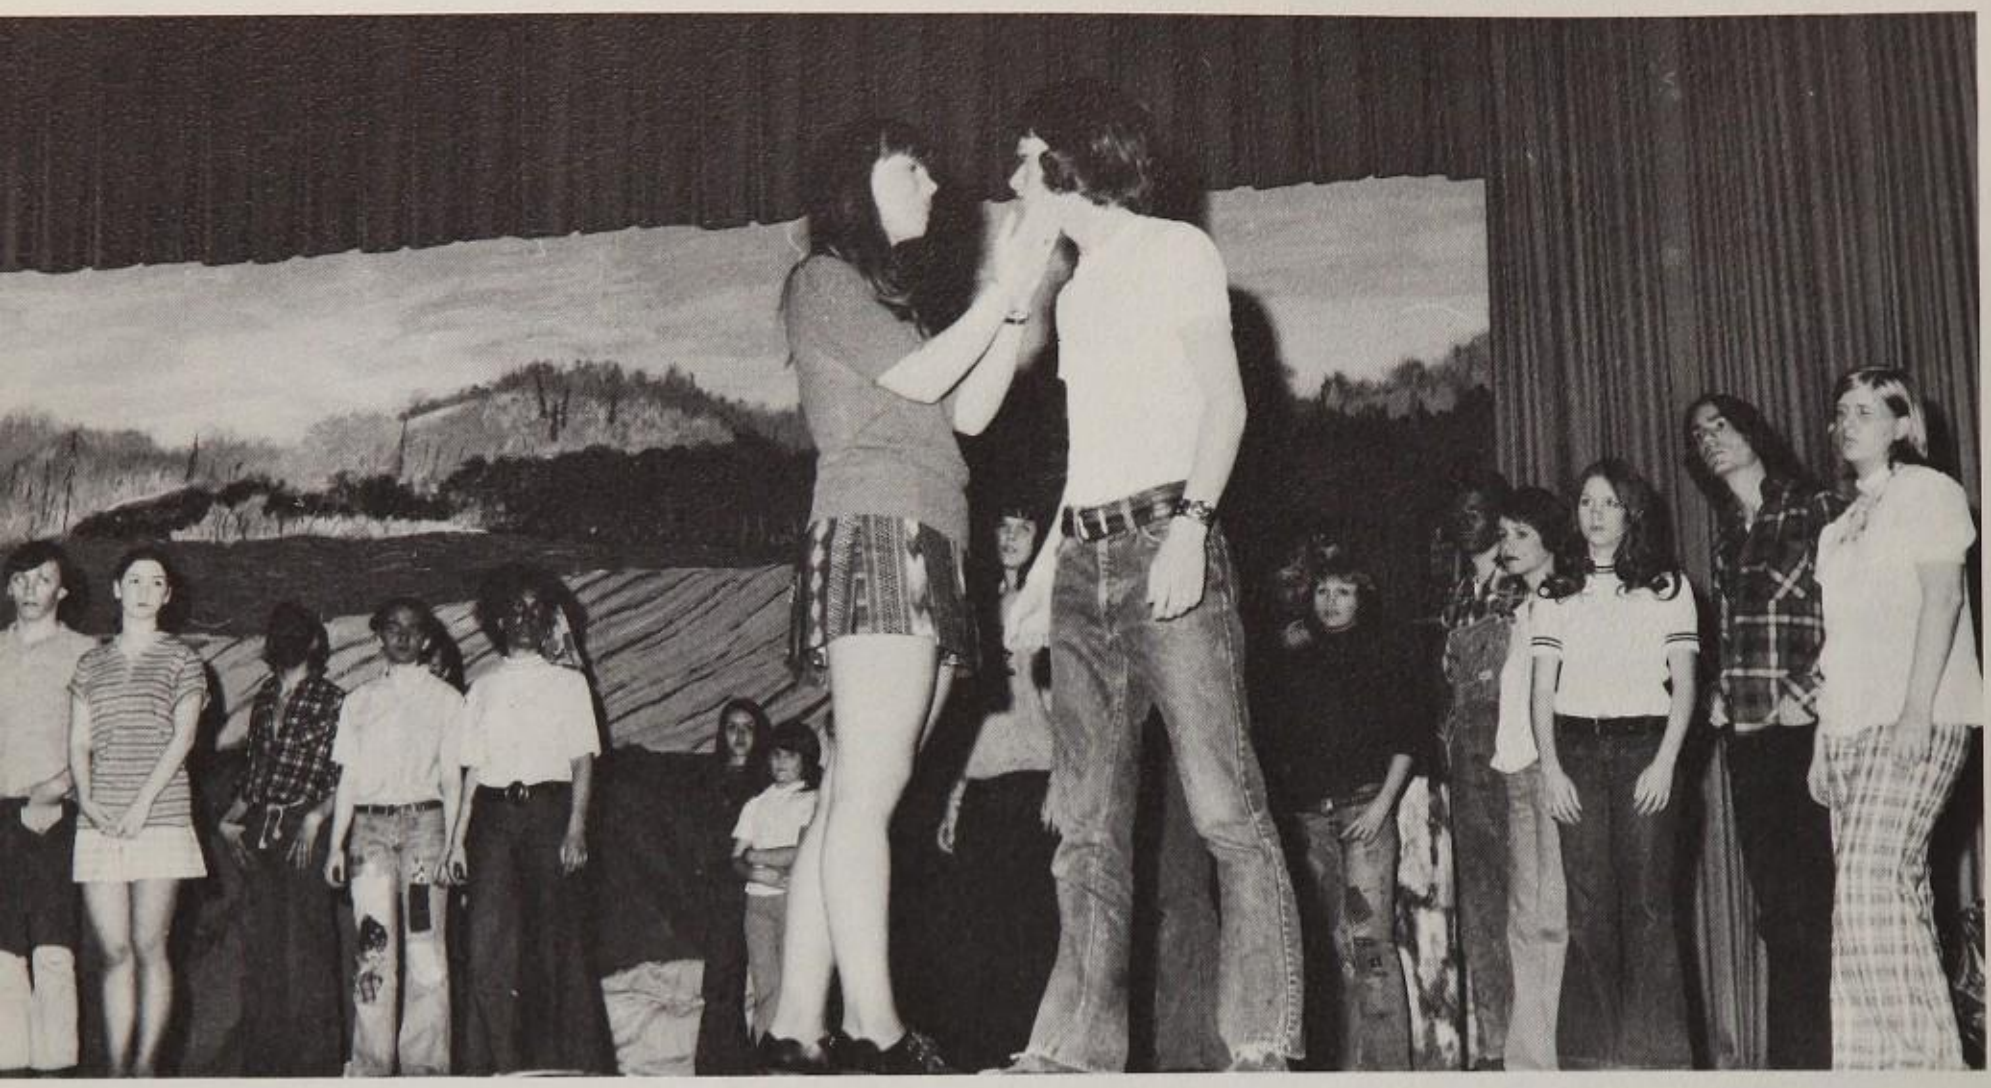
Debuting at this year's Folk Festival were Howard Staggs and Gordon Flaim doing their interpretation of "Effigy."

Luigi and the Mercury's, composed of Luigi Robinson, Matt Chinavere, Dave Zlnak, Pete

The Street Actors Guild added a bit of a treat by displaying their diversified talents.

Terpak, Al Robinson, and Ed Adder, jam out to Rock 'n' Roll of the 50's.

Jeff Nicks explicitly expressed his feelings in singing "Your Song", while Tom Stebbins and Sue Marks instumentally backed him up.



MUSIC DEPT. PRESENTS 'FINIANS RAINBOW'

On the night of April 5th and 6th, the Music Department presented the unforgettable musical, "Finian's Rainbow." The cast performed to overflow crowds on both evenings and the production was talked about for days.

The male lead role of Finian was played to perfection by Brad Forintos and the female lead role of Sharon McLonergan was beautifully portrayed by Linda Hughen.

The production of "Finian's Rainbow" could not have been such a success without the exceptional help of the supporting cast, the stage crew, and orchestra. The members of this production made these two evenings ones to long remember.

CLUBS BEGIN TO ACTIVATE

Though the academic aspect is obviously emphasized here at L.P.H.S. a student has many opportunities to become involved in extra activities also.

There's the National Honor Society, which includes those people with a B or better average. The Mock UN, sponsored by Mr. Hamed, is for people interested in learning how the UN is run and how nations deal with each other. If a student is interested in the different ways of life, in other countries, he can join the American Field Service. For those people interested in stage there's the Drama Club. The Girls' Athletic Association is an organization is an organization for girls interested in all sports. Then, there's the Student Council, which organizes many of the school activities.

So, Lincoln Park High students always have a chance to become involved in outside interests.

STUDENTS ASSEMBLE FOR NHS INDUCTION

On Thursday, November 30, 1972 25 members were inducted in the National Honor Society at the Candlelight Ceremony. The evening began with the playing of the National Anthem. After everyone was seated opening remarks began by a speech from President. Chris Filimon on Scholarship.Following Chris, each officer made a speech. Mr. Cuozzo administered the oath as Miss Johnson, Sponsor of the National Honor Society, introduced the new members.

OUTDOORS HIGHLIGHTS
RIDING CLUB ACTIVITIES

One of the many offerings at LPHS to interest outdoors people is the horseback riding club. Mr. Fred Hamed, a social studies teacher, sponsors the club. It has been in existance for the past several years and the student participation increases with each year. If a person loves the natural and simple things in life, then this club is just for them.

The club elected Gerri Degg, President; Karen Risko, Vice President; Kim Stafford, Secretary; Linda Goporak, Treasurer.

They meet every other Thursday to plan their activities. Their first field trip was to Green Acres, a ranch in South Lyon, Michigan.

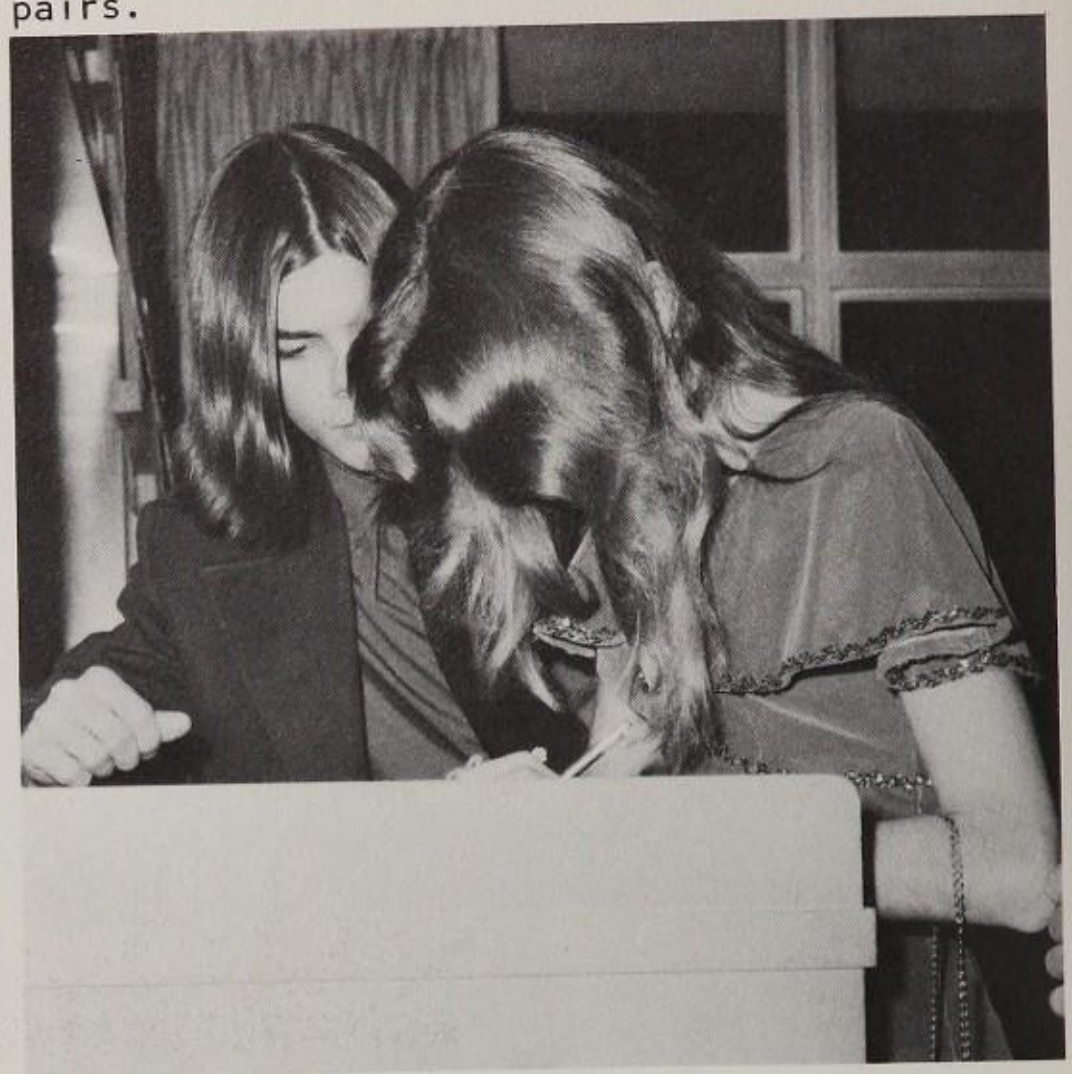
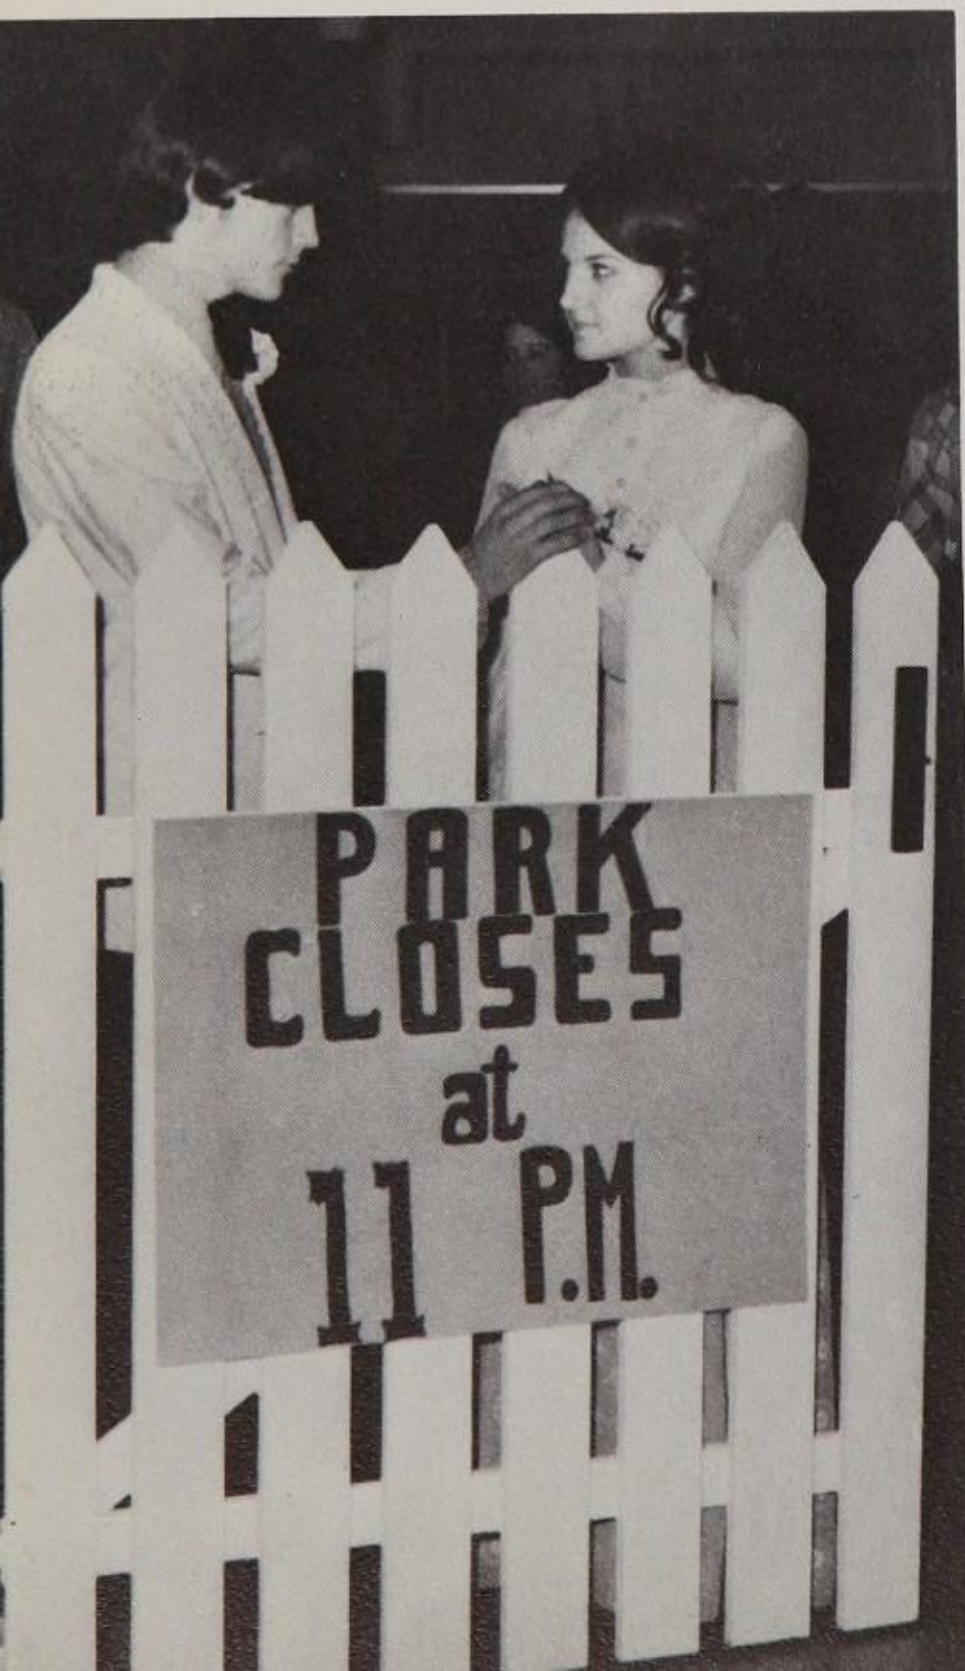
PARK SETTING DEVISED FOR FALL SPINSTER

First on the list of fund-raising events sponsored by the January Class of 1974 was the Fall Spinster. Featured as its theme song, "Saturday in the Park" provided an interesting basis for decorations for the dance. Birds, flowers, trees, and park benches, among other things, helped to create the illusion of a park. "T.C.Roads", the band performed a variety of popular songs that were enjoyable for both dancing and just listening. Punch and cookies were provided for those who became thirsty or hungry during the event.

(Below) A couple signs the guest book adding to the list of happy pairs.





Left: Janet Foster and Keith Stevens get in a few final words as they prepare to leave the "park" and go out to dinner.

The members of the "T.C. Roads" enjoy themselves as much as the guests do.

Yvonne Prunkard and Steve Strachan dance slowly as do other couples, while Carol Miller and her escort look on.

'SUMMER BREEZE' THEME OF SPRING SPINSTER

Although the weather was damp and chilly, it didn't dampen the spirits of all who attended the Spring Spinster, "Summer Breeze". Magnificent music, beautiful decorations and excitement were all elements on this magical night. Entering the mysti - cal land, the couples strolled across the wooden bridge, where they signed in beneath the weeping willow tree. Walking about the dance hall the couples gazed upon the scenery. A bird bath surrounded by love birds, a glider accented with flowers, and a flower box filled with flowers contained each couples name. Shamus, the best band ever, provided the music. Causing the dance floor to jump continually with excitement the entire night.

Dancing wasn't the only activity; for, several couples sat at tables decorated with fountains and baskets and talked about the great times they were having. A patio bench, glider , and willow tree provided ideal backgrounds for all the photographers.

Here are some of the happy couples that attended the 1972 Spring Spinster.

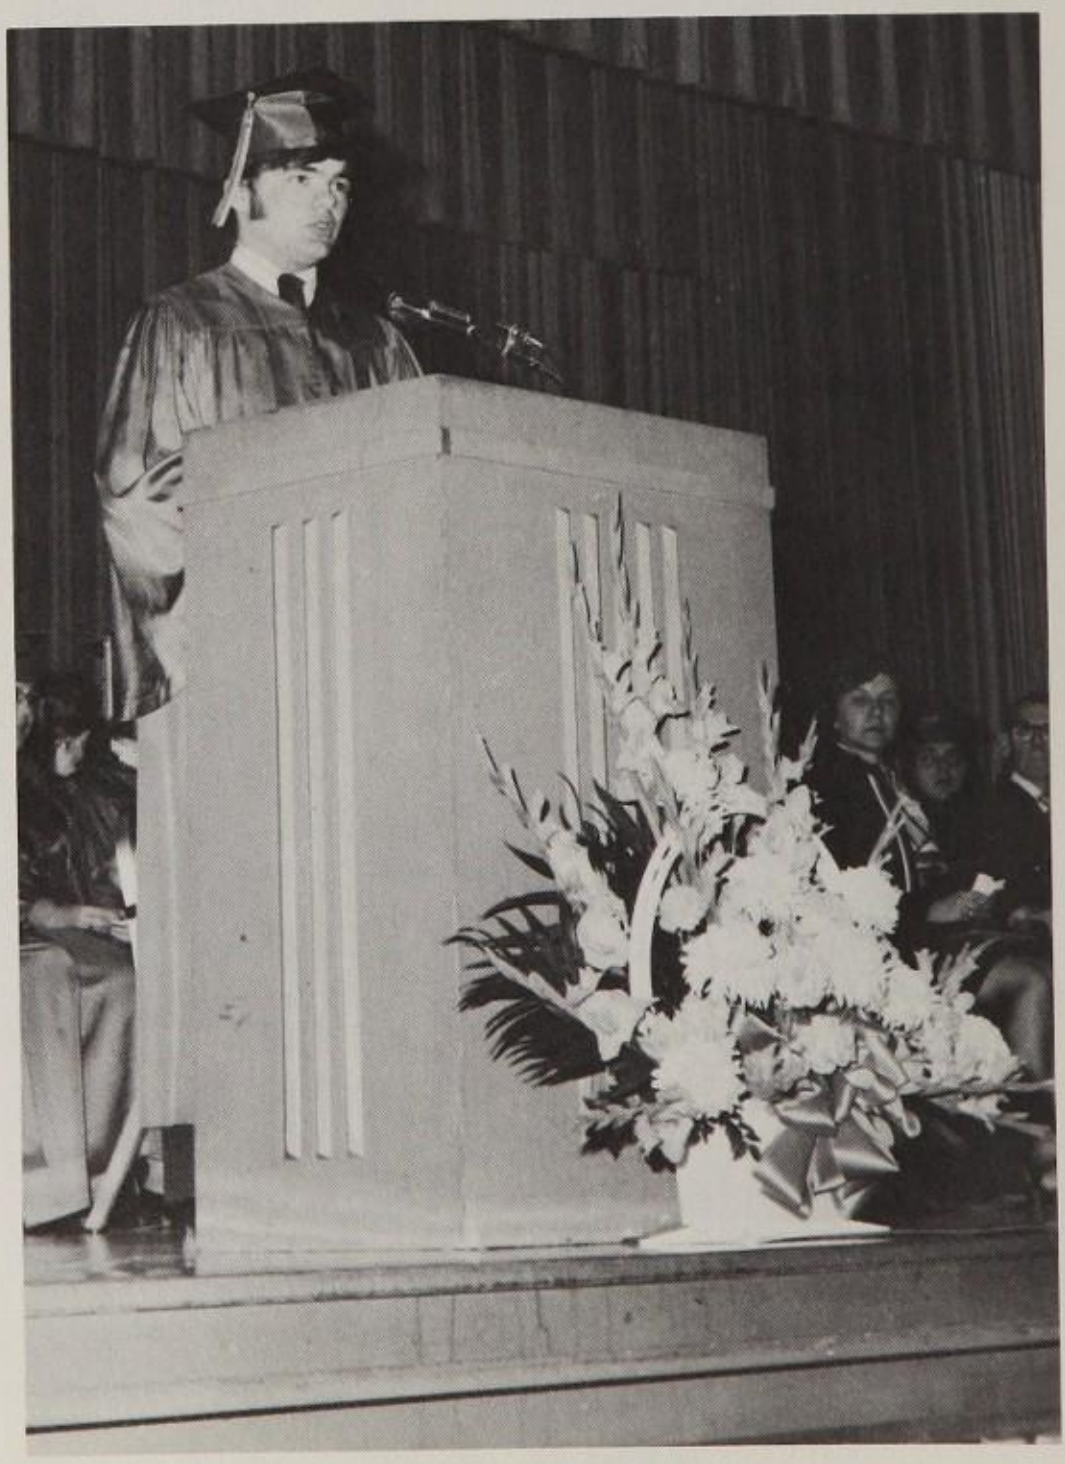
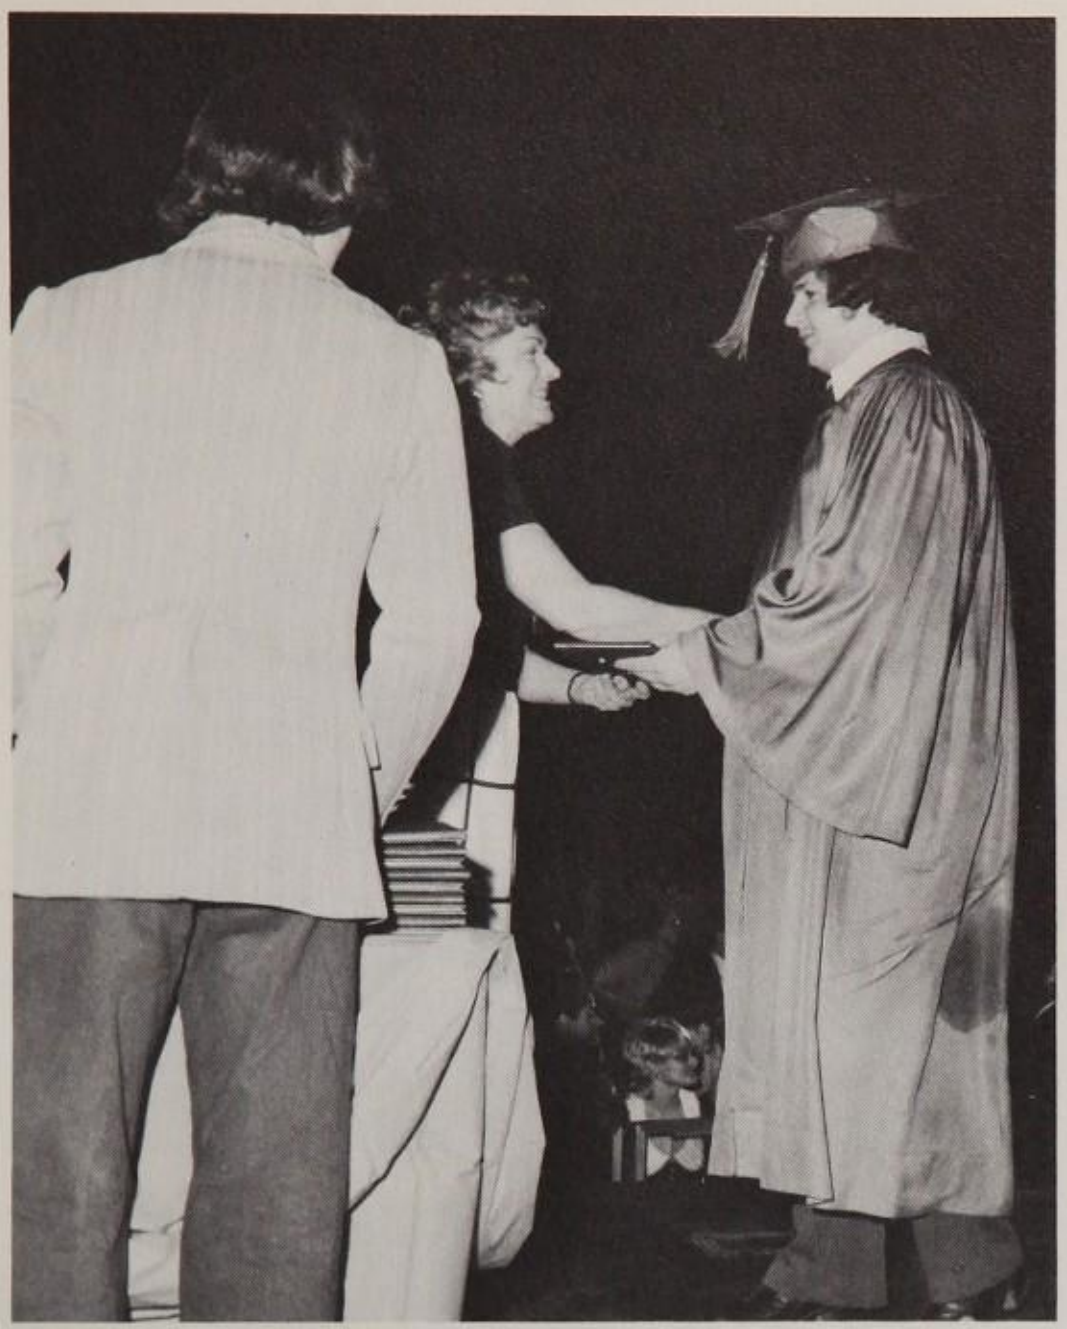
169 GRADUATES LEAVE DURING JANUARY CEREMONY

On the exciting night of January 24, 1973 at 8:00 p.m. commencement was held for the graduation seniors. After the valedictorian, Janice Tessier, gave her speech entitled "Our Next Step" the saluatorian , Carol Onderchannin, presented her speech "Our Rule in the Betterment of Society." Although the class had only 169 members, it deserved all the credit any other class receives. Board members attending were Robert L. Frazel, Richard L. Petsokey, Mrs. Bruce Queen, James L. Nelson, Charles L. Higgins, and Clifford E. LaMora. Dr. James H. Doyle assisted by Mrs. Robert Haas presented the dimplomas.





A happy graduate is shown at the left as he is given his diploma, below are the graduates and at the bottom we see the relieved graduates leaving the stage going into a big, wide world.

At right, a nervous graduate wipes his brow as they begin. At the bottom we see the graduates walking slowly but surely down the isle to success.

JANUARY GRADS HONORED AT SEMI-ANNUAL ASSEMBLY

The Semi-Annual Awards Assembly, which recognizes students for their outstanding achievements during the school year, was held in the auditorium on January 15, 1973.

Chris Filimon, President of the National Honor Society, presided as Master of Ceremonies, while Miss Johnson, sponsor of the group, introduced the newly inducted members.

Many special awards were presented. The Jaycees, represented by Thomas Raupp, gave the leadership award to Jim Frosinos and Yvonne Prunkard. Larry LeFebvre of V.F.W. Post 552 presented the citizenship award to Al Jesue and Betty Kowalski.

Chris Filimon, President of the National Honor Society, introduced the Awards presenters during the Semi-Annual Awards Assembly, while to the right, Mr. Cuozzo, Principal, presents certificates of reccgnition to Carol Onderchanin, Salutatorian for the January, 1973 graduating class and Janice Tessier, class Valedvictorian.

Mr. Cuozzo opened the Semi-Annual Awards Assembly by crediting the outstanding achievements of the students being honored. Below, Mr. Willard Tressel, representing the Lincoln Park Rotary Club spoke to the student body about the necessity of the service to the community.

WINTER PROM ENJOYED IN BEAUTIFUL SETTING

Once again, Lovett Hall was the setting for the January class' Senior Prom of 1973. Talking on a holiday flavor, the atmosphere of the hall was enhanced with wreaths and evergreen. Charms were presented to the girls as favors upon entering the prom as is the tradition. Music was provided by "Sunapple" and when feet became weary of dancing, couples enjoyed conversation, picture-taking, and the beautiful surroundings.

Performing in the elegant surrondings of Lovett Hall, "Sun Apple" provides music for the dancing couples while other pairs prefer to converse. Conversation, dancing, and enjoyment are intensified by the romantic atmosphere of Lovett Hall. Smiles, music, dancing, and picture taking will be fond memories of the Senior Prom for these couples.

Above, couples dance to the soft sounds and glide around the floor with glances of adoration in their eyes. Left, Bruce Nicholes, and Liz Pulsinelli pose in front of Lovett Hall's beautiful fireplace to have their picture taken by some friends. While on the extreme left, Kathy Kilgore, Bill Phillips, Robun Hill and Yvonne Prunkard put their mark on the floor to a livelier beat.

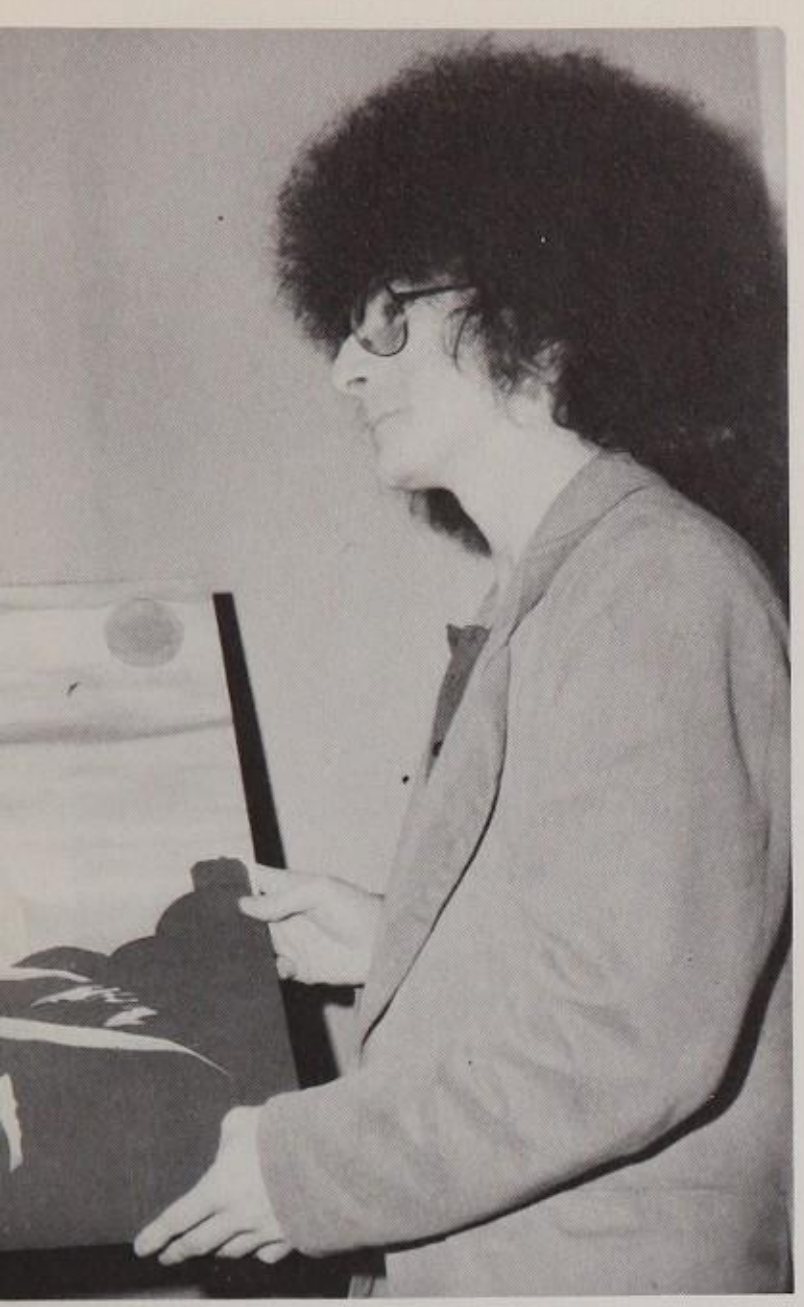
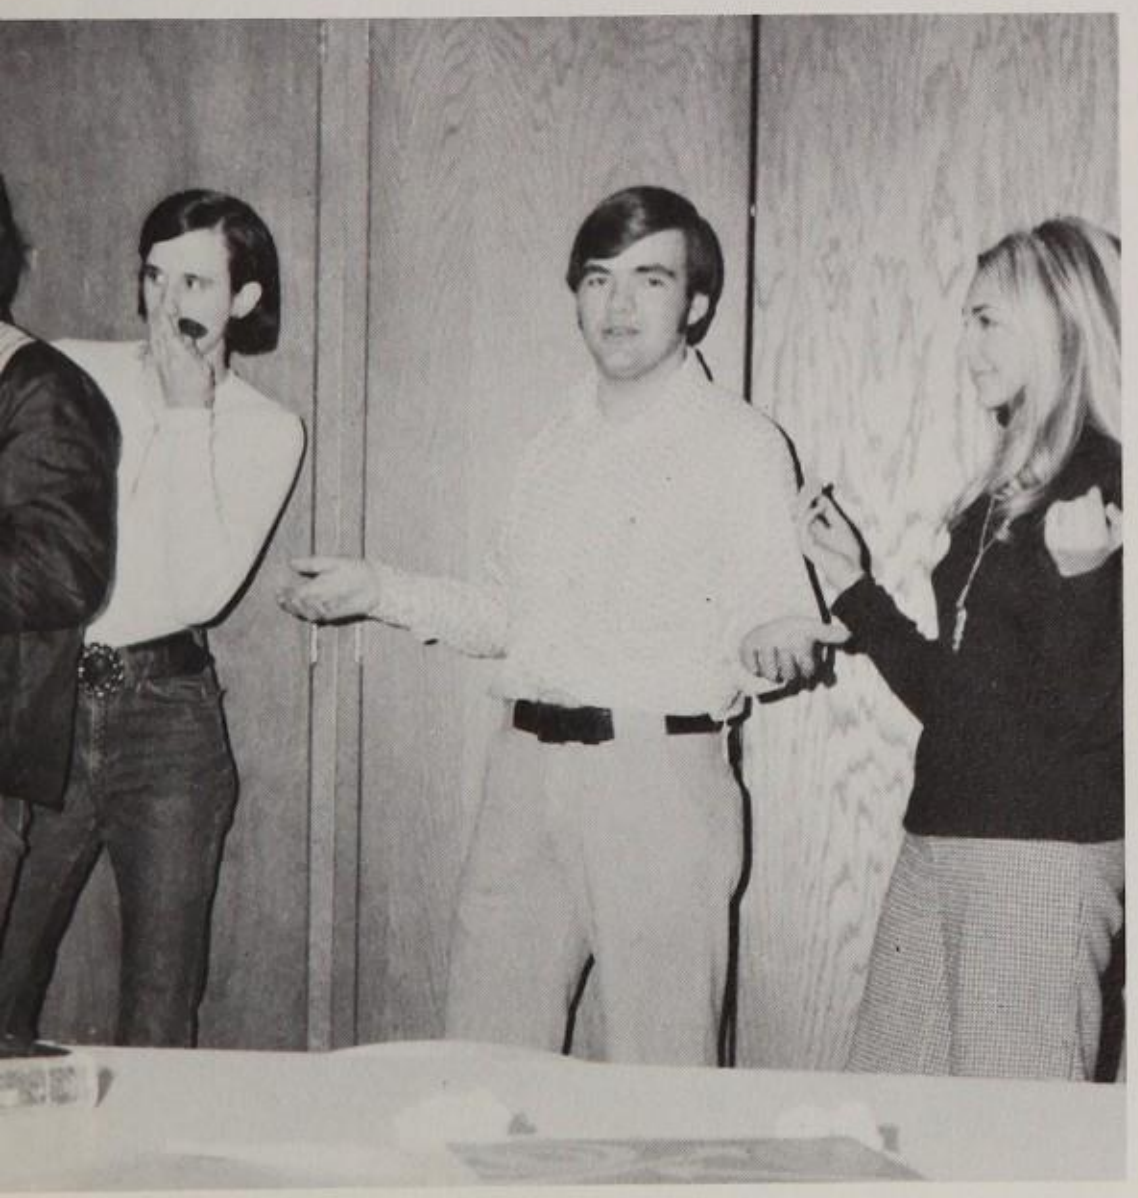
To the far right are Emmy Penrod and Jim Forsinos actively kidnapping Mr. Cuozzo, which is typical of these two as they were elected most likely to succeed.

Directly above, dressed in their usual attire are Nanette Cortella and Tom Favot voted best dressed in their class. To the right are Derwin Rushing and Yvonne Prunkard being gossiped about after they were elected most popular by their friends.

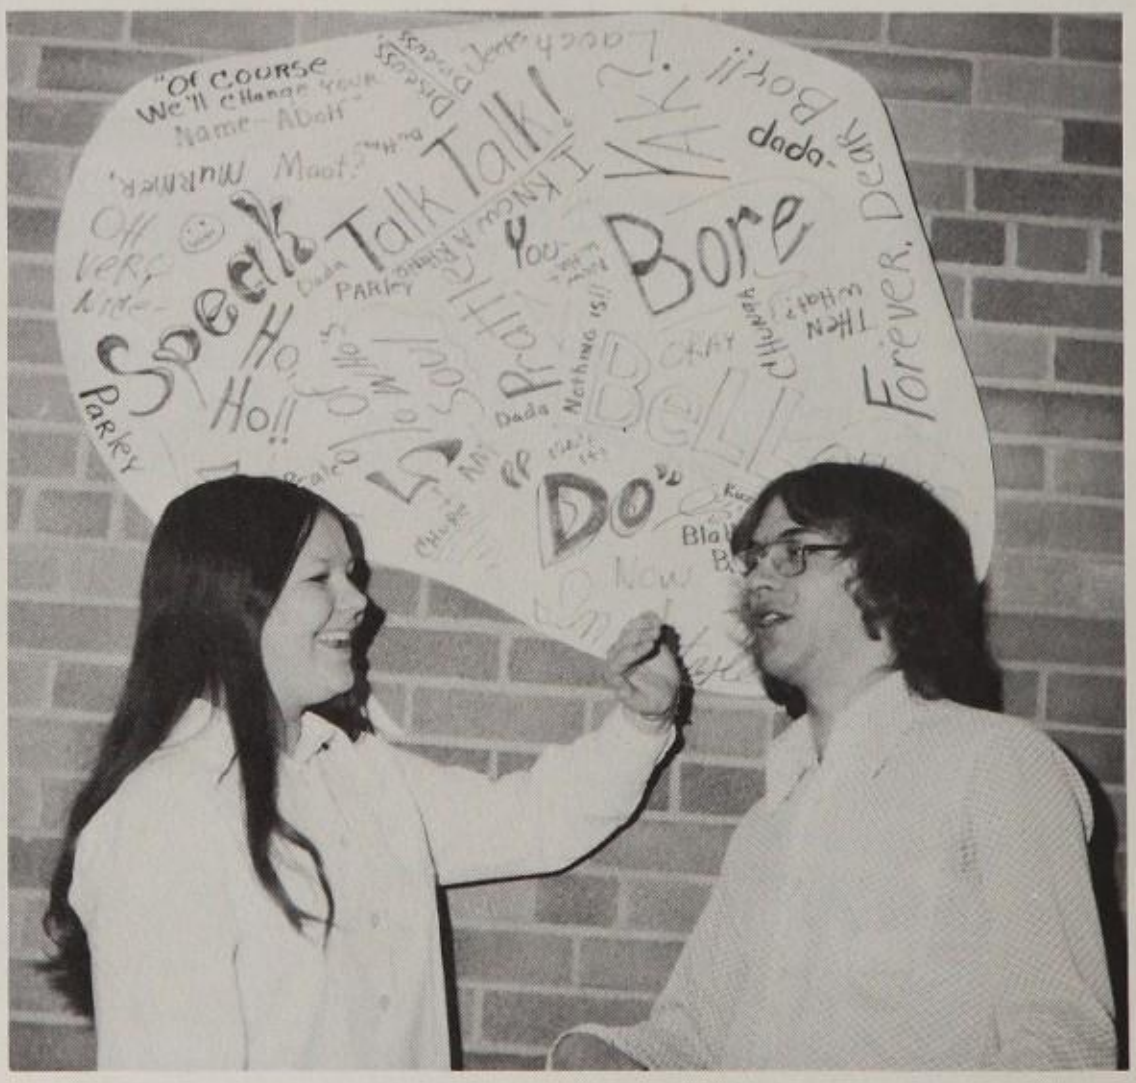




JANUARY CLASS NAMES MOCK ELECTION SLATE

Every graduating class at Lincoln Park High School elects people that are in their class who best represent mock election titles. After the nominations are tallied and the results posted, the final election is held. The winners represent titles such as best dressed, most popular, and most talkative. Their pictures are taken and shown here in their L.P.H.S. yearbook.

At the right, Kathy Donaldson and Dave Quenneville are fighting to the finish to see which of them really is the most athletic. Pictured below are the class clowns Betty Kowalski and Jim McCutchen provong their titles to be' true.



Shown above are most talkative Cathy Kilgore and Gerald McMurran as Cathy tries to quiet down Gerald when she gets a taste of her own medicine.

One of the feature highlights of being a senior at the Lincoln Park High School in the January Class of '73 is being present at the Senior Banquet. This special evening marks the ending of twelve years of accomplished schooling and success.

This most memorable occasion held at the Raleigh House, was an evening filled with dancing, dining, and plenty of excitement.

The class officers: Derwin Rushing, President; Cheryl Bowen, Vice President;Yvonne Prunkard, Secretary; and Emmy Penrod, Treasurer, all gave their personal comments on the planned program.

Gerard McMurran as master of ceremonies began the entertainment. The skits were presented by Mrs. Brackett,Betty Kowalski, Tony Beals, The Station House Band and many others.

After the scheduled events, the evening came to a close as many couples danced the night away.

DINING, ENTERTAINMENT FEATURED AT BANQUET

12B'S HOST JUNE GRADS AT ANNUAL MONEY PARTY

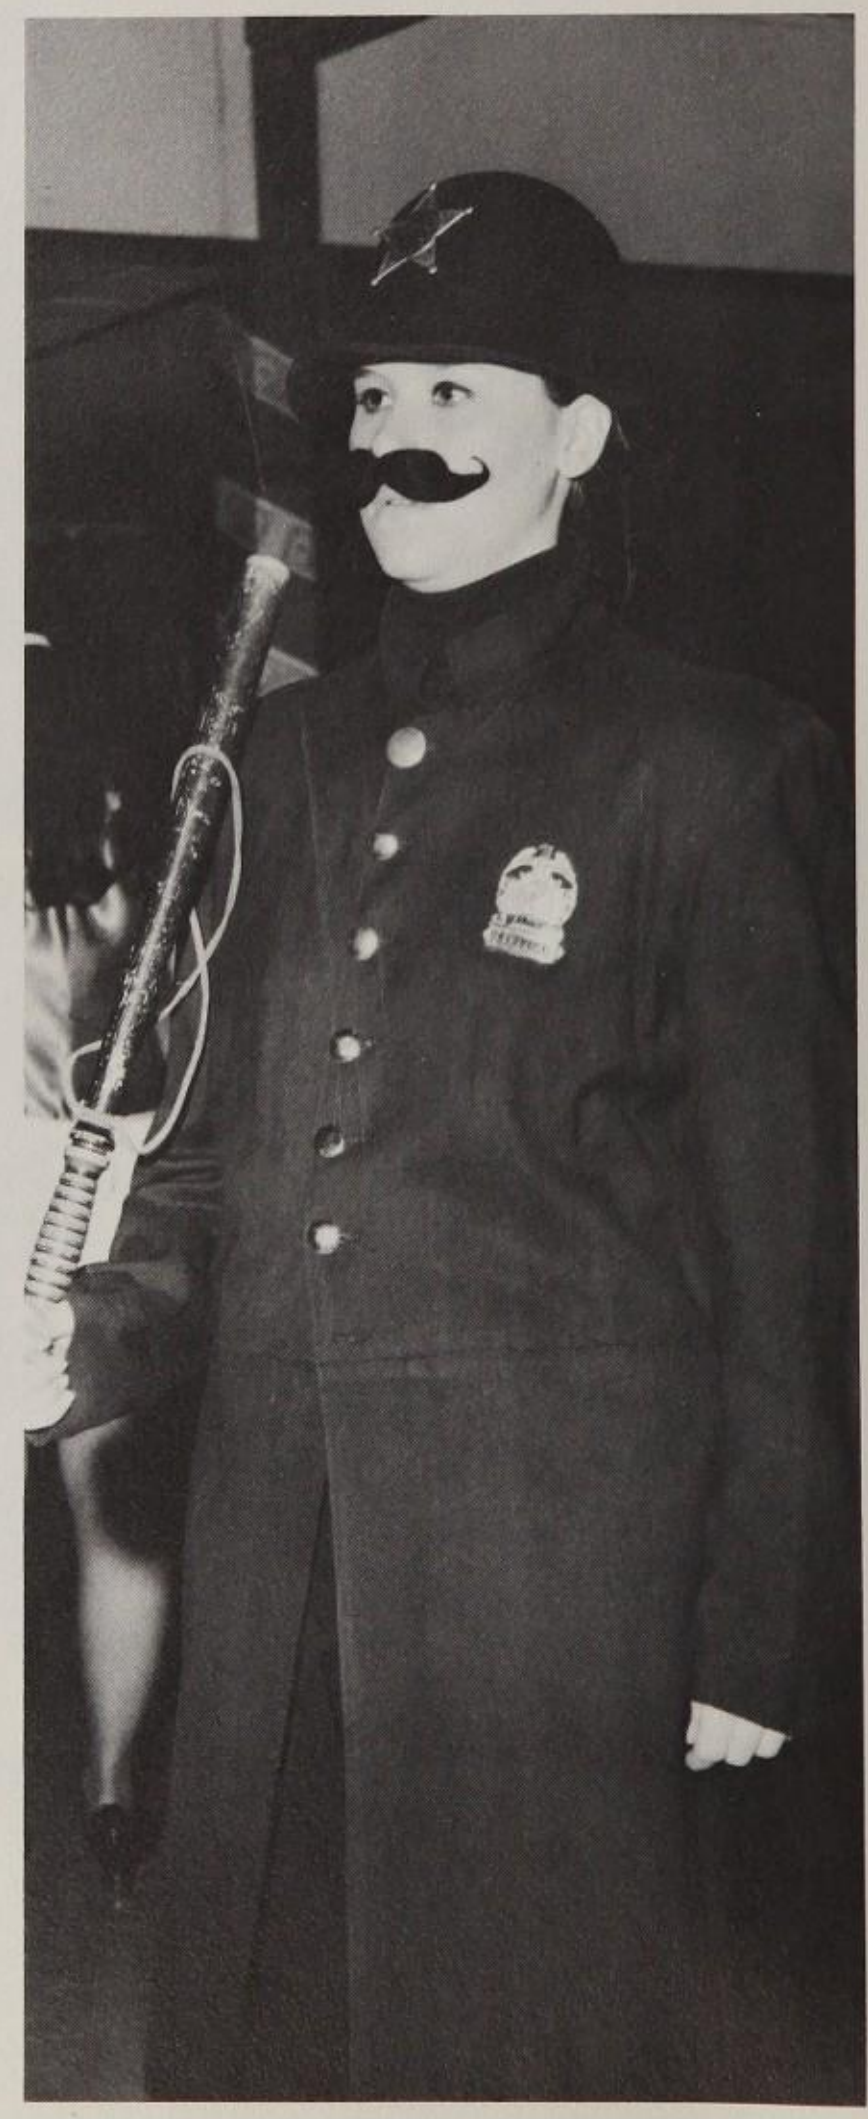
Las Vegas, Lincoln Park! That's what the seniors' Millionaire Party was like.

Keystone cops roamed around keeping an eye on the Godfather and his gang and even sneaking in a few bets here and there. Cigarette girls walked around giving a wink here and there.

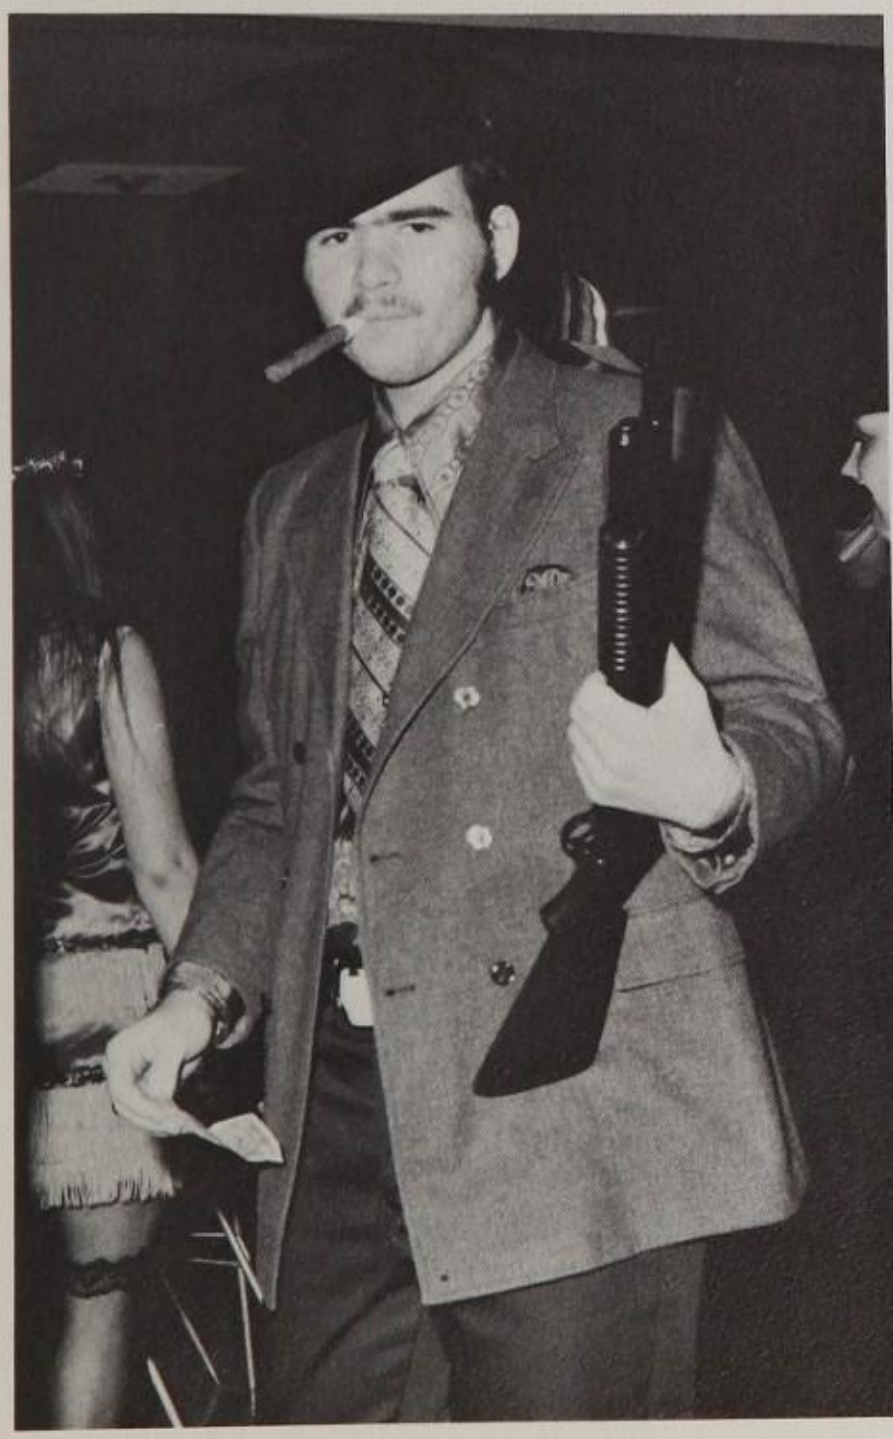
Black jack, craps, and roulette were some of the gambling games played. Violin cases in the hands of the Mafia men didn't seem to bother anyone,unless they happened to open it!

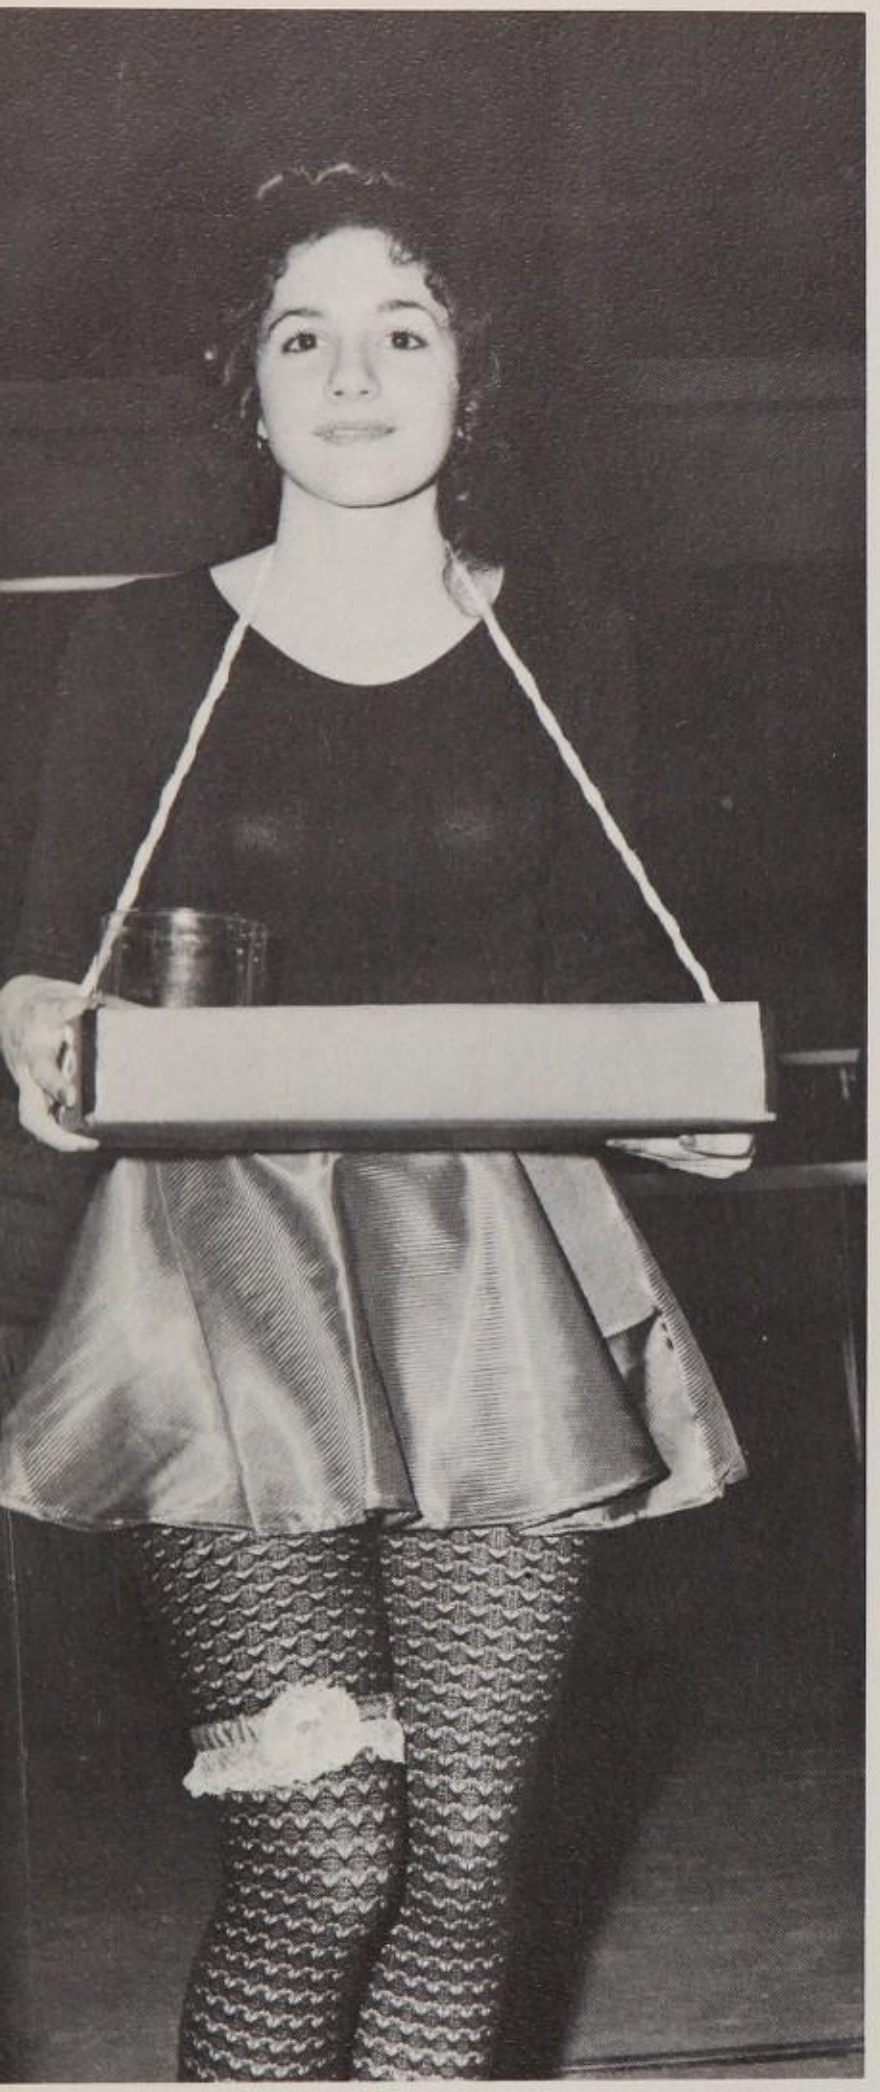
Messers. Mumau, Wick, Militello, Pascuzzi, Knight,Litchard, Grignon, and Noland took charge of the game tables and talked many of the students out of their money.

While a group of gangsters gather to discuss the party's success , this policeman seems fairly content that law and order is being maintained.



At the left and below, groups of gangsters gamble away their cash as if it would never run out. At the lower left this mean looking character poses for the camera with gun in hand.





All eyes are on the wheel as it spins, while Vickie Demellis sells her cigars, cigarettes and tip-arillos.

Nick Lygizos commentates at the party while Lil Ruthven desperately tries to hold Rich Long back from the gambling tables.

A few dudes seems to be enjoying themselves , while to the left Mr. Knight explains exactly how to play the game. It was surprising the bank didn't go bankrupt after seeing all the loot everyone was carrying. To the right, Mr. Pascuzzi doesn't seem to being too bad himself.

HALLOWEEN BRINGS OUT EERIE SIDE OF SENIORS

The 12th grade Halloween Dance was held on October 31, 1972 at the High School Cafeteria. The success of the dance was from the result of all the original costumes the 12th graders had.To the left is one of the faces that was in the crowd at the dance. Below is Dracula and his bride alias Nanette Coretella and Bill Caruso.

To the left is Derwin Rushing 12A President and Dave Cemate 12B President during the apple dunking contest. Brad Forintos is watching to make sure everything is fair.

Count Dracula sweeps into the room while the evil sorcerer and his counterpart search for their next victim. Below, impatient students wait to enter the fun-filled evening in the cafeteria.

MASONIC TEMPLE SETTING FOR MEMORABLE EVENING

On the evening of April 14th, the June class of 1973 held one of the more exciting events of their school days. The seniors had completed thirteen years of schooling before the prom finally occured. Couples arrived excited with anticipation as to what the evening would provide.

As the lovely couples entered the Masonic Temple Ballroom, each girl received a prom keepsake. As the charming couples stepped onto the dance floor the Greg Purcrott Five provided the music for an evening of enchantment.

The dance was culminated with a Grand March lead by the Senior class officers: Dave Cemate, President, Debbie Smith, Vice-President, Martha Humphreys, Secretary, And Phyllis Lande, Treasurer. The couples then left for their favorite nightclubs to top off the already glorious evening.

LET'S TAKE A GOOD LOOK AT EACH OTHER...

We know a young man just out of school has more on his mind than just a job these days. He's concerned about his world. He's looking at the future. And he's looking for a way to do something about it.

We're looking at the future too. In fact we're dedicated to it. And we're looking for people who feel the same way.

You see, there's more to the Air Force than good pay, guaranteed jobs and valuable skills. There's also the satisfaction of doing something worthwhile and important.

But that's something you'll have to decide for yourself. It's easy to get the facts and there's no obligation. Contact your nearest Air Force Recruiter at
